HOMEWORK SOLVES A CRIME

25 Are Believed Dead In Ohio Air Collision

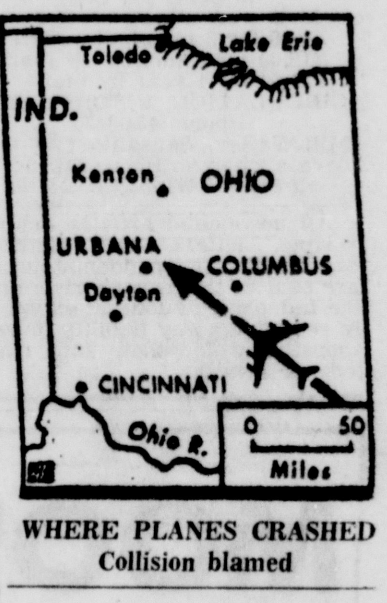
Jet Pilot Warned About Small Plane

URBANA, Ohio (UPI)—A Trans World Airlines jetliner with 25 persons aboard and a small private plane apparently collided in flight today, sending both planes crashing to earth. There were no survivors.

"We are going on the assumption it was a mid-air collision," said Joseph Blosser, a communications officer for the Ohio Highway Patrol in Columbus.

The Air Control Center at nearby Dayton—the next stop for the jetliner—reported both planes were on a collision course when the blips disappeared from its radar scope, an official said. He said the Dayton center informed the TWA plane of the collision course.

The wreckage of a twin-engine Beechcraft, believed to be from Michigan, was found about two miles from the debris of the airliner. It was not known immediately how many persons were aboard the small-er craft.



WHERE PLANES CRASHED
Collision blamed

The TWA plane had made intermediate stops at Harrisburg and Pittsburgh, and was on an approach pattern for the Dayton Airport when it went down.

The crash scene was about 50 miles south of Kenton, Ohio, where a Lake Central Airlines Convair crashed Sunday night with a loss of 38 lives. In that crash, area residents reported one or more explosions before the plane slammed into a farm field.

EXPLODED IN FLIGHT

In today's crashes, William Schetter, an Urbana fireman, said an area resident told the fire department the TWA plane eploded in flight before it struck the ground.

It came down in a wooded area near two rural roads.

(In Washington, Rep. Donald E. Lukens, R-Ohio, called for an immediate federal investigation to determine if there was any connection, sabotage or otherwise, between the TWA and Lake Central crashes.

CREW OF FOUR

The TWA plane with 21 passengers and a crew of four, was flight 553 which left LaGuardia Airport in New York at 8:50 a.m. It was scheduled to arrive at Dayton at 12:03 p.m.

A Washington spokesman for Trans World Airlines identified the four crew members as Captain Karl Kohlsaat, First Officer Donald Binder, and two stewardesses, Lynda Wilds, and C. Andrews.

U.S. CASUALTIES HEAVIEST IN WAR

1,617 Americans Reported Killed, Wounded Or Lost Last Week

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. troops suffered their heaviest casualties of the war last week—1,617 killed, wounded or missing.

As the report was issued a Communist suicide squad using mines and satchel dynamite charges inflicted heavy casualties today on a U.S. Army platoon.

A U.S. military spokesman said the week of battling in the biggest ground operation of the war killed 232 Americans, wounded 1,381 and left 4 missing. Communist losses during the same week were 1,736 dead, a drop of 713 from the Reds record loss of 2,449 the week before.

The previous high number of American casualties was the week ending Jan. 14 when there were 1,194 killed, wounded or missing. That resulted from operation Cedar Falls, the first American division-sized offensive of the war.

The current high American losses reflected allied drives into some of the toughest Communist strongholds in South Vietnam —savage fighting by Marines just south of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and Operation Junction City near the Cambodian border, the biggest push of the year.

The brightest part of the picture was the spokesman's report that Communist troop strength in South Vietnam dropped by about 2,000 during the week to 282,000 while American strength increased by 3,000 to a new all time high of 418,000 men.

The Communists also lost on another front —1,168 defected

Podgorny Claims Mao Is Undermining Peace

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny charged today that Hanoi and Peking are split over the issues of war and peace in Vietnam.

In an attempt to split North Vietnam off from Chinese influence, Podgorny accused Mao Tse-tung of opposing Hanoi's bid for peace talks in exchange for an unconditional end to U.S. bombing of the north.

"The Mao group is against the proposal," he said. "Its intentions in connection with the war in Vietnam does not accord with the views of the government of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam."

Podgorny linked left-wing Chinese and right-wing Americans together and accused them of considering a world nuclear war to achieve their different ends.

But he warned that the Communist bloc will "retaliate" against any U.S. attempt to escalate the Vietnamese war.

"We will do our best to keep our military power at a level sufficient to crush any aggressor," Podgorny said in a speech here.

"The American ruling circles must be aware of the fact that their new steps to escalate the war in Vietnam will be faced by new retaliation by the Vietnamese people and the Socialist countries," he said.

In an apparent reference to the bombing and shelling of North Vietnam, Podgorny said, "The recent developments have again exposed the hypocrisy and falsity of American declarations about their striving for peace."

TAX RELIEF?

Auditor Says Reagan Plan To Hike Bills

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Measures in Sacramento to reduce the property tax impact will increase other state taxes so much that the net result will be a hefty increase in the tax bill, according to Marin County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell.

The auditor-controller today produced an analysis of bills introduced by Assemblyman John G. Veneman, R.-Stanislaus County, and legislation asked by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The Vietnam bill would provide property tax relief for low-income persons 65 years or older, but cost of this is only $25 million, while the additional taxes on sales, income and corporate taxes proposed in its place would be $1,165,000,000 declared Mitchell.

He said the Veneman measures would reduce property taxes by school districts by 10 per cent. The Reagan proposal calls for a 6.5 per cent reduction.

Taking some average Marin families, Mitchell said in a letter to county supervisors that a man earning $6,600 a year with a $20,000 home pay $44 more in taxes.

A man earning $10,000 with a $25,000 home would pay $179 more; one earning $15,000 with a $30,000 home would put up $365 more in taxes, and one earning $20,000 with a $40,000 home would be paying $657 more each year.

Mitchell said the bills are "political myths," and the only good thing in the Veneman bill is the reduction in property tax for the aged. This is not included in Reagan's proposal.

Ranchers Sign Preserve Pacts

Fourteen per cent of Marin County was placed in agricultural preserve by ranchers signing 10-year farm use contracts prior to the tax lien date Monday.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney reported that 77 ranchers owning 44,168 acres had signed contracts. Last year, when the agricultural preserve act was first in effect, there were 6,630 acres put under contract.

The total thus comes to 50,798 acres under contract which is slightly more than 14 per cent of the total area of the county, he said.

Urban Pressures For Parks Cited

CRESCENT CITY (UPI) — Guidelines on the controversial redwood national park in northern California were laid down today by the state's new resources administrator at the 29th annual Redwood Region Logging Conference.

Administrator Norman B. Livermore Jr. of San Rafael listed 10 guidelines which will be used in determining state policy for creation of the park.

Livermore also called on loggers to hire more Negroes in their woods operations and to make more efforts at preserving scenic beauty in the forests.

"There are hundreds of determined voters to every one of you and they will force the issue if you don't face it yourself first," Livermore told loggers.

"You simply must learn that the demands of our metropolitan neighbors are going to force us to look beyond our own timber world and to consider beauty as well as business."

Livermore had a slap on the wrist for conservationists in the park issue. He described much of their language as "inaccurate and unfair."

Emanuel Fritz, 80, professor of forestry emeritus at University of California, had harsher words.

Fritz, know as the father of redwood forestry, said the park issue "is marked by wilder statements, more slanted propaganda, more misrepresentation, more sarcasm and more literary dishonesty than any other park controversy. The American conservationist movement is falling into the hands of opportunists who make its publicity a career."

Livermore's guidelines included:

The area selected for the park must be acceptable to a substantial proportion of conservationists, both in California and throughout the nation.

The Save-the-Redwoods League should play a key role in any decision.

In counties involved, there should be no reduction in logging payrolls resulting from land acquisition.

The federal government should furnish timber land instead of cash in payment for private timber land taken for a park.

Livermore announced a meeting will be scheduled soon in Sacramento for leaders in the park issue to complete state recommendations to the federal government for park development.

Water District Land Sale Fails; Andersen Optimistic

The Marin Municipal Water District's old one-acre corporation yard at Second Street and Grand Avenue in San Rafael drew no bid yesterday when put up for public sale.

The property is not far from the city-owned eight acres which the City of San Rafael is hoping to sell to finance purchase of the courthouse square. City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen, however, today saw no threat in yesterday's poor showing to the city's hope of raising "at least $100,000 an acre" for its property.

Andersen noted that San Rafael's acreage is bordered on one side by the canal and on the other by Francisco Boulevard, extending roughly northwest from Harbor Street. "It's an entirely different type of property," he said.

Andersen said the city has received about three calls from interested buyers waiting to bid. The city manager said he expected the council to call for bids at its next meeting, March 20, or on April 3.

Meanwhile, the water district board adopted Gen. Mgr. William Seeger's recommendation to place its old yard on multiple listing with the Marin County Real Sstate Board. Its new yard is adjacent to its office in Corte Madera.

Several real estate men were present for the sale yesterday but made no offer. No written bid was received.

Unemployment Up

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's unemployment rate rose slightly to 6 per cent in February, the State Department of Employment announced today.

Senate Approves Language Policy

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California schools should be permitted to teach Mexican-American or other minority group children in their native language, the Senate has agreed unanimously.

Sen. Alan Short, D-Stockton, sponsors of the bill which passed yesterday, said the idea is that pupils would be taught in Spanish, for example, so they could master other subjects while catching up on English.

Saigon Living Expense Cuts Bring Outcries

SAIGON (AP) — American servicemen here reacted with groans, sighs and occasional screams today to the news that they're losing $21-million a year in living allowances. The guys out in the doondocks couldn't care less — they weren't getting it.

WIDE COMMENT

Short-timers whose tours in Vietnam are nearly over took it casually. Others said the Pentagon was fouled up, blind, crazy or an unprintable combination of these and other things.

The Pentagon announced yesterday that on May 1 it is ending the cost of living allowances paid to some 31,200 servicemen in the Saigon area. The allowances — ranging from $27 a month for privates to $84 for generals — were intended to help men who had to live partially on the badly inflated civilian economy.

VARIOUS STORIES

Many men drawing the allowance were actually living in military quarters and eating at military messes. But others told a different story.

"Look around this town," said one Army sergeant who didn't want his name used. "There are hundreds of guys who miss meals and have to grab taxis and pay for all kinds of things they wouldn't have to if they were working on some regular base. It'll cost me about $2 a day and I will really miss it."

Air Force Maj. Lewis Raines, with a wife and four kids in Colorado Springs, Colo., is one of those who will be hurt.

He rents a civilian house and works in a downtown Saigon building. His allowance has been $73 a month.

"It's a dirty shame," said Marine Lt. Col. James Williams of La Jolla, Calif., who also

Workers Return To G.M. Plant

MANSFIELD, Ohio (UPI)—United Auto Workers who vowed to remain off the job at the vital General Motors plant here made an about face and returned to work today.

A company spokesman said more than 900 of the 1,200-man shift had reported for work by 7:15 a.m.

Seventeen hundred members of Local 549 voted yesterday night to continue the wildcat walkout only an hour after they were ordered back to work by UAW President Walter Reuther.

Fire Probe Sketch Gets Quick Results

Two sketches that appeared in the Independent-Journal of a youth who reported the fire of a $100,000 Los Ranchitos area home, then disappeared, brought quick results yesterday.

David Lee, 19, of 435 Pinewood Drive, Marinwood, told sheriff's officers that he received about 15 telephone calls from friends soon after the paper was delivered, advising him of his likeness to the sketches.

Lee, a student at College of Marin, readily admitted that it was he who stopped at a home on Glenside Way near where the home was ablaze, told the occupant of the fire, then drove away.

Inspector A. V. Menjou of the sheriff's office, whose request led to publication of the sketches, said Lee cleared himself of any involvement in the fire, cause of which was still being investigated. Lee was just trying to be helpful, said the inspector.

The sketches, by Edward Mauberret of the sheriff's office, were drawn from descriptions furnished by persons who saw the youth stop, then drive away.

Menjou said Lee told him that he and Gayle Peterson, 20, of 27 Ranch Road, Los Ranchitos, were talking in his car when they saw the fire at 97 Glenside Way.

Miss Petersen ran home to call the fire department, according to Lee, and he dashed to the Glenside Way address, told a woman there of the fire, then drove away.

Lee aided firemen on their arrival, according to Menjou.

The award was given to Hope for his outstanding achievements in the entertainment field and his export of good will around the world.

Hope received a proclamation and a shiny pudding pot, noting he has been "given a medal by my country — for leaving it; been given an Oscar by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences—in a year when I didn't make any movies; and several months ago I was given the B'nai B'rith award for being a gentile."

Bridges Hits At Government In Labor Field

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Government should "stay out" of labor problems unless it is asked to help, according to Harry Bridges, president of the Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

"They only mess things up," he told 300 Golden Gate College students yesterday.

Bridges said the ILWU has developed good relations with management by weighing proposals carefully and asking only for what it realistically believes can be won.

"We don't go in and ask for a dollar an hour raise when we actually can expect only fifty cents," Bridges said. "We ask for that fifty cents and then fight for it. Our managers know this; we demand only what the industry will bear."

NEW YORK (UPI) — Life Magazine has won the 1967 National Magazine Award, it was announced today by the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism. War Protest Before Talk By Humphrey

NEW YORK (AP) — Some 75 persons protesting the role of the United States in Vietnam walked out on a speech by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey at the National Book Award ceremonies last night. But 1,000 others remained to give Humphrey a standing ovation.

Novelist Mitchell Goodman, one of those protesting, marched up to the stage of Philharmonic Hall, cupped his hands to his mouth, and shouted: "Mr. Vice President, we are burning children in Vietnam and you and we are all responsible!"

As the demonstrators left their seats, Humphrey, who appeared to be calm, told the audience: "This is what we mean by free speech. I've heard that Broadway shows sometimes lose their audience after the first night. I'm sorry to have lost part of our audience before we even began."

Among those who walked out were several prominent authors and publishers, including Anthony West, literary critic of the New Yorker magazine; Richard Baron, president of Dial Press; Jules Feiffer, the cartoonist; Andre Schiffrin, editor in chief of Pantheon Press; Robert Gorham Davis, a literary critic; and Hans Koningsberger, an author.

Most of the demonstrators returned after Humphrey finished speaking.

Defects Reported In 670,000 Vehicles Since Start Of Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Potential defects in more than 670,000 cars, trucks and buses — most of them 1967 models — have been reported to the government by domestic and foreign manufacturers since Jan. 1.

Commerce Department records showed today that most of the recalls were by the domestic big three—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—for a variety of possible defects involving brake parts, steering shaft alignment and windshield wipers.

Three other domestic and seven foreign producers also are listed.

Some of the recalls have been announced publicly by the companies but this isn't required under the new traffic safety law.

Manufacturers are only required to report potential car and truck defects to the government and to inform owners so corrections, if needed, can be made.

A report to the government doesn't mean that all vehicles listed are defective.

If, for example, the manufacture discovers an improperly made steering gear on a car, he may trace the batch of gears which contained the faulty one, then recall all cars supplied from that batch. He might find many, a few or no cars with the same defect.

Other U. S. firms which filed reports on possible defects since Jan. 1 were Kaiser Jeep, International Harvester, American Motors and Clark Equipment Co., a manufacturer of trailers.

Foreign companies filing reports included Rolls Royce, Jaguar, Porsche, BMW of West Germany, Datsun, Volkswagen and Renault.

One of the largest recalls came in January when General Motors reported possible misaligned steering shafts in more than 269,000 Chevrolets, Pontiacs, Oldsmobiles and Buicks.

Stiff Firearms Plan Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill providing stiffer penalties for anyone threatening a police officer or fireman with a weapon has passed the Senate despite some Democratic opposition.

The bill, approved by a 25-9 vote yesterday, makes it a felony to draw a loaded or unloaded gun on a peace officer in a "rude, angry or threatening manner."

Felony provisions carry prison sentences up to two years. The penalty's former misdemeanor status provided up to six months jail, $500 fine, or both.

"We apparently apply different yardsticks for the protection of citizens and the protection of police officers and firemen," said an opponent, Sen. George R. Moscone, D-San Francisco.

Bircher Drive Against Aid

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society, said yesterday the organization would conduct a "massive petition drive" to urge Congress to stop foreign aid to Communist nations.

Welch said American aid is being converted to help the Communists in North Vietnam.

"We are paying the bills and supplying war materials for both sides of the war," he said.

LBJ Held Rejecting Peace Talks For Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former top aide to President John F. Kennedy says the Johnson administration has hardened its terms for Vietnam peace talks and apparently "does not wish negotiations now."

The charge yesterday by Arthur Schlesinger Jr., a special assistant to Kennedy and a Pulitzer Prize-winning author, drew an immediate White House denial.

Administration leaders "have made clear we're ready to negotiate an end to the war," said George Christian, White House press secretary.

Shortly before Schlesinger read his statement to a news conference, Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said the United States "is ready for unconditional discussions today" on ending the war.

Goldberg, chief U. S. envoy to the United Nations, was asked if U. S. policy calls for delaying talks until South Vietnam's constitutional government is installed later this year.

"That is not true," Goldberg replied.

But Schlesinger said the administration has "hardened its terms, demanding today from Hanoi what it did not demand a year ago—the prior assurance of some reciprocal act as a condition to our ending the bombing of North Vietnam."

Hanoi has in the past interpreted U. S. offers of peace talks as a sign of weakness, said Schlesinger. Now administration policymakers are viewing recent North Vietnamese statements in the same light, he added.

"By this logic we cannot negotiate while we are behind because we are weak, and we can't negotiate either when we are ahead because, if we keep on doing what we have been doing, we will be even farther ahead at some later point," he said.

Ranch Assessments

William Lund, executive vice president of the economic resource association of Los Angeles, will speak on assessment of ranch land redevelopment potential at 8 a.m. March 16 at the Lodge, north of Novato, in a breakfast session arranged by real estate man Gordon Pusser of Marshall.

Tennis Court Plans Approved

Specifications for two double Tuesday night by the Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission. The two courts, if the city council approves the plan, will be built on school property behind the Fairfax School District office. Cost is estimated at $14,000.

The commission did not act on a request by citizens for gates at Andi Peri Playground. The gates will be included in a landscaping plan if the plan is approved by the council at budget time.

A proposal by Fairfax Lions Club to install shuffleboard and horseshoe facilities behind the Women's Club was accepted by the commission.

The Fairfax commission agreed to meet with the San Anselmo Park and Recreation Commission to discuss joint programs.

Commissioners asked that the city council notify the county parks and recreation commission that Fairfax intends to set up a senior citizens' recreation program and ask for matching county funds.

Repeated Demands Hold Up Federal Aid For Airport

Repeated federal demands for adjustments in plans for reconstruction of the Marin County Airport at Novato could jeopardize the entire project. County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost reported today

Options on land needed for realignment of the runway expire April 14, and escrow cannot be opened until the Federal Aviation Agency approves the plans, Frost explained.

Approval by Carl Hand, chief of airport planning in the FAA western region office in San Francisco, should have taken only two weeks, but it is now in its fourth week, with engineers in the county public works department drawing up a fourth in a series of minor adjustments asked by Hand, Frost said.

Closing of escrow will take at least three weeks, Frost said. If escrow cannot be opened soon, the options could expire and the county will be back where it was a year ago, having to renegotiate property purchase agreements all over again.

The FAA has already agreed to put up $242,000, at 56 per cent share of the redevelopment cost.

Conservationist Dinner Slated

The Marin Conservation League will hold its 33rd annual dinner meeting tomorrow at the Edgewater Inn in Corte Madera.

The meeting, open to the public, will begin at 7 p.m.

Judge Hugo M. Fisher, former state natural resources administrator, will be guest speaker. Mrs. T. C. Wellman, league president will present a report on last year's activities.

during the week to the government bringing the year's total to 6,357. This is almost twice the figure for the same period a year ago.

Last week's American death total was not the highest of the war. It was eight short of the 240 Americans killed during the week ending Nov. 25, 1965, in the bloody Ia Drang Valley campaign by the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division. That battle killed more than 2,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese.

The reports contrasted sharply with casualties the week before. That was the bloodiest week of the war for the Communists —2,449 dead. The Americans lost 163 dead that week and 929 wounded.

The Communist attack on a platoon of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division fighting in Operation Adams along the coast 240 miles northeast of Saigon came with lightning suddenness in what could be a renewal of previous Communist strategy.

The attack lasted only 32 minutes but before it was over the Communists killed 13 Americans and wounded 27. Three other members of the platoon of perhaps 44 men were listed as missing in action.

Ex-Marinite's Body Found In Napa River

The body of former Marin resident Marvin Desmond Cyr, 31, of Vallejo, was found yesterday in the Napa River a mile and a half north of the Napa River bridge near Vallejo. Solano County Coroner Dan Horan said death was due to drowning.

Cyr had been missing since Feb. 22. Solano authorities earlier had found his car parked at a bar near his home, and learned that he had taken a taxi from there to his boat, docked on the river nearby.

His boat was found at its mooring with the engine partly dismantled. Horan said Cyr apparently was working on the engine and fell into the water. The body was two miles upstream from the boat dock, evidently borne there by swift tidal flows in the lower rifer.

Cyr, a heavy equipment operator, was born in Sausalito and lived in Marin until the family moved to Vallejo seven years ago. The family's last Marin home was in Mill Valley.

Funeral for Cyr will be at 1 p.m. Tuesday at Colonial Chapel, 1000 Redwood Street, Vallejo. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

He was a Navy veteran of the Korean War, and was a member of the First Baptist Church of Vallejo, the Vallejo Yacht Club, and Operation Engineers Union Local 3 at Vallejo.

He is survived by his wife, Carolyn, of Vallejo; two children, Susan and Steven Cyr of Vallejo; his parents, Ivan Cyr of Crescent City and Mrs. Myrle E. Fenski of Seattle, Wash.; and four sisters, Donna Berwidk, Jodeane Westbrook and Regina Varelli of San Rafael, and Wanda Kafka of San Francisco.

The burglars abandoned the champagne on Kahn's front lawn during their flight, however, deputies said.

IN MEMORIAM

BROWN, ROY ALLEN—(1893-1966). In loving memory of ROY ALLEN BROWN, who passed away March 9, 1966.

You cannot say, you must not say
That he is dead. He is just away!
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand
He has wandered into an unknown land
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since he lingers there;
So think of him faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here.
Think of him still as the same, and say
He is not dead, he is just away.

McCARTHY, VINCENT WILLIAM — In loving memory of a wonderful husband and dad who passed away March 9, 1956.

Time has changed the face of things
Since you went away;
There's almost nothing here that you
Would recognize today;
Yet could you look into our hearts
You'd see there still tonight
The love you lighted long ago
Like votive candles, burning bright.

Death Row Black Muslim Seeks Book

A Black Muslim on Death Row in San Quentin Prison has petitioned Marin Superior Court to force prison authorities to allow him a book he claims is necessary to his faith.

Archie Simmons, 26, sentenced from Los Angeles County for a series of robbery-kidnapings and rapes, claims in his petition that he has been denied a copy of "Message to the Black Man," although he could obtain it without cost to the state.

It is necessary, he contends, is a prerequisite for his worship in the Moslem faith.

Simmons' complaint claims another Death Row prisoner was allowed the book in January, but was required to sign a pledge that he would allow no one else to read it.

Judge Thomas F. Keating ordered prison officials to show why Simmons should not get the book at a hearing at 2 p.m. April 3.

Simmons and his partner in crime, Gene Daniels, 32, were received at the prison last Oct. 6 after their conviction in Los Angeles Superior Court. Simmons was found guilty of three counts of kidnaping to rob with bodily harm and one count of rape. Daniels was convicted of two counts of robbery-kidnaping.

They were arrested after a neighborhood near the Los Angeles Coliseum and University of Southern California had been terrorized for months by a pair who forced their way at gunpoint into apartments where women were home alone, robbed the women and raped them.

San Marin High Gets State Cash

The State Allocations Board yesterday granted a $2,327,213 to Novato Unified School District for the first phase of the San Marin High School.

This is $180,787 less than the $2,508,000 requested by the district, according to Eugene de Brecht, assistant superintendent in charge of building.

"I do not know what they have cut off, but I will find out when I go there tomorrow," De Brecht said.

Fred Mantegani is president of the Tiburon Sanitary District Board.

Water Board Heeds State Warning On Fire Hazards

Warned by their general manager that "the district will be in trouble if nothing is done about fire protection on Mount Tamalpais watershed," Marin Municipal Water District directors yesterday ordered an immediate start on snag removal.

Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger said pressure is being brought to bear by the State Division of Forestry.

County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom asked that firemen and water district workers be allowed to start immediately on removal of snags as the first step in a fire protection program on the mountain. The board concurred.

Water district directors decided to spend $37,000 to install a new 18-inch line along East Blithedale Avenue in Mill Valley, where the city is widening it between Toyon Drive and Meadow Avenue. Seeger said this was only $3,000 more than it would cost to repair the old pipes.

They complained, however, that it is unfair for the City of Mill Valley to be able to use state gasoline tax funds for widening the street while the water district must relocate its line at its own expense. Seeger said he is urging Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, to seek an amendment to the Collier-Unruh Act to provide gasoline tax funds toward utility line relocations.

Marin Municipal Water District Board Also:

PIXIE LINE — Agreed to abandon an unused line on Pixie Trail in Tamalpais Valley.

REPLACEMENT PUMPS — Opened three bids for replacement pumps and referred them to district engineers for analysis, with awards to be made at the next meeting.

QUIT CLAIMS — Granted Quit claim deeds to San Geronimo Valley Water Co. and Lagunitas Development Co. for some springs not used for water supply.

CAMPS — Granted requests to camp at Lake Lagunitas, March 21 to Leslie Smith, and to camp five days during Easter vacation in Potrero Meadows to Boy Scout Troop 90, Corte Madera.

UFO — Granted a request of Al Collins of radio Station KSFO to open the parking lot at the mountain theater tomorrow at 8 p.m. so his listeners can watch for unidentified flying objects.

EMPLOYMENT — Hired Albert Hubbard, 40, as a mechanical and maintenance man, with salary not specified at the meeting.

Bill Asks State Project Warning

I-J SPECIAL REPORT

SACRAMENTO — State agencies that plan public works projects may be required to let local agencies know beforehand, under terms of a bill introduced by State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael.

The McCarthy bill specifies that in cities or counties where a general plan has been adopted, state agencies must submit lists of any proposed public works construction to the local planning agency.

The senator said his action was precipitated by an occurrence in Marin County, where the State Division of Highways put up a maintenantce shop near the entrance to Point Reyes National Seashore.

Pill Victim Rushed To Hospital, Mends

George Wilson Graham, 50, of 34 Ridge Road, San Rafael, was reported in good condition at Marin General Hospital after taking an overdose of tranquilizer pills.

San Rafael police found Graham shortly before midnight at a Fourth Street restaurant after a call from Marin County Communications office. Police said Graham was semi-conscious and said he had taken 60 to 100 tablets. He lost consciousness while being taken to the hospital.

County Eyes Workman's Insurance

Self-insurance for workmen's compensation was proposed for serious consideration by county administrative analyst Martin Nelson during a workshop session of the county safety commission today.

Nelson said the City of San Diego has started the plan and might save up to $25,000 a year. He said it is the trend among other public agencies as well.

The commission, studying budget requests for next fiscal year, did not recommend any funds for such a study, however. Commission Member Wallace Chipman thought the matter might be developed by insurance advisers.

The recommendation for next year's budget will include a half-time administrator to start June 1, a position created by supervisors last June with the hiring date deferred. Commissioners also agreed today to seek a half-time clerical position.

The budget will be considered again at the regular meeting of the commission next Thursday.

Human Rights Meeting

The Marin County Human Rights Commission will meet at 8 p.m. today at St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church in Marin City to hear reports on the War on Poverty, temporary recreation center and sheriff's substation.

INSTANT MURAL—Edwin A. Cadogan, retiring chairman of the division of fine arts at the College of Marin, turned this painting out in about 45 minutes as a demonstration of a painting class assignment. The assignment, Cadogan said, was to fill a large canvas "with a whole lot of things."

Would-Be Engineer Looks Back On Artistic Career

By CAROL MARSH

Edwin A. Cadogan, chairman of the division of fine arts at College of Marin, came to the college in 1932 — to study engineering.

Cadogan will retire at the end of this semester after 20 years on the college faculty as a teacher of painting, ceramics, life drawing, crafts, sculpture and architecture, as head of the art department since 1951 and as division chairman since 1960. He is 59.

DREAM TOUR

He and his wife, Adalaine, will leave in July on a four-year tour of England and Europe which represents "a lifelong dream." They plan to take a camper truck along, and spend the first year touring the British Isles and having a Scottish trawler converted to a yacht for traveling the Mediterranean in the next three years, using the yacht as "headquarters" and the camper for touring the continent.

Mrs. Cadogan also paints professionally, and Cadogan said he is retiring to have more time for painting, research, and writing. One of his major European projects will be researching and writing a book on architectural history.

They plan to return to the United States in the yacht after a tour of the Caribbean.

INVOLVED IN ART

Cadogan, a native of San Francisco, began his artistic career by taking a few art courses as electives when he came to College of Marin to study engineering. "Before I knew it I was all involved in art instead of engineering," and he had been completely "involved in art" ever since.

He earned an associate of arts degree at the college in 1934, then attended the California School of Fine Arts for three years, and spent two years studying in Europe, mainly in Paris, at academies and under private teachers. In 1939, his work was exhibited as part of a three-man show at the American Students and Artists Center in Paris, in an exhibition sponsored by U. S. Ambassador William C. Bullitt.

He enlisted in the Navy Seabees in 1942, and saw service in the Philippines. After the war he enrolled at San Francisco State College, where he earned a bachelor of arts degree in 1947. He received his master of fine arts degree in 1950 from the California College of Arts and Crafts.

ONLY TEACHING JOB

He took his "first and only teaching job" at the College of Marin in 1947, when the art department consisted of one full-time and one part-time teacher. The department now has 11 full-time and nine evening teachers, and the college is building a new fine arts complex.

As an artist, Cadogan's interests are balanced between painting and ceramics, mainly stoneware pattery. He finds that each of the two art forms "is a relief from the other," and that they complement and influence each other. "They don't compete," he said.

His painting, he said, does not follow a single style. "I paint the subject as I feel it, so it may be somewhat realistic or totally abstract." He does not have a favorite painting, although he has sold "two or three hundred, besides all those I burned."

"You paint because you have a desire to say something," he explained, "and after you've expressed yourself, it's a statement that has been made and you want to go on to something new."

He is a past president of the Marin Society of Artists, past president of the San Francisco Potters Association, a member of the San Francisco Art Institute, and past commander of the Marin Power Squadron, a boating education organization.

STUDIO IS HOME

He and his wife live at 50 Murray Avenue, Larkspur, in a house that began as a studio. When they bought the property, they had in mind a spot behind the house for a 1,500 square foot studio, which they eventually built.

"Then my practical wife suggested we rent the house and move into the studio, so we did," he said.

When they return from Europe they plan to build a new home in Bolinas, and "retire from retiring."

Cameras, Binoculars Taken From Auto

Theft of two cameras and a pair of binoculars from the locked automobile of Henry Garrison Jr. of Palo Alto, parked in the 200 block of Drake Avenue in Marin City, was reported yesterday by sheriff's officers. They said entry was by breaking a left ventilator window.

Leon Jack Mailett, 317 Montego Key, Bel Marin Keys, reported someone took his wife's grey mink stole and possibly a $20 bill from their bedroom. No forced entry to the house was evident, deputies reported.

Claim Filed Over Swim Club's Woes

Leighton Hatch, attorney for the Strawberry Swim Club, said today he has filed a claim of damages with the Strawberry Recreation District for $50,000, for unlawfully soliciting club members' donations of their dues to the district.

Hatch claims the solicitation interfered with the club's operation, causing it to suffer a diminution of membership values, lost dues and assessment payments, loss of memberships and inability to continue operation of the club. Clarence G. Bush, chairman and Stephen H. Kaufmann, attorney for the district, are named as the solicitors.

Hatch has also filed a request with the American Arbitration Association in San Francisco for a hearing on the club's dispute with the recreation district, which terminated the clubs' lease effective last Sunday.

The Coliseum in Rome was built in the First Cenruty.

Hub Residents Get Blanks To Rate City

Questionnaires on San Anselmo's problems and needs, looking toward the San Anselmo Town Meeting April 29, are being distributed this week.

The questionnaires are being handed out door to door by volunteer groups of Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls. Some are being sent home with school children and distributed at churches, and copies are available at grocery stores and at the San Anselmo library, according to Mrs. Anne West, president of the San Anselmo Homes Association.

The homes association and the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring the survey. Mrs. West said responses to the questionnaires will be used to choose topics for discussion at the Congress for Community Progress town meeting.

Deadline for returning the questionnaires is March 17, and results will be tabulated and published as soon as possible after the deadline, Mrs. West said. She urged that the forms be returned as early as possible to facilitate tabulation.

Questionnaires call for ratings on town services and comments on San Anselmo's problems and advantages, and list 18 possible topics for town meeting panels.

Hearing Set On Marijuana

Preliminary hearing for three persons charged with conspiring to smuggle marijuana into county jail was scheduled in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for 9:30 a.m. next Thursday.

Accused are Mrs. Roberta Marie Buckley of Walnut Creek; her common-law husband, Eugene O. Boehm, serving a year in jail for felony child-beating and Merton Wesley Spaulding, in jail for auto theft.

Spaulding also is charged with possession of marijuana. He allegedly picked up a small package which Mrs. Buckley is accused of depositing in a jail garbage can to deliver it inside the jail to Boehm last Sunday.

CORE BACKS POWELL—Ousted congressman Adam Clayton Powell and CORE leader Floyd McKissick tell newsmen at Bimini, the Bahamas, that CORE will back Powell for election. (UPI Telephoto)

Powell, His Attorneys Begin Seating Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorneys for Adam Clayton Powell have launched court action aimed at forcing the House to seat him, while the Harlem Democrat starts his own campaign to win back the seat in a special election.

A suit filed yesterday in U.S. District Court here charged that Powell's constitutional rights were violated by last week's House vote barring him from taking the seat to which he was elected.

The suit asked a preliminary injunction ordering Powell's immediate seating and a permanent injunction to prevent House Speaker John W. McCormack from refusing to give Powell the oath of office.

The court petition was signed by Powell and 13 others, including civil rights leader A. Philip Randolph, Percy E. Sutton, Manhattan borough president and Hulan Jack, former borough president.

On the Bahamian island of Bimini, the fishing retreat where Powell has remained during most of the controversy, he spoke derisively of the man selected by New York Republicans to run against him in the special election — James H. Meredith, first Negro enrolled in the University of Mississippi.

"Meredith, who is he?" asked the debonair preacher- politician at a Bimini news conference. "I don't know Meredith."

He said Meredith would not be a "formidable" opponent. Powell added he doesn't plan to campaign in person in Harlem.

The head of the Congress for Racial Equality pledged political retribution against those who voted for the ouster.

Floyd McKissick said CORE will help Powell campaign in the April 11 special election to fill the vacant seat he held for 22 years. He said Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Movement also was supporting Powell's election bid.

In Atlanta, however, a spokesman for King said the civil rights leader was sticking to an earlier statement in which he commended both Powell and Meredith, and said the "people of Harlem should decide who they want."

In New York, Jackie Robinson, a former baseball great and now an aide to Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, said he'll support Powell and rapped Meredith for entering the race.

Trade Secret Law Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An employee would be guilty of theft if he steals a trade secret from his boss—even if it's only taking a photograph or a scrap of paper — under a new Senate bill.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Robert J. Lagomarsino, R-Ojai, passed 30-5 yesterday and was sent to the Assembly.

Lagomarsino said the measure closes "a loophole" in the present law. There will be no penalty, he stressed, for memorizing a trade secret and disclosing it to another firm.

Maximum penalty under the bill would be 10 years prison, a $5,000 fine or both.

McBird's Navy
That's my cake your fingering!
Pat Egan

BIRD PEOPLE—This is a panel from "McBird's Navy," the creation of confident, 11-year-old Patrick Egan, who is determined to make cartooning a career.

'McBIRD'S NAVY'

11-Year-Old Determined To Become A Cartoonist

Patrick Egan, 11 years old and determined to be a cartoonist, can't wait until he grows up.

In a fairly confident letter to the editor of the Independent-Journal, Pat wrote: "I have a new comic for your paper. . . .

"When I get the job, should I write in pencil or pen? And one more question, how much do I get paid?"

A sixth grader at Blessed Sacrament School in Santa Venetia, Pat is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Egan, 23 Linda Avenue, Santa Venetia.

He's been drawing cartoons ever since a friend taught him how to draw birds in the second grade. And that's had a profound influence on his style, for all the characters in his comic strip, "McBird's Navy," are humanized birds.

"I just like to draw people like birds," said Pat. "They look like birds to me."

He admits he got the idea for the strip from "McHale's Navy" on television, and says most of his gags revolve around military life because he wants to join the Navy.

He reads comics avidly. His hero is Sgt. Mike Hodgson, whose syndicated cartoons on the Vietnam war appear in the I-J.

"He started drawing cartoons when he was in school, and that's what I intend to do," said Pat.

As for the job with the I-J, his application, like many others received weekly, will be duly considered.

Harmless Rockets

Two projectiles were found at a duplex at 37 Bungalow Drive, San Rafael yesterday by Roland Carrier, salesman for Brockman Realty of Tiburon, who called the Hamilton Air Force Base explosive ordinance section. S/Sgt. Hal W. Elledge, who responded, found them to be harmless practice rocket heads.

McKinley Climbers Rest After Ordeal

TALKEETNA, Alaska (AP)—The first men to scale Mount McKinley in the fierce subarctic winter were resting from their ordeal today while a search continued for two companions who have been unaccounted for since Sunday.

An Army helicopter plucked three Anchorage climbers from the 14,000-foot level of the 20,320-foot mountain late yesterday Earlier the men, using a radio dropped from an Air Force plane, sent word that they reached the summit at 7 p.m. March 1.

What was it like at the highest point on the North American continent, in temperatures of about 50 below zero and wind of possibly 100 miles an hour?

"It was nice," said Ray Genet, 35, of Anchorage when the helicopter landed here. With Genet on the assault were Art Davidson, 22, and Dave Johnston, 24, also of Anchorage.

At Talkeetna they rejoined Gregg Blomberg, 25, of Denver, Colo., leader of the expedition, and John Edwards, 35, of Cleveland, Ohio, from whom they became separated during the climb. Another Army helicopter picked up Blomberg and Edwards at the 8,250-foot level.

The climbers were reported in good condition except for apparently minor frostbite.

Veteran bush pilot Don Sheldon took off to fly the five climbers from here to Fairbanks, but had to put down for the night at Summit, about halfway there, because of bad weather.

The men were supposed to have been rushed to the Arctic Research Laboratory of the University of Alaska at Fairbanks to test effects of the climb on their metabolism. It was feared here that the overnight stay at Summit might affect the value of the tests.

A search was begun for Dr. George Wichman, 39, and Shiro Nishimae, 31, both of Anchorage. When last seen they were about 10,000 feet, not far from an igloo or ice cave stocked with supplies.

Dancer Cleared In Actor's Fall

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dancer Rita Lupino, sister of actress Ida Lupino, has been cleared of any implication in the fall of actor Peter Hornsby from her second-story apartment.

Bruce Daniels, 21, son of singer Billy Daniels, was booked last Sunday on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder. He is free on bond pending additional investigation.

The 36-year old Hornsby was reported unconscious and in critical condition yesterday at Los Angeles County General Hospital.

Play Equipment Bids Tomorrow

Bids to supply play equipment for Descanso Way Park will be opened at 8 p.m. tomorrow at a meeting of the Gallinas Village Community Services District Board at John MacPhail School.

Also on the agenda is conditional acceptance of the park development, now complete except for minor details, according to Marguerite F. Clark, district secretary.

FIREMEN FINISH WHAT THEY STOPPED

When a grass fire last summer reached the old barn on the former Sorich Ranch—now City of San Anselmo property for corporation yard and future park—Hub City firemen extinguished the blaze and save the barn. But it wasn't much worth saving, so today they burned it as an exercise in fire control. Took awhile to get it blazing, too.

Television Set Reported Stolen

Loss of a television set in a burglary of the unlcoked home of Lorin B. Gossage on Dillon's Beach Road was reported today by sheriff's officers.

Gossage, who also has a home in Penngrove, Sonoma County, told deputies nothing else was missing. He said the house had also been burgled of several guns on Feb. 17.

Martin N. Hanzlik, 1419 Buchanan Street, Novato, told deputies someone broke a rear window of a building being remodeled for the Young Men's Christian Association at 241 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, and stole a box of carpenter's tools.

Clifton Cordes, proprietor of Lagunitas Store, reported someone pried open the coin box of a telephone booth outside the store and looted it of coins.

A total of 60 billion francs ($1.2 billion) will be paid in old age pensions in Belgium in 1967, according to government estimates.

Larkspur Summer Rec Plans Approved

The Larkspur Park and Recreation Commission last night approved a summer recreation program including playground activities, archery, tennis, baseball, arts and crafts, and excursions.

Recreation Director Robert C. Bundy said the recreation budget would be "essentially the same as this year's," with increases for maintenance of the new baseball field at Ronald E. Piper Park.

Novato Plan Complaints Told Council

Communication between the Novato City Council and the planning commission has been a one-way street, commissioners declared last evening at a dinner meeting with the council at Nave Lanes.

Commission members pointed out that the council keeps track of commission activities by getting copies of its minutes, but refers items back to the commission without instruction or even benefit of the council minutes.

"I will try to get this changed at our next meeting," said Councilman Douglas M. Merrill.

The composition, duties and standards of an architectural review committee took most of the time in the two and one-half hour informal discussion.

Merrill reiterated his earlier suggestion that membership on the committee be opened to residents outside the city, saying many talented persons live just outside Novato's city limits. Several commission members, however, said they thought the committee should be made up only of members of the planning commission.

Commissioner John Milkos put in a pitch for two-year terms for committee members, rather than four years as earlier suggested. This brought no answering comment.

Problems of getting citizen participation were discussed in general.

Councilmen and commissioners agreed several such joint discussions shoull be held each year, and scheduled the next one for April 5.

Credit Union's Assets Increase

Increases in assets and membership were reported last night at the annual meeting of the Independent-Journal Federal Credit Union.

Treasurer Frank Turner said assets stood at more than $150,000, a gain of $24,000 over last year, and membership had increased by 30 to a total of 224.

More than $110,878 was out in loans, said Turner, and a 6 per cent dividend was declared on savings accounts.

Ernest H. Fingerlos, Ethel M. Schwab and Jean Day were elected to the executive board, and Berta Appel and William G. Schendel to the credit committee.

Phone Hike Request Attacked, Defended

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s requested rate increase was called "the most barefaced piratical attack on California consumers since the days of Hiram Johnson" by the treasurer of the Association of California Consumers today.

Arthur Danforth of Corte Madera, whose group has formed CAPRI (Consumers Against Phone Rate Incerases) to fight the hike said PT&T is 90 per cent owned by American Telephone and Telegraph Co., which shows the largest net profit for any business in the United States.

40 PER CENT

Speaking on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board," Danforth said PT&T is thus already making better than a 10 per cent return under its present rate structure, "and now we find that consumers are faced with a 40 per cent increase in residence and 90 per cent on business phones."

A preview of the battle which will be fought before the California Public Utilities Commission later this year was heard on the program, to be rebroadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m., with two representatives of PT&T stating their case, and Everett C. McKeage, former chairman of the PUC, explaining the regulatory body's function.

QUALITY CONCERN

Harold A. Gerrish, PT&T vice president in charge of public relations, said while customers are concerned with the price of telephone service, "I believe our customers are equally concerned about the quality of telephone service."

He differed with a listener's question that contended operating costs normally vary inversely with the volume of business and asked why customers should be penalized "for what appears to be an extremely inefficient operation."

Gerrish said the company has used every possible cost saving to keep phone rates low.

Jerry Ezrin, Bay Area information supervisor of PT&T, said in 1962 the company had to invest $435 for each plant, and this has now risen to $495.

McKeage said it would not be realistic for him to comment on the merits or demerits of the public utility's application for rate increases, but commented, "To my knowledge this is the largest public utility rate increase ever requested."

The rates of a public utility may require changing frequently, said McKeage, "because the rate of return may be confiscatory one year, and compensatory the next."

PT&T's rate of return was fixed recently by the PUC at 6.3 per cent of its cost rate base. He said its request's for a hike to 7.9 per cent, which would represent a rate of 10 per cent on equity of common stock.

"Anyone who can show a lawful interest" may appear before the PUC hearing on the increase application, he said, "but he should be prepared to offer that type of detailed evidence required to support his case. Merely stating you are for or against is of no value."

If the proposed increase were granted, the rate for a one-party residential phone in San Rafael would go from $3.90 to $5.75 a month, said Ezrin.

Plea Scheduled On Bal Checks

Paul Michael Ashley, 18, was to enter plea in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon to two counts of possession of checks with intent to defraud, and a third count of passing worthless checks totaling $200.

Ashley, with the Army at Fort Folk, La., was arrested by Corte Madera police Tuesday. He allegedly had the checks with intent to defraud that day, and passed worthless checks totaling $200 Sunday and Monday in Corte Madera.

Annual St. Pat's Dinner Is Saturday

A longtime Sausalito tradition will be continued Saturday evening when the city's Star of the Sea Church holds its St. Patrick's Day dinner.

Chairman Frank C. Pasquinucci reported that the 5 to 8 p.m. affair in the church hall traditionally has drawn hundreds of Southern Marinites, of all faiths, for a celebration of the Irish holiday.

'701' Review Tonight

Mill Valley's "701" planning consultants will present physical, visual and market analyses to the citizens advisory committee today at 8 p.m. in the gallery of the library. Also on the agenda is further discussion of the goals of the study of city's commercial areas.

Demos Demanding Withholding Tax

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Majority Democrats replied to Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan's $946 million tax plan today with new demands for withholding of state income taxes, which Reagan opposes.

And, Democrats staged a full-scale rebellion against what they termed the slowness of work on his record $5 billion budget.

"I'm very alarmed at the time it has taken to present a proper budget," said Sen. Stephen Teale, D-Railroad Flat, acting chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

Teale was among the Democrats calling for withholding.

Another was Assembly Majority George N. Zenovich, D-Fresno, who said it would bring in up to $250 million a year.

Reagan's tax plan, he said, is directed at the consumers.

Sen. Walter W. Stiern, D-Bakersfield, chairman of the Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee, said he thinks he will support withholding.

"It makes it easier for low income families to budget," he said.

Republicans generally praised Reagan's plan. But they acknowledged the legislature—controlled by Democrats in both houses—will write its own tax program.

Assemblyman John G. Veneman, R - Modesto, chairman of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee, said the Reagan plan is "certainly compatible" with his own $1.15 billion proposal. Veneman, however, advocates more property tax relief.

The Senate Republican leader, John F. McCarthy of San Rafael, said "for the first time in recent years a governor of California has taken a realistic approach to our state's fiscal problems . . ."

He warned "the road may well be longer and rougher than he thinks, but it is one that must be traveled."

Sen. John G. Schmitz, who carries the conservative banner, said Reagan's plan is "an error."

He promised to fight income tax increases.

"I can see something everybody can vote against," said Senator Teale. He said he couldn't see more than a dozen Senate votes for the plan at the present time.

Senate President pro tem Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, said the legislature should hold off consideration of a tax program until a budget is adopted.

And he said that legislators should possibly forget boosting tobacco and liquor taxes this year.

Youth Bound To Juvenile Court

Complaints of burglary, passing worthless checks, and conspiracy to defraud with worthless checks, against Gordon Keith Jennings, 19, were certified to Marin Juvenile Court yesterday by Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court.

Jennings, of 25 Sierra Vista, Novato, allegedly burgled Montgomery Ward and Co. in Corte Madera Jan. 4, and conspired to pass two worthless $10 checks drawn on a smaller checking account Jan. 4.

He also is accused of passing four checks totaling $130 with intent to defraud the Ward Company Dec. 28-31, and a $115 check to defraud Ray Jacob in Novato.

Betty Hutton Is Hit By Lawsuit

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Entertainer Betty Hutton was sued for $19,400 yesterday by former landlords who claimed she "was a dissolute person of bad reputation" and was "addicted to alcohol and barbiturates."

The suit was filed against Miss Hutton and her recently divorced husband, musician Pete Candoli, by Mr. and Mrs. David Simmons, who leased a South Laguna home to the couple last April 3.

The suit asked $1,400 for allegedly unpaid rent, $8,000 for asserted damages to a rug, furniture and a wall, and $10,000 because Miss Hutton purportedly stated falsely that she was a person of "integrity and probity."

Worthless Checks Plea Slated Today

George Newall of B and G Homes, San Rafael, was to plead today in Marin Municipal Court to five counts of passing worthless checks. He was arraigned yesterday before Judge Peter Allen Smith.

Newall is accused of passing a worthless $286 check last Aug. 16 to defraud Cement Mason's Pension Fund; a $258 check Aug. 22 to defraud Bay Area Conference of Hod Carriers; and checks for $453, $482 and $409 last June through August to defraud AFofL-CIO Bricklayers and Stone Masons Union.

Lively Ballot Race In Store For San Rafael

With the deadline for filing candidacy papers 5 p.m. tomorrow, the San Rafael City Council race shapes up as the most spirited in the municipal election April 10.

Five incumbent city officials probably will run unopposed, barring new candidates entering the race in the short time left.

Two council seats — those of Charles W. Aby and Fred E. Jensen — expire in April. Aby has announced he will not seek re-election, but Jensen has returned completed petitions to seek another term.

Other council candidates are attorney Joseph D. Dahlman; George S. Burton, a used car dealer; Planning Commissioner John A. Miskimen; plumbing contractor Orlando Conti; service station operator Charles Swanfelt, and Gene F. O'Connor, an insurance broker.

Of these, O'Connor is the only one who had not returned completed petitions to City Clerk W. C. Cornwell today.

Four candidates are vying for three seats on the board of education, including incumbents Carl J. Brown, current board president; Mrs. Anita C. Strom and Herman L. Childress. The fourth is management consultant John C. Pfeiffer.

Mrs. Strom has yet to return candidacy papers among this group.

Candidates who apparently will run unopposed are Mayor C. Paul Bettini, Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa, who also has yet to file papers; City Atty. David Menary Jr.; Cornwell, and Treasurer Angela J. Soldavini.

Court Rejects Appeal By Savio

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The latest appeal by Mario Savio and 571 others convicted of misdemeanor charges resulting fromthe 1964 Sproul Hall sit-in at the University of California has been rejected by the state Supreme Court.

The defendants' attorney said, however, he would now take his case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Malcolm Burnstein said he would argue there, as he did in briefs filed with the California court, that the members of Free Speech Movement were denied effective pretrial proceedings, denied jury trials and were not informed of their rights to counsel.

Study Postponed

A study session scheduled yesterday by Tiburon Planning Commission was postponed indefinitely, Phil V. Scott, development administrator said today. He said commissioners learned yesterday that study material on the downtown plan, subject of the meeting, was not ready.

Jury Indicts Prison Inmate For Murder

A 28-yesr-old San Quentin prisoner, serving time for voluntary manslaughter yesterday, was indicted by Marin County Grand Jury for the murder last Aug. 19 of another inmate.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said James Boyd Mackey, convicted of manslaughter in Los Angeles County May 27, 1965, confessed to prison authorities that he killed Jess Russell Pearce, 49, in the prison cotton mill.

Bales said the motive apparently involved homosexuality.

Body of Pearce, serving six months to 15 years for sex perversion, was found with wounds apparently inflicted by an ice pick or narrow screwdriver. There were 73 puncture wounds, officers said. The weapon was not found.

Both Pearce and Mackey, who is serving six months to 10 years, worked in the cotton mill.

Mackey is scheduled for arraignment on the murder indictment at 9:30 a.m. Monday in Marin Superior Court.

Youth Arraigned On Burglary Charge

Ronald Berg Goodrich, 18, of 429 Elm Avenue, Larkspur, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of burglary of Hap Edde's Service Station at 100 Marinwood Drive, Marinwood. Judge Hadden W. Roth scheduled plea entry for 2 p.m. next Wednesday.

Goodrich was arrested Feb. 22 after sheriff's officers saw him running from the station.

Dixie Trustees Grant Raises In Split Vote

Trustees of the Dixie School District last night voted 3-2, with Melvin R. Stidham and Mrs. Dorothy Brown dissenting, to grant a 5.8 per cent increase in teacher salaries for next fiscal year.

This will add $77,000 to payroll and will raise the starting salary from $5,200 to $5,400 and the top salary from $11,300 to $12,000 a year.

Mrs. Brown and Stidham thought the increase too large.

The board approved district contribution to fringe benefits next fiscal year for teachers, with the district to put up $4.65 per month for the entrie amount of dental coverage and contribute $5 a month toward health plans. The Dixie Teachers Association negotiating council had asked $8.10 per month for the dental plan to cover the employee and one dependent.

The Dixie School District board also:

READING PORJECT — Hired Spero W. Theodore as programmer for the district's individual reading project at $750 a month.

GIFTS — Accepted a tape recorder system with listening panels and 36 headsets valued at $782 from the Marinwood Home and School Club, and five tape recorders and a typewriter valued at $629 from the Bernard Hoffman Parent-Teacher Association.

Canadian growers of holly start harvesting in early November in order to reach markets for Christmas.

LECTURE SET — Rev. E. David Willis, Th.D., associate professor of theology at San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, will deliver the fifth and final lecture in the seminary's "New Frontiers in Theology" series at 8 p.m. Monday in the First Presbyterian Church, San Anselmo.

Parents Pen Complains On Discipline

Parents of most of the 15 pupils suspended from Lucas Valley School last month for damaging the schoolgrounds complained by letter last night to the Dixie School District Board.

Trustees took no action on the complaint, however, pending determination of legal questions. Board chairman Melvin R. Stidham said he thought such a matter should be brought up in closed session. Also he wanted advice from the county counsel regarding illegalities in the suspensions alleged in the letter.

Also, he told Maurice A. Erickson Jr. of 845 Flaxberry Lane, Lucas Valley, who presented the letter, that he should set forth specific complaints in writing.

The letter, signed by 12 persons, cited several sections of the California Education Code in questioning the right of a principal to suspend pupils from school.

Erickson said the signers represented seven families. Five of his children were among the 15 suspended from one day to a week following damage at the school Feb. 27.

Principal William Van Winkle suspended the pupils after finding ice plants strewn across the playground, gravel loosened from the roof, and words written on the cement.

Lagunitas Postal Box Broken, Looted

A mail box in the Lagunitas Post Office was looted, county sheriff's officers reported today.

The little glass window was broken to steal mail from the box of Mrs. Mary Weckerle, who has homes in both Lagunitas and San Francisco, sheriff's officers said.

CANDIDATES' NIGHT

Speakers Praise, Condemn Schools

By FRANK FARRARA

School board candidates opened their tour of the "candidates night" circuit last night with talk of financial problems and the role of a school board as a "voice of the people."

Twelve candidates for the Kentfield, Tamalpais High School and Marin Junior College District boards spoke before about 40 persons at Wolfe Grade School, Kentfield.

David D. Ring of Tiburon, a challenger for a seat on the Tamalpais High School District Board, launched the strongest attack of the evening.

FAILURES CHARGED

He charged that the Tamalpais board has failed to carry out its duty as "the voice of the public" and has failed to maintain public participation in its deliberations.

The duty of a school board is not only to listen to those who communicate with the board, but also to raise the questions that any informed voter would raise, he contended. It's function is "to question, not simply accept every proposal," and "to bring out, not suppress," areas of disagreement, Ring said.

OTHER VIEWS

Ring also charged that many areas of program coordination between elementary districts and the high school district "have not been effectively worked out."

Dr. John C. Siemens of Kentfield, a six-year member of the board, said Tamalpais High School District is "one of the most efficient organizations" he has seen and has an excellent academic reputation.

Citizen committees have been helpful in maintaining public involvement and the board is going to appoint a committee to study how to proceed with a building program, said Siemens.

The board holds forums, and information about the board is available through mass media and a district publication, he noted — but only if people read the stories, serve on committees and attend forums "are we actually communicating."

NEEDS CITED

Mrs. Bette Wallace of Corte Madera, appointed to the board last September, pointed to the "most pressing need for classrooms." She said she favored emphasis on construction of the first phase of a high school in San Geronimo Valley.

Mrs. Wallace said the board also should take "a serious look' at building a high school in Tiburon.

She also advocated efforts to help Negro students, and a restudy of the 32 acres that the district owns in Marin City.

COLLEGE CANDIDATES

Seven candidates for the Marin Junior College District Board spoke, and one, Francis J. Carr of Sausalito, sent a statement which was read by Kentfield Supt. Anthony Q. Bacich, moderator.

Edward K. Wachsman of San Rafael, a challenger, questioned the need for "large scale acquisition of parking spaces" and of land fo ra dormitory.

"I don't think the taxpayers want to support a dormitory," he said. Acquiring the site and taking the land off the tax rolls was "wasteful" and not necessary for education, he contended.

During the question session, Elizabeth M. Deedy of Ross, an incumbent, said plans for a dormitory have been shelved. "The land is now a temporary parking lot." she reported.

FINANCING HIT

Wachsman also contended there is "too often a tendency to appoint citizen advisory groups that will act as a rubber stamp."

The ultimate in property taxation has been reached and the board must look for other ways of financing, he said.

Harry J. Moore of Novato, a challenger, said there could be better communication between the college and high schools and "with the public in general."

Citing plans for a campus near Novato, he said he could "give communication with the people of the north" and serve as "someone who'll give the feeling of the peaple and the ideas of the students." Moore is a Novato High School teacher.

PLANS URGED

Mrs. Sarah S. Nome of Mill Valley, a challenger, expressed concern about finding a method "to remove the burden of excessive taxation from the property owner."

Mrs. Deedy said "growth has far from stopped" at the college and stressed the need for planning at both the Kentfield and the north campus.

If there is total state financial support, "you are going to have total state control," she warned.

F. J. Picchi of Novato, a challenger, said the district's pay-as-you-go financing cannot provide the physical plant that is needed. He advocated a bond issue "to do the job today" and having it paid for by those "today, tomorrow and tomorrow."

Robert E. Rogers of Tiburon, board president, said the board is trying to offer "what you want," including evening programs for adults. It has been proceeding under the pay-as-you-go program "to the best of its ability," he contended.

MONEY PROBLEM

Thomas A. Skornia of Ross, appointed to the board last December, said the district is facing "a transitional period" and financing "is the heart of the problem."

The key question is distribution of the tax load "between various areas of government," he said. All governmental funds come from the taxpayer's pocket, but "we should make sure that Marin gets its share without sacrificing local control." In his statement, Carr said that, with costs increasing, it is "quite unlikely" that property taxpayers will continue to support the college "unless an increased share of the total costs, or perhaps all, are borne" by state and federal governments.

TWO UNOPPOSED

The session opened with statements from two unopposed candidates for the Kentfield School District Board, incumbents Kenneth L. Treganowen of Kentfield and Lawrence Goldberg of Larkspur.

Goldberg pointed out that the state contributed 52 per cent of the district funds during the 1955-56 fiscal year as compared to 24 per cent during the 1965-66 fiscal year.

During the 10-year period salaries and costs of services and supplies have increased, and the state has mandated programs such as foreign language, he noted.

"In the face of decreasing state support in costs, we have to ask the taxpayer," he explained. "If the local taxpeyer is to have relief, it will have to be from the state legislation."

Treganowern, who had to leave early, told of thrift claimed educational progress in the district and the board's efforts "to do the best to save the tax dollar and still give high quality education."

The neeting was sponsored by the three Parent-Teacher Associations in the Kentfield School District in preparation for the trustee elections April 18.

Marin Democrats To Attend Parley

A dozen official delegates from Marin County Democratic clubs will attend the California Democratic Council convention in Fresno this weekend.

S. Robert Politzer of Sausalito will head the delegation as CDC director from the First Congressional District. He will stand for re-election as First District director, and will introduce a resolution calling for specific actions by the United States to end the war in Vietnam.

Hans Schiller of Mill Valley, chairman for the preparation of the three-day conference, will be a speaker Saturday.

Chinese Travelers Report Heavy Canton Clash Toll

HONG KONG (AP) — At leat 170 people were killed or wounded during clashes between Red Guards loyal to Mao Tse-tung and county officials at Fatshan, near Canton, arrivals from Red China reported today.

The travelers said the most serious clash occurred last Friday when 2,000 Red Guards besieged a Communist party committee office building where about 700 officials were working.

After a lengthy argument, according to the reports, the officials closed all doors and windows of the building.

"The Red Guards eventually smashed the doors and windows and physically subdued the officials and placed them under house arrest," one traveler said.

Wall posters next day reported about 170 people were killed or injured, the sources said.

The travelers said the Red Guards set up kangaroo courts on Sunday and tried Fatshan's Vice Mayor Tsang Kok and several other officials on charges of being "antiparty, anti - Socialist bourgeois counterrevolutionaries."

Other arrivals reported another clash between Red Guards and factory workers occurred Sunday at Fatshan. They said the number of casualties was not known.

One traveler said a "huge" bomb was discovered on the Fatshan highway Saturday and was removed by army troops.

British Royalty Are Locked Up

LONDON (AP) — British royalty was locked in a London museum yesterday. It turned out to be a mistake. Shortly after Queen Elizabeth II and Princess Margaret had entered the Victoria and Albert Museum, an alarm rang and all exits were slammed and bolted.

Security guards scurried about. Five minutes later they discovered a red-faced student standing by an alarm phone and the search was called off.

"Apparently the student thought it was a public phone," said the museum spokesman.

Obstacles To Goals Cause Of Most Youth Delinquency

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — Youth delinquency travels a double standard route.

This fact is the probable reason boys are five to 10 times more likely than girls to become a social problem, says one University of Michigan investigator.

Dr. Ruth A. Morris suggests that the higher rate for the boys simply means there is the absence of cultural and social support for delinquency among girls —in other words, a double standard.

Dr. Morris and associates in the university's Institute for Social Research interviewed matched groups of delinquent and non-delinquent boys and girls in Flint, the site of a continuing study of family life and youth by institute researchers.

DR. MORRIS SAYS the interviews support the theory that delinquency results most often when factors prevent young people from reaching "culturally defined" success goals. These goals differ for boys and girls.

She said that obstacles to higher social status are most likely to lead to delinquency in boys, obstacles to warm interpersonal relationships most likely to lead to delinquency in girls.

The researcher said that those interpersonal relationships are more often available to girls than social mobility is to boys —ergo, boys, being frustrated in their goals more often also more often turn delinquent.

BOYS' DELINQUENCY is more tolerated by others, including other young people, says Dr. Morris. And girls in the study were less willing than boys to admit previous contacts with police, an indication that they feel more shame about delinquency.

The study also shows there is less social disapproval of boys than of girls for committing the same offenses, the researcher says.

Gynecologist To Speak On 'Case For Abortion'

"The Case for Revised Legal Abortion" is the topic of a talk to be given by Dr. John S. Miller of Mill Valley at noon Tuesday for the United Presbyterian Women at the Westminster Church, Tiburon.

Novelist From Terra Linda To Review Book For TaMar

Alvah Bessie, author, critic, screen writer and journalist, who resides in Terra Linda, will review his new novel, "The Symbol," on Wednesday at 8:30 p.m., at the Terra Linda Recreation Center.

Mrs. Bessie will be the guest of the B'nai B'rith Women's TaMar Chapter.

"The Symbol" is the story of a young movie star in the Hollywood setting.

A screen writer from 1943 to 1950, Mr. Bessie subsequently became one of the "Hollywood Ten," who refused to answer questions of the House Un-American Activities Committee in order to test the committee's constitutional right to exist. For this, he and nine other writers and directors spent a year in prison for contempt of Congress. His autobiography, "Inquisition in Eden," tells of this time in his life.

Mr. Bessie found it impossible to find work in Hollywood under his own name in the past 17 years. During that time, he spent five years as editor and public relations man for the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union; seven years as stage manager, lightman and off-stage announcer for the Hungry i, and one year as public relations man for the San Francisco International Film Festival. He has lived in Marin County for four year.

After the review Mr. Bessie will answer questions concerning his writings. Mrs. Philip Landa is program chairman for TaMar. Mrs. Eugene Lee is hospitality chairman in charge of refreshments.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

If Brother Threatens To 'Rat' To Folks, Head Him Off At Gap

DEAR HELEN:

My brother and I got into some trouble a while back, and got out of it without anything serious happening, but I'd just as soon my parents didn't know about it. I mean, what's over is over — and it would only worry them. I learned my lesson!

But my brother threatens to tell them all about it every time I won't clean up his room for him. or do something that's HIS job. I'm working twice as hard now, just to keep his big mouth shut. What should I do? — WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED:

Use your brain! Your brother couldn't "rat" on you without getting himself in trouble too. So tell him you've decided to give your folks the straight word — it's easier than being his slave.

You can't fight this type of thing any other way.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Back in November I gathered enough nerve to begin a conversation with a girl. Now I see her at school and go to her house on weekends. My problem: I would like to be more aggressive, but an inner force compels me to keep our relationship platonic. I haven't even held her hand yet.

All my friends have completely surpassed me in this field. But I'm afraid I might offend her. Tell me, does a girl of 15 look for aggressive tactics like kissing and hand holding, right away? Or should I be patient and let it happen eventually? — WONDERING

DEAR WON:

A girl doesn't look for "aggressive" tactics right away, but it's been four months, chum. Surely she's begun to wonder: "Does he know I'm a girl?"

Next time you walk her across the street, take her hand, and keep holding it.— H.

DEAR HELEN:

Well, Helen, for once your intuition and good judgment fell. I refer to your reply, "A's aren't that important anyway," when IGNORAMUS wondered if her folks were right in grounding her until she got them (in all subjects).

You must be blind to the facts of college acceptance standards. You have no right to tell ANY student A's aren't important!

College acceptances get tougher every year, and to reach the college of your choice your grades must be "top." True, all young people aren't capable of straight "A's," but don't discourage the ones who are! — MARIE

DEAR MARIE:

Sorry to disagree, but a "straight-A grind" has far less chance of making the "college of his choice" (if it's one of the Big Ten, that is) than a B or B-plus average student who has leadership qualities and proves them by his list of extra activities. "A's" achieved through "grounding" build up parents' self-esteem at the risk of losing a REAL all-around person . . . who studies because he wants to learn, not through fear of punishment. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Thanks for yor wise answer to "Ignoramus," I pray that her parents will realize you are right and that grounding a cooperative, sensible child until she gets all "A's" can be destructive. Proof of overemphasis on grades is all too evident in today's statistics of numerous nervous breakdowns and a tragically high total even of suicides among students.

I would be happy if our children earned all "A's" but we don't push. We only ask that they do their best— and they do, for they know we are pulling for them. A "B" average is all that is needed for college entrance. — E. F. C.

DEAR READERS:

Many colleges accept less than "B" average students. All is not lost if you're in "The High C's" — as your counselor will tell you. — H.

Book Reports On Color Deficiency

NEW YORK (UPI)—Eight men (and less than one woman) out of every hundred are color deficient and may have difficulty telling red from green. Unless their eyes are tested, they may never know they are seeing a less colorful world, according to reports in "The Little Seeing Book," published by the makers of Visine.

The scientist John Dalton, who gave his name to this condition—Daltonism—did not know that he was color deficient until, at the age of 10, he discovered that other children could pick cherries faster than he could because to them the cherries and the leaves were not the same color.

Mrs. William Moschetti Leads Strawberry Guild

Mrs. William Moschetti, who has been a member of Strawberry Guild No. 1 of Sunny Hills for 10 years, was elected president recently. Mrs. Moschetti has served as secretary and treasurer for the guild.

Plans for the benefit dinner to be given June 3 at the Outdoor Art Club, Mill Valley, are occupying the members this spring. All of their activities assist in the support of Sunny Hills Home for Children.

Bette Moschetti is the wife of William Moschetti who works for a commercial refrigeration firm. They have lived in Marin for 16 years, and their daughters are Marcy, 16, and Janis, 12.

Bette attended business college in Fort Wayne, Ind., her favorite pastimes are playing bridge, reading and outdoor activities.

New board members are Mesdames Peter Davis, vice president; Douglas Vaughn, treasurer; Leon Willat, secretary; Thomas Peery and Meyer Rabin, Grape Festival; George Fay, Bargain Box; Erland Koski, hospitality; Jack Glasner and William Praun, social; Robert McAllen, welcome party; Arnold H. Deckman, publicity.

Lots Of Lettuce In Markets From Imperial, Yuma Valleys

NEW YORK (AP)—Let them eat lettuce.

Lots of it.

That is the plea of farmers in California's Imperial Valley and Arizona's adjoining Yuma Valley.

The weather has been ideal, the crop excellent, and green leaves are piling up in supermarkets at low prices.

It is good news for everyone but the farmer, and points up one of the problems of food prices.

The 800 lettuce growers in the Imperial Valley may lose $21 million on the crop, estimates the Western Growers Association in Los Angeles.

Lettuce currently is selling for about 4 cents a head or $1 a carton harvested, trimmed, packed and delivered to shipping points. The association estimates growers must make $1.75 just to break even.

More than 1,000 acres have been abandoned without a head being cut.

"It is time the housewife was told bluntly that she can't expect food to be cheap while the cost of raising, processing and selling it keeps going up," said Robert L. Gibson, president of the California Canners and Growers.

"I have yet to see a consumers' picket line in front of an automobile dealership or a clothing store or a ski lift."

The militant national farmers organization is trying to bring meat and milk supplies more closely into balance with demand, urging members to sell bred cows and sows.

If it works, the number of calves and pigs this spring may be cut sharply enough to raise meat prices this fall. Milk supplies also may be withheld in the months ahead.

Town & Country Village

The Village Easter Bunny would put Harvey to shame. This big, beautiful (mechanical) bunny is ten feet tall and will appear in The Village on March 11th, 18th and 25th. The Bunny's Easter Basket will be filled with treats and prizes for children accompanied by an adult.

FU'S ART STUDIO

Madeleine and Paul Fu are the talented owners of FU'S ART STUDIO. Both are gifted artists and share their talents by offering classes in Chinese Traditional Brush Painting. We have admired their students' paintings and find it hard to believe many are first-time efforts. FU'S ART STUDIO carries an excellent selection of art supplies including all the components for mosaics . . . (if you've always wanted to try this creative "outlet," you'll find advice and inspiration at FU'S.) Expert framing done here by artists who know just how a painting should look. By the way, we have found all the prices at FU'S ART STUDIO are very realistic.

Any Easter table will glow beautifully with the special candles we spotted at FIESTA CANDLE SHOP. These are shaped as traditional Easter Eggs . . . in pretty colors with lovely decorations. Two sizes available . . . $1.50 and $2.50. Many more exciting springtime table inspirations at FIESTA CANDLE SHOP . . . in both candles and accessories.

We understand that many smallish groups and organizations are discovering the banquet facilities at KUBLAI KHAN. This attractive restaurant makes a point of accommodating the small banquet by providing just the space they require, so they don't feel "lost" in a huge banquet hall. KUBLAI KHAN'S menu includes Chinese, Polynesian and American cuisine . . . a variety bound to please every member of your group. This banquet fare is not only palate pleasing but wallet pleasing also, as their prices are most reasonable.

HAPPY HOUSE

These first few weekends that tease us with spring weather, always start us thinking about outdoor cooking which, in turn, starts us in the direction of HAPPY HOUSE. Checked out the Barbecue Dept. here last week and found lots of new things. They have a great collection of long-handled BBQ tools for turning, basting, etc. . . . even for seasoning. The latter item is a tricky salt and pepper shaker on the end of a long handle. HAPPY HOUSE carries sets of mitts, aprons and chef's hats . . . also asbestos mitts. BBQ skewers here too . . . from the short, cocktail hibachi size to a hold-a-complete-dinner length.

Mr. & Mrs. Louis Reimers of L'ENTREE are enjoying a well-deserved vacation. L'ENTREE will re-open on March 28th, but in the meantime you can still phone for catering bookings . . . 383-1323.

Ladybug, Ladybug, fly away . . . next door and take the Villagers with you. That's just what is happening as the DAISYBUG plans to open next week, adjoining The Little Daisy. The DAISYBUG is a perfect name for this new shop which will carry Villager and Ladybug labels exclusively. These are superb suburban fashions especially appropriate for our Marin living.

If you claim a "black thumb" when it comes to gardening (welcome to the club) then we recommend "Sunset Western Garden Book" at CAPRICORN BOOKS. The "green thumb gang" appreciates this just-revised book too, since it is the best of its kind for this geographical area. (You may be mildly interested in what grows well in New England but, as CAPRICORN BOOKS points out, that information does little for the looks of your Northern California garden.)

ALBERTA OF MARIN tells us so many of you paid attention to our items about her sale flowers that she has reordered and this swinging spring sale will continue. These special prices of 10, 19 and 29c are remarkable values on quality, imported (and artfully artificial) flowers. Do see the charming Easter "eggs" in ALBERTA'S window . . . these elegant "eggs" are being created in ALBERTA'S Easter classes.

MEMO: To The Easter Bunny . . . if you've been fretting over an appropriate Easter Basket for furry friends, fret no more! MUTTS OF MARIN has filled traditional Easter Baskets with toys and goodies for the family pet to discover on Easter Morn.

We were flabbergasted by the new, spacious look of The LITTLE DAISY. They have really expanded and will be carrying larger selections of "old favorites," as well as a number of new lines. As a "for instance," the famed Vera label will be represented in dresses, tops, pants, scarves and accessories. Do make a point to drop in at The LITTLE DAISY, we feel certain you will be as pleased as we are.

Delightfully daffy daffodils blooming from half of a real egg shell at ROJEAN'S CARD & PARTY-SHOP. These would make enchanting decorations for your Easter table. Lovely Easter cards at ROJEAN'S too, as well as many appropriate (and very pretty) Easter decorations.

If you too have had problems coinciding business or school hours with optometrist appointments, read on. DR. JOSEPH POMPURA, OPTOMETRIST is in his Village office from 10 to 6 weekdays (except Wed. is by appointment only). Excellent eye care and thoughtful office hours.

The famous Dansk line is well represented at deBEAU'S INTERNATIONALE, LTD. These handsome designs appear in table china, casseroles, wooden ware, salt and peppers and candle holders. The latter are designed with subtle simplicity and deBEAU'S carries the equally good-looking Dansk candles for the holders.

This you gotta see . . . the new culotte pajamas at THE HOUR GLASS. Of 100% drip-dry cotton in pastel watercolor print, they are styled with a low back with built-in sash that criss-crosses and ties in front, and are comfortably sleeveless. In the same "hanky-sheer" cotton, THE HOUR GLASS showed us a short gown and peignoir set . . . white background, sprinkled with green polka dots. This sleeveless set would be perfect for travel and the Peignoir doubles fetchingly as a swim-suit cover-up.

Since there's no rule that says you must be Irish to celebrate St. Patrick's Day, here's a way for the Smiths and Joneses to get into the spirit of the occasion . . . Irish Whisky from VILLAGE LIQUORS. Their well-stocked shelves offer typical Gaelic labels such as Bushmill's, John Jameson, Murphy's, Paddy, and Galway Mist. Cheers!

We'd like to introduce you to a perfectly charming lady, who is both titled and talented . . . Contessa Angela Desideri. The handsomely carved door of her exquisite shop, CONTESSA ANGELA OF ROMA, opens onto the world of haute couture. (Now, just a darned minute, Mabel . . . come back here! Don't be timid and let the thought of custom designed clothes terrify you and/or your wallet.) The Contessa has any number of things that are most reasonably priced . . . including boutique items for both men and women. If, perchance, you have some fitting problem that makes ready-to-wear shopping a maddening experience, then CONTESSA ANGELA OF ROMA is for you. We have watched in open-mouthed fascination as Contessa Angela "whipped up" a little afternoon frock that conformed absolutely to the buyer's measurements . . . not to what someone else thought they should be. Of course, you can spend fabulous amounts of money on custom designed clothes, but the point we'd like to make is that not all of CONTESSA ANGELA'S creations "cost the world." If you have not visited this shop, you are missing a unique shopping experience.

TEETH MARKS IN YOUR WALLET?

If the family wallet is suffering seasonal teeth marks from the Old Tax Bite, you'll be glad to hear you can still afford to take all the exemptions out for dinner at The HICK'RY PIT. This moderately priced family restaurant features year-round "deductions" that taste just as good as their prices look. The HICK'RY PIT offers a varied menu, excellent service and attractive, informal surroundings . . . other than a tax refund, what more could you ask for?

Fire Extinguishers Stolen From Center

Theft of two chrome plated fire extinguishers worth $70 from Mill Valley Community and Youth Center was reported yesterday to police by Don Dimitrakos, parks and recreation director.

Mrs. Wesley Smith, 4 Plymouth Circle, reported a tent was set up in her back yard, and tools inside it, were stolen.

Mrs. Albert E. White, 465 Throckmorton Avenue, told police yesterday that the red velvet curtain at the municipal golf clubhouse was torn beyond repair. The curtain was part of the equipment of the Center for the Performing Arts.

Open Primary Bill Planned

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill to establish open presidential primaries in California — patterned after the "Oregon Plan" —will be introduced in the Senate by Sen. Alfred E. Alquist, D-San Jose.

The bill would require the Secretary of State to list the prominently mentioned presidential candidates of both parties on the June primary ballot.

Listed persons, by stating they are not candidates, may have their names removed on request, Alquist said yesterday. This is the practice in the State of Oregon.

Auditorium To Be Dedicated Tonight

A short dedication ceremony of the renovated San Rafael High School auditorium will be held tonight immediately before the 8:15 opening curtain of "Annie Get Your Gun," first production since the renovation.

Herman L. Childress of the San Rafael Board of Education will speak briefly in formally dedicating the auditorium. Students Kathy Fox and Peter Buckley, who star in the musical production, will tell the audience about improvements and changes made in the auditorium.

"Annie Get Your Gun" will be seen at 8:15 p.m. today, tomorrow, next Thursday and March 17.

Strawberry Recreation District has Clarence Bush as chairman.

Young Cuban Refugee Earns A Scholarship

WILLIAM SABATES
Scholar, athlete

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Back in 1960 a Cuban mother and father put William Sabates and his younger brother and two sisters on an airplane for the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Guillermo Sabates didn't want the children to grow up under the Fidel Castro regime. Three years later the parents fled Cuba and joined the children in Charlotte.

This week the 99 Morehead scholarship winners were announced and one of them was William Sabates.

His A-minus average for four years had been rewarded with a $7,000 scholarship for four years' study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

An athlete as well as top student, Sabates, 17, has played football, basketball and baseball and is on the track team at Charlotte's Catholic High.

Which sports will he play at North Carolina?

"I want to study," he says. "Studies come first. I'll go out for baseball if I have time. I may try baskttball."

His studies will be premedical, with a major in biology.

"I want to be an ophthalmologist and I hope to do well enough to earn some graduate help," Sabates said.

Recently he watched an operation at a Charlotte hospital because "I wanted to be sure that's what I wanted to be," the dark-haired boy said. "Now I'm sure."

The faculty at Catholic High is almost as elated as Sabates about the Morehead scholarship. It's the first for the school.

Greeks and Romans usually served eggs at the beginning of the meal, whence came the origin of the Latin saying, "from eggs to apples."

Panel On Birth Control Slated

The Planned Parenthood Association of Marin will sponsor a discussion of birth control, at 8 p.m. April 3 in the San Marin Club, Novato.

Speaking on the topic "Standing Room Only — An Avoidable Problem" will be Dr. Philip Hicks, a psychiatrist and director of the Family Rehabilitation Center of Marin County; Dr. William Langford, vice president of the Association, and Rev. John Riley of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, San Rafael.

Office Help Trained

A federally financed 30-week office training course at the College of Marin ended today and the 17 graduates will be available for office jobs through the State Department of Employment office in San Rafael starting Monday.

Study Center Provides Valuable Aid To Youth

The Marin Study Center, a program under which some 300 volunteers tutor elementary school children in Southern Marin, will be able to limp along through June, despite termination of federal aid last month.

The Center's Advisory Committee, headed by Mrs. John W. Binckley, launched a fund-raising campaign in January and succeeded in saving the program to the end of this school year.

Committee members are now contacting various foundations and other sources of funds so that the four-year-old-project can continue beyond June. We hope they make it.

The Marin Study Center is based largely on self-help. Bulk of the work is done by volunteers, mostly high school and college students with a smattering of adults. Some 300 of these dedicated individuals play the big brother and sister role to elementary school youngsters who need help in school work or encouragement to overcome their problems and frustrations.

Aside from a small paid staff to coordinate the project, the entire program depends on volunteers.

Volunteer student tutors, who could be engaged in more traditional teenage activities like beach parties or snow trips, are devoting their time to helping their juniors.

Student tutors come from at least six different Marin County high schools, and from the College of Marin. A special group of San Francisco State students tutor as part of their formal teacher training.

Warm friendships and racial understanding are developed in the tutor-student relationship on a one-to-one basis. Benefits of the program go far beyond the main objective of helping youngsters in their academic achievements.

The Center operates with minimum drain on the public's pocketbook. We hope that with private and public support, the study center will survive beyond June.

The Daphne Spreads Its Blossoming Time

We have noticed it other years without realizing it. This year, however, we had it called to our attention that a daphne plant opens its buds in rather an unusual fashion. Some clusters of buds remain tightly closed, while others are opening and fading. Then they open, too.

This is why those lucky enough to have these plants in their garden can usually count on a month of one of Marin's enticing fragrances from their tiny, waxen, cream and lavender flowers.

ZOO KEEPER JOGS HIPPO'S MEMORY

A hippo's memory of an old circus trick saved the life of an attendant in a Coventry, England, zoo.

The hippopotamus, enraged with a toothache, seized a 17-year-old keeper in its mouth and dived to the bottom of a 20-foot pool.

The head keeper, remembering a command from the hippo's circus act, rushed to the pool and shouted "Harry, open, open!" when the animal surfaced.

The two-ton beast dropped the young man from its jaws. The teen-ager was suffering from internal injuries, but alive.

The impressions made on the brain, even of a primitive animal, are seldom completely forgotten. They can often be called forth with remarkable swiftness at unexpected moments.

Man, with his vastly superior sensitivity and retentiveness, has a unique responsibility before God and his fellow man to fill his mind with worthwhile thoughts and intentions. Then it is up to him to translate noble ideas into practical action.

"Whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure . . . think about these things." (Philippians 4:8)

Let me be ever alert, O Lord, to any knowledge that will enable me to serve You better.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

One Unnamed Senator Feels State Leaning To Socialism

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The annual budget analysis submitted to the state legislature by A. Alan Post, legislative analyst, reveals careful comprehensive study by Post and a competent staff of budget experts. For many years, Post has been analyzing proposed expenditures by the state, and coming up with recommended reductions.

The fact that Post's recommendations for reductions this year fell far short of those proposed by Gov. Ronald Reagan is not a matter about which to get excited, for the proposals were made on a different basis entirely.

The Post analysis came up with reductions of around $90 million, but on the other hand, he suggested augmentations of $60 million, making a total net reduction of $30 million.

REAGAN'S BUDGET called for a straight 10 per cent reduction, across the boards, for all government agencies.

In comparing the two proposals, the fact must be recognized that not only were they made on a different basis, but also that the motivations for the decreases are different.

Post's staff analyzes state expenditures almost item by item, recommending increases, decreases, eliminations or no changes as it believes is in accord with good government practices. And it does an excellent job in performing this work.

IN CONTRAST, Reagan believes state expenditures can be cut 10 per cent without damaging either the quantity or quality of state services.

It so happens that both methods are entirely feasible, and a combination of the two, if allowed by the legislature, no doubt would result in material benefits to the taxpayer.

Governor Reagan and Post may differ both as to how to cut state spending and as to how much, but neither can be criticized insofar as the ultimate objective is concerned —making the costs of state government less onerous on the people of California.

Neither Post nor the Governor has the final answer. This lies with the California legislature, which soon must determine the exact amount of proposed expenditure for the fiscal year 1967-68.

And whatever determination is made, it is a known fact, both from Post and Reagan, that taxes must be increased to meet the proposed expenditures, whatever they are.

THE ONLY LOSERS in this game of whether to spend a dollar or 90 cents, will be the people who pay the tax bills. And even if the 90 cent advocates come out on top, the taxpayers still will be losers.

As Post suggests, revisions of present laws regrading state services are necessary for curtailment, and as Reagan suggests, curtailments are necessary within the present structure. Both have the interests of the taxpayer in mind.

Beetles Are Targets For His Brickbats

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Would somebody in Sacramento please make a law outlawing Volkswagons from the road? On any given day (Monday-Friday), you can see Volkswagons holding up traffic in either the fast or the middle lane and they never pull over.

Also, would somebody please tell me why people who own VW's put the American Flag on their radio antennas to show what good American citizens they are?

Republican Writes Of Indians, Rights

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As liaison agent between Marin County Republicans and the Yurok Indians I wish to thank you and Paul Miller for the fine cartoon March 1.

We didn't take up the Indian cause for grandstanding purposes, as witness the time and effort we have put into it, while your paper is practically the only one ever to make mention of the fact. A little recognition does feel good, however, and we are grateful.

Not large enough to be a catered-to voting block, Indian people have been victims of the most callous disregard by political administrations in Sacramento and Washington, which suffered sprained arms from self-back-patting for other so-called "civil rights" reasons. Pat Brown's Fish and Game Commission arrested Indian fishermen and confiscated their nets and equipment in spite of U. S. Public Law 280, expressly giving them rights to do what they were doing — as the state's courts could not but recognize, though not until the Indians had suffered great hardship and expense. This was not mere disregard but outright persecution.

Then we have former Senate Floor Leader Hubert Humphrey throwing out minimum Indian provisions from the Kennedy Civil Rights Bill with the outlandish and outrageous pronoucement that Indian rights were "not germane to the matter of Civil Rights."

The Yurok Indians, California's leading tribe in both numbers and development, enthusiastically support Ronald Reagan, who gave them more assistance before he ever got into public office than Pat Brown did in eight official years. In fact, you could throw in Johnson and Kennedy too. They also support Don Clausen, the first congressman ever to take action in their behalf.

Once again, our sincerest thanks.

Unemployed Still Paying Full Tax

Editor, Independent-Journal:

After trying to write a letter comprehensible to W. P. Campana who has mastered the difficult problem of passing a Civil Service "exam" —

I was a great deal relieved to find a letter by C. C. Vargas Jr. of Belvedere and Norah Alford of San Rafael in last night's (March 1) Independent-Journal, both of whom express my feelings better than I can write . . .

Now I am not complaining about my own lot in life, but as W. P. Capana states, things are not so rosy for state employees — having only 8 to 11 paid holidays a year — (among other gripes).

Now if W. P. C. realized that the tax paying carpenter and others in affilliated industries were paying for state employees holidays off with pay— and if W. P. C. realized these carpenters and others are required to take these holidays off without pay!. These tax paying tradesmen have been out of work for several months — taxes have not decreased though. The unemployed are still paying a full tax!

W. P. Campana does not have unemployment insurance — how much unemployment has W. P. C. had?

Perhaps W. P. Campana thinks things are not so rosy — but if he will look towards the East — to Berkely campus and the students — then perhaps he will see a rosy glow — more likely a definite red! emanating from those so thoroughly indoctrinated in Communist ways that perhaps schools patterened after those in Russia and Communist China would be much to their liking. I prefer to believe that the majority of young folk at Berkeley are there to receive an education — to become worthy of the trust we place in those who are chosen to lead us in the future. Not those who are indoctrinated by a Communist minority who expound on the campus!

Let Students Obtain Loans For Tuition

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re: Editorial Feb. 22 on college tuition. It has been shown that a college degree is worth $250,000 extra in a graduate's working life. Isn't it fair to assume that a student should be willing to invest in his own future? Every high school graduate that qualifies should have the opportunity for a college degree and those that can not afford it should be given a loan to see them through and be repayable after graduation . . .

Our trouble is the cost of operations and the expenditures in non-essential buildings as well as the memorials these architects build for themselves. There should be one standard type of building, varying only with terrain.

As a point of information, when these learned professors take time off from their classes to picket, strike, march and incite rebellion to these students, are their salaries deducted for the time they take off? . . .

"Apathy" Aptheker, an admitted Communist Party member and student quotes, "This nation's future rests upon the young people of today." My dear "Apathy," so it has been for thousands of years, the old die off and the young take over. Where would you be if your parents and grand-parents and on down the line hadn't taken over. Where would you be if we had not backed the war efforts of previous years. We would have the Chinese, Russians and all of your communistic countries running rampant over our shores . . . I thank God for the privilege of serving my country in World War II and my only regret is that I am too old to serve them again. You see, "Apathy" your future and that of millions of other young people like you rested on the young people of yesterday, the old of today. . . . Consider it a privilege that you have attained your senior status at the expense of myself and millions like me . . .

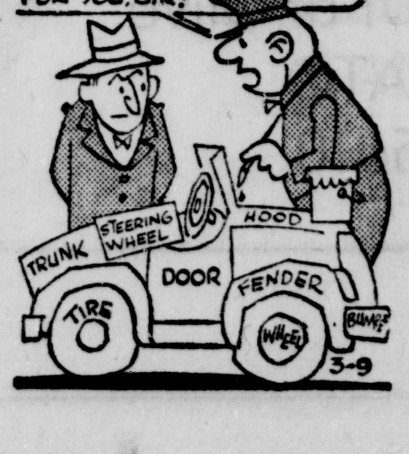
TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

JOHN PEARSON has written a biography of Ian Fleming in which he somewhat denigrates the "expertise" that is a hallmark of the Bond extravaganzas. "It is hard to think of a single subject on which Fleming was a genuine expert," pooh-poohs Mr. Pearson. "His knowledge of fine food was erratic, of wine almost nonexistent. He was a fine driver —but he relied on the advice of others for the detailed facets of automobile technology in his books. It was the same with weaponry, high finance, gambling, even the secret service."



How disillusioning! Will dyed-in-the-wool Bond fans stand for this blasphemy?

A PENURIOUS lady asked a fancy medico to whom she had been recommended, "What did you charge the last patient you had in this office?" "Twelve hundred dollars," he replied. "Gracious!" she gasped. "What did he have?" "Twelve hundred dollars," said the medico.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Ever-Greater Federal Takeover Meets More Doubts In Congress

WASHINGTON — Congress and the country are getting disillusioned with the idea that the best solution to every problem is more Federal money and another Federal agency.

It is most striking that whenever Congress takes the initiative, it looks for ways to cut back the federal role while the White House continues to shower Congress with more let-Washington-do-it proposals.

The Johnson Administration has apparently not yet read the election returns, nor the opinion polls, and has not realistically sounded sentiment in Congress. If the President doesn't respond to the mounting demand to return, in some degree, money and initiative to state and local governments, he will be nourishing bigger political reverses than he encountered last fall.

IT SEEMS TO ME that both fact and voter opinion support Congress in its demand for a new approach.

Some big Federal programs, like urban renewal and public housing, are failing so badly that it is obvious to everybody.

While most Americans, as recently as eight years ago, viewed big labor as a peril, today most Americans see big government as one of the most undesirable trends in public life.

Simultaneously, according to the Gallup Poll, many more voters feel that state and local governments spend tax money more wisely than the Federal Government.

SOMETHING HAS GOT to give and if the Administration does not look in new directions for better answers, Congress is going to.

Criticism of the let-Washington-do-it-all programs comes from Republicans and Democrats alike.

Gov. George Romney holds that the Administration is failing to solve the problem of the cities because "it is relying primarily on Federal money, Federal power, and Federal control and that approach won't work."

Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., holds that:

"WE HAVE reached a new stage in America where we have to take a new approach to the problem of the cities. The Great Society is at an end of an era. We are now ready to enter a new era."

Senator Ribicoff has valid credentials. He is not at all hostile to the President but was the guiding hand behind Senate hearings which brought many Federal programs into question.

Ribicoff, while not proposing that present programs be precipitately cut back, is clearly moving in the direction of wanting to utilize the private economy more effectively and to enlarge the role of state and local governments.

HE SUGGESTS we ought to "phase out public housing and go into ownership housing."

He aims to create "neighborhood agencies" to make many of the decisions now made in Washington.

He is convinced that with government guarantees of cheap credit, "private industry can build cheaper and better than any non-profit organization."

He opposes all talk about a guaranteed income for everybody on the ground that "what people most want are jobs and self-respect, not hand-outs." He would make the government "the employer of last resort" when the private economy is not providing enough jobs.

OBVIOUSLY there will be no instant and large reduction of the pervasive reliance on Federal power. The cut-back will be slow, but opinion and pressure are moving things in that direction.

Even a Great Society liberal like Vice President Humphrey shows he feels that the Federal Government can get too big when he says, "It is just as wrong for the Federal Government to attempt to do too much as to do too little."

Wallace To Test Strength In Ohio

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — With his sights set on the 1968 presidential race, former Alabama Gov. George Wallace has picked Ohio to launch his budding political ambitions north of the Mason-Dixon Line.

Supporters, meeting here in private to discuss national strategy, report planning is well advanced in that northern industrial state for the creation of a third party — the George Wallace Christian Conservative party.

HEADED BY Robert Annable, a Cleveland electronics technician, the Ohio Wallace-for-President group will begin later this month to circulate petitions to obtain the 443,100 signatures necessary to put Wallace's third party on the May 7, 1968, presidential primary ballot.

Wallace, planning to begin his political stumping in the north soon, is now linking up several speaking engagements in Ohio, including Cleveland.

In this trip, Wallace will rely on mass rallies which highlighted his 1964 Democratic presidential primary campaigns, but this time will direct his appeal for support to Republicans as well as Democrats.

If the petition drive goes well in Ohio, others will be organized during the spring in New Hampshire, Pennesylvania, Maryland, Illinois, Wisconsin, Nebraska and California.

IN MARYLAND, regarded as fertile Wallace terrain because of his big vote in the 1964 presidential primary, supporters already have begun checking state law to determine legal requirements for qualifying a third party.

As part of his strategy to become a national rather than just a southern regional candidate, Wallace will soon open a "Washington office" to help coordinate the organization of his third party.

A newsletter, designed to keep Wallace-for-President groups informed of national developments, will soon be published from here or Wallace's Alabama headquarters.

WALLACE IS ALSO considering trips to South Vietnam, Korea and West Berlin to visit U.S. troops in order to prepare himself for a series of foreign policy speeches calling for tougher U.S. policies toward the Soviet Union and Communist China.

For instance, both parties are assessing the significance of the fact that the principal organizers of the Wallace-for-President group in Ohio are all former supporters of Barry Goldwater.

Political leaders of both parties are keeping a weather eye on the congressional race in Rhode Island to fill the seat made vacant by the death of Democratic Rep. John Fogarty.

IN ADDITION to being the first congressional contest since November, the special March 28 election is developing into a test of President Johnson's Vietnam policies.

Democratic candidate Robert Tiernan, Warwick attorney, is supporting the administration's Vietnam stand, while GOP challenger James DiPrete, mayor of Cranston, is following the strategy of Michigan's Governor Romney.

A third peace candidate, Rev. Albert Berry of Providence, is supporting the Vietnam stand of Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y.

Desk Cleaning Produces Some Items That Didn't Make News

Spring cleaning time around the news room, so for what it's worth, here's the gleanings of items that didn't make the news pages but I can't bear to throw away.

Item 1. Kaiser Hospitals Foundation, which took over the Terra Linda Valley Hospital, plans to expand facilities, by hook or by crook by September, even if it means putting up portable buildings.

Currently there are 20,000 Kaiser plan members resident in Marin County (membership's closed here) and most journey to San Francisco for treatment because their doctors' offices are located in the city. Terra Linda hospital administrator Norman Thompson said this is changing rapidly and sufficient doctors now belong to the Kaiser group here.

HIGH ON the priority list is an obstetrics ward — it's a long trip by freeway and across the bridge, especially if a woman living in Novato or West Marin goes into labor in the commute hour.

Item 2. Every new building seems to get wall-to-wall carpeting as standard equipment now. Ross General Hospital's smashing new intensive care unit is carpeted in nylon. So is the somewhat less smashing San Rafael city hall. I always feel nervous walking into the San Rafael police department on a rainy day. Do muddy footprints on gorgeous gold carpets constitute a misdemeanor?

INCIDENTALLY, did you know that a favorite occupation for kids in Marin's carpeted school libraries is giving each other shocks? They sit on the metal chairs, rub their feet rapidly across the nylon carpeting then touch each other quickly. The static electricity fairly leaps across.

Item 3. One of the troubles at San Quentin, albeit a minor one, is beans.

The trouble is that the prison diet is too heavy on the beans. The meat ration at state penal institutions is six ounces carcass weight per man per day. Associate warden James Park told me that beans, a low cost high protein food, substitute for meat, and appear on the menu frequently.

"There's only so many ways you can cook beans," he reflected, "and if an inmate's been here five years or more he's sampled the full range of bean recipes and then some."

WHEN MARIN County high school students visited the prison recently they all came back with the same complaint from inmates. The food. But then, it's not designed to be a five-star restaurant, is it?

Item 4. Saw a stockbroker-type methodically walking up and down Stinson Beach with a geiger counter. Am delighted to report that all he turned up were old beer cans and seaweed.

Talking of beachcombing, which is always pleasant, Agate Beach at Bolinas must have become more well-known. On weekends when the tide is out, the county parking lot, admirably maintained, is overflowing. A few weeks ago after a storm several jeeps were driven down on to the beach. A Terra Linda woman told me she was collecting seaweed for organic gardening "marvelous fertilizer", and dozens of people were gathering driftwood for firewood.

ITEM 5. SYNANON House at Marshall, the drug rehabalitation center, is operating a school for residents' children. It's terribly avant-garde, the pre-schoolers have French lessons and there are more adult helpers than the 16 pupils.

The children, said teacher Nancy Clark, are expected to become "self-actualizing". I didn't understand what that means, and after she'd explained still didn't know.

Item 6. Never thought I'd hear it, but in a San Rafael school the other day I heard the principal, no less, tell a rambunctious second - grader "Keep your mouth shut kid". Three Cheers! There's hope for us all, the self-actualizers haven't quite conquered the world.

Saturday Will Be Kite Flying Day

Saturday is kite flying day for students from Larkspur-Corte Madera School with a contest to be held at Corte Madera Town Park from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The contest is sponsored by the Larkspur-Corte Madera Parent-Teacher Association and the school student council.

Livermore Dinner

A sellout crowd of more than 350 is expected to attend a testimonial dinner tomorrow at 7 p.m. at Peacock Gap Country Club for Norman B. Livermore Jr. of San Rafael, according to Charles Michals, chairman of the sponsoring Marin County Republican Central Committee. Livermore is the new director of the State Resources Agency.

Ultra-Intellectual Fellows Pushing Us Back 700 Years

IT USED to be standard American politicking for the party out of power to portray the lamentable state of the union under the incumbents as a veritable bedlam, winding up with the phrase: "The lunatics have taken over the madhouse." The wheeze was ancient, to be sure, but we are aficionados of campaign exaggeration, and it was always good for a partisan guffaw.

But what was hyperbole is now too close to reality for comfort — and nowadays that gag won't even raise a giggle. 'Tain't funny any longer, McGee.

Not when the schizophrenics who think they are Napoleon, Alexander the Great, Plato, Freud, Mahatma Gandhi and King Canute have taken over the institution and begun to put straitjackets on the rest of us who don't qualify as "intellectuals."

NOT WHEN WE'VE had over 50,000 casualties in a war which we must fight with one hand tied behind our back; not when we are urged to cease firing at an enemy who has used every armistice not to talk peace but to rebuild his forces, while we sat by, true to our pledge to the foe but unfaithful to the men we sent to fight for us.

Not when a bunch of kids, barely out of high school, take over our state universities and would dictate the rules to the administration and the taxpayers. Not when they can lie down and sit in and otherwise demonstrate for their "rights," and a sizable group of professors, instead of enforcing discipline, can cheer them as leaders and thinkers and brag that this generation, unlike all others, is "involved."

I CAN'T HELP marveling at how fast these lads matured after getting their high school dipolmas. What is the extra-curricular courses in marijuana and LSD — frowned on by Know-Nothings, but approved by so many intellectuals — that gave them their insight and made them so much wiser than their uninvolved classmates?

And if those cheering professors of the University of California know so bloody much, why don't they tell the governor how to balance the budget? Since their salaries come out of that budget, is it not properly their concern, too? Or is Higher Education too sacred an institution for economic reality to enter?

To voice such thoughts is to be sternly reminded that you are a troglodyte who must be dragged, willing or not, into this glorious 20th century. Youth must be served, you old fuddy-duddy.

I MAY BE AN old fuddy-duddy, but this intellectual elite is not heading for the 20th Century. Rather it is pulling us back to the 13th.

There certainly hasn't been so much reverence for youth since the Children's Crusade of 1212. Then, too, there were child leaders who became "involved." A French shepherd boy felt the call to retake Jerusalem and actually persuaded thousands of youngsters, who he proused to lead dry-shod through the seas even as Moses, to follow him; and in Germany another child leader attracted 20,000 to join his crusade.

And there were intellectuals who cheered them on then ,too. Indeed, Innocent III actually wrote, "The very children put us to shame; while we sleep, they go galdly forth to conquer the Holy Land."

BUT IN THE END, the shepherd boy's army was kidnapped by slave-dealers and sold into Egypt; of the German expedition we have no trace, though Britannica says the legend of the Pied Piper of Hamelin stems from it.

I have a theory, however, that some of the latter survived, formed a colony of their own and, after years of inbreeding, eventually found their way to America, where their descendants are not known as the intellectual elite of the New Left.

They have given up the idea of recapturing Jerusalem and are concentrating instead on building a new Tower of Babel.

And the confusion of tongues, I fear, is already on us.

Group Therapy Will Battle Hermit Fears

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Formation of a sort of "alcoholics anonymous" for agoraphobics was announced this week by a group of "graduate" patients at the Behavior Therapy Institute in Sausalito.

Agoraphobia, a dread of open and public spaces, socially cripples its victims, yet often is untreated because victims and their families learn to adjust to the "inconvenience." It just isn't worth paying $25 an hour to a psychiatrist for 300 to 400 hours, they feel, to overcome their problem.

GROUP PROPOSAL

The Behavior Therapy Institute, however, claims successful treatment of agoraphobics in small groups of six to eight persons — in 20 to 30 hours.

The group probably will meet three times a week "to keep up momentum," said a successfully treated patient—once for two hours at the institute with a psychologist, once at the home of a member of the group, and once on an outing.

Because agoraphobics depend upon others to look after and serve them, the group also plans to meet once a month with spouses.

HOW IT WORKS

"We will share our achievements and failures and can talk to one another on the telephone and visit with one another," said a spokesman for the anonymous group. "If you have a nervous day at home and want help, someone will come to help you."

Agoraphobia generates other fears, such as being near strangers. Most agoraphobics are women, apparently because they have more opportunity than men to withdraw into the sanctum of their homes, the spokesmen said.

Patients organizing the group agree it is impossible for "outsiders" to understand their problem. "It came on me all of a sudden one day," explained one. "While riding a crowded bus home from work, I suddenly felt sick and almost passed out. Each day it became more terrifying for me to ride the bus.

ELEVATOR TERROR

"Then I began to have the same feeling riding the elevator up to my office — which was on the 25th floor. I had to get off every five or six floors and stand there for a few minutes before I could ride up the next couple of floors. Everything became so hard for me, and I didn't have to work, so I quit.

"Before long, I began spending all of my time inside my house — asking my children and husband to get anything for me I needed outside the house. I even gave up going to the market. I couldn't even get myself out to the end of the driveway to get the mail.

"All I could do was sit in my living room all day and brood about myself. And the prospect of a visitor gave me heart palpitations."

'LIVES AGAIN'

Now, she said, the institute has taught her "to live again."

The institute, one of a handful in the nation using behavior therapy to treat patients, opened in March. Director is Dr. David Fisher, who also serves as a research associate with the school of public health at University of California at Berkeley.

College Officials Give Pro Football Pat On Back

NEW YORK (AP) — The American and National Football Leagues received a pat on the back today after doing away with the redshirt draft which had left a number of rednecked college football coaches.

College conference commissioners throughout the country praised yesterday's announcement that the first combined player draft will be held next week and prohibits selection of athletes redshirted by colleges.

"This is not anything we specifically asked for," said Commissioner Bill Reed of the Big Ten and former chairman of the Professional Relations Committee of the NCAA, "but it is evidence of the cooperation we were led to believe we could expect from pro football."

Dr. Paul Brechler, commissioner of the Western Athletic Conference, also expressed satisfaction at the arrangement.

"It will help college football," he said, "and whatever helps college football can't help but be good for pro football, as well. I felt that this was coming and it should help solve quite a few problems for universities and university athletes."

Howard Grubbs, executive secretary of the Southwest Conference, and A.M. (Tonto) Coleman, commissioner of the Southeastern Conference, joined in the praise and Coleman explained why.

"Not only student athletes but students are taking more than four years to graduate," he said, "and I think it will be better for everybody concerned if they are permitted to finish their college careers without having to be concerned with problems that would result in their being drafted.

"Then, too, I think the pros will have a better evaluating of the athlete's ability and at the same time the athlete can better plan his future."

The previous plan allowed the pro leagues to draft redshits — the NFL in the regular draft and the AFL in a special draft — and it left college coaches angry over losing players who still had a year of eligibility remaining.

A redshirt is a player who sat out a year of football college and retained that year of eligibility after his class has graduated.

Under the adopted compromise plan, pro Commissioner Pete Rozelle said no player with collegiate eligibility remaining can be drafted until five seasons of football had elapsed since he first entered a recognized college.

Rozelle said 17 rounds of the draft would be held in New York starting Tuesday and might continue another day or two. He estimated 445 players would be chosen by the 16 NFL teams and nine AFL clubs, including 20 extra picks by New Orleans, the NFL's newest team.

If There's Derby Brawl, Watch Out For Ruken

The hardest thing for a racetracker to do is say nice things about a horse. They deal in more understatement than a British war movie. For instance, when they say a horse is a "useful" sort, this can either mean he earns more than he eats — or he has just broken every record Man O' War set. Normally, it's the former.

WHEN THEY SAY a horse is "cheap" they mean exactly that. He is not picking up the tab for his groceries. He is the equine equivalent of the check-dodger. When they say he is "an honest sort," they mean he pays his bills, i.e., he tries to win purses. Stables, you see, aren't the only things that don't try on a race track. The horse is sometimes shopping for a price, too.

THE NICEST THING anyone around the barns ever said about Ruken, the three-year-old horse, was that he was "useful." They never had to rewrite any races because he showed up, though he did win the one time the punters sent him out at 6-to-10 which is a nice habit to cultivate. His sire, a Liz Whitney-colt named Nashville, tended to pack it in after a mile-and-a-sixteenth and go looking for the nose bag.

They named Ruken after a guy who sat up all night with a foaling mare (the mare was later Ruken's dam) but the spelling got fouled up because Ruken's owner is the kind of guy who dictates letters, and if you know today's stenography, he's lucky it didn't end up "Ruben." Or, for that matter, "Elmer." It should have been "Rukin," but the horse, of course, doesn't care.

RUKEN'S OWNER, Louis Rowan, comes of a family who was building height-limit office buildings in Los Angeles in the days before many of us had even seen one. He rode No. 1 at polo, got a 5-goal rating (in the National League this would average out at about a .270 hitter) and he helped Gen. Patton write off the German army around Bastogne in World War II.

Lou Rowan had a horse a few years ago called Coursing, who left a trail of broken clocks from one end of California to the other, and they were measuring him for a statue when he broke down. Ruken, by comparison, looked like he was pulling a wagon in his works.

LOU ROWAN, casting about for something for Ruken to do between feedings, tried him on the grass once. This is akin to watching a rookie in the batting cage for a few disillusioning afternoons, and then saying, "I wonder if he can pitch?"

Ruken won easily on the grass one second off the track record, but no one threw his hat in the air, because the rest of the field seemed to think the grass was for eating. Besides, the track ran downhill which is what the rest of the country thinks ALL California tracks do. There is very little market for horses that can run only downhill. They are like batters that can hit only changeups.

WHAT LOU ROWAN liked about Ruken was not his time but his instinct for the going. He was an infighter. On the ranch, he settled the issue with every sibling colt who tried to bite him off the choice grazing.

It turned out this was a more useful talent than speed. The three-year-olds at Santa Anita this winter couldn't have been rougher if the jockeys were waving swords. The horses had all the manners of ladies at a nylon sale.

FORTUNATELY FOR MEN, horses have no taste for violence, a slight tug on the saddle cloth for most of them and they need smelling salts. But Ruken is like a fighter who fights best after his nose starts to bleed, or he goes down.

In the San Felipe he was only a nose out of the picture, although they had to take Disciplinarian off him in the stretch. In the Santa Anita Derby, he left-hooked his way to the finish line first, and now goes on to Kentucky for the big one.

I'LL SAY THIS for him: Maybe he can't win fast races, but if the field stops to fight, get the rose blanket ready for Ruken at Churchill Downs.

Top Guns To Compete

One hundred of Northern California's outstanding pistol shooters will compete Sunday in a tournament sponsored by the Tamalpais Revolver Club at the San Rafael Police Pistol Range.

TRC President Herman Bottini said the American Rifle Association-sanctioned tournament would start at 9 a.m. and continue throughout the day.

Four-man teams representing police and sheriffs departments, military units and civilian clubs will vie for medals and points toward season championships. Some of the outstanding marksmen entered, according to Bottini, are Offutt Pinion of Oakland, former Olympic champion of San Francisco, Undersheriff Sid Stinson of Marin County, Fred Markell and Jack Ahern of San Francisco and C. E. Boomhower of Sacramento.

TOURNAMENT OF CHAMPIONS

Second Year For Brown's Bucs

By GARY TISCHLER

Much has been written and said of Carl "Red" Brown, age 52, the former bar owner who did not and does not drink, ex-gas station jockey and pipe fitter, the man who, at a time of life when most men begin to count unhatched retirement checks, went to college, got a degree, became a teacher and a coach, and later, a member of the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission and Board of Education.

But not very much has been said of Carl "Red" Brown, the coach.

Brown the coach will be making his second trip to the Tournament of Champions, this time in the Oakland Arena, when he takes his Marin County Athletic League champion Drake Pirates to battle Newark in first-round play at 7:30 tonight.

"Red" Brown is no longer "Red." But his face still looks like something etched out of very rugged, sturdy rock.

In a sport that has suffered the screaming histrionics of the likes of Bones McKinney and Red Auerbach and bench theatrics on all levels of play, Brown is like the Statue of Liberty in a hurricane.

Nobody on the other side of the court has ever heard him yell. Like the indomitable Englishman who searches for a teacup on the beach at Dunkirk, Brown remained calm and 'collected during the middle of one of the more achingly pressurized games this year when the Pirates squeezed out Tamalpais, 46-45, in a seething cauldron.

"I don't think it does any good to jump up and scream," Brown said. "The boys see you do it and they'll get excited, too."

The philosophy shows in his players. The Pirates made mistakes, sometimes costly ones, but they didn't make them in bunches. They never crumbled like dry cookies or bolt under pressures.

"That's one thing about them," Brown said. "They're poised. Against Marin Catholic, when they were a point behind with seconds to go. They didn't run down there and shoot it up. They set up a play until they got the good shot. They think for themselves."

Not that Brown does not get caught up by the tempo of a game.

"I feel it inside," he said. "After that Tam game, I couldn't go to sleep. I couldn't relax for hours."

Pros Start Swinging In Citrus Open Golf

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Lionel Hebert felt so good starting defense of his Citrus Open Golf Championship today that he was almost worried sick.

Last year the 39-year-old Louisianan cracked a four-year victory drought by capturing the Citrus crown while he was feeling lousy.

"I was so sick last year that if I had been given an early starting time on the first round I wouldn't have played," the stocky veteran of 17 years as a pro said.

"I wasn't playing very good, and I had just changed clubs and didn't even know what I could do with them," Hebert recalled before going out to try to turn back the challenge of all the big names in golf except Billy Casper, who passed up the $115,000 tournament.

"I feel great this year, and I'm playing a lot better than I was in 1966 at this time," Hebert said. "I don't know what that means — because when I felt lousy I wound up pretty good last year."

Hebert had not won a title since the 1962 Memphis Open until he took the Citrus Championship last year with a 279-stroke total on the par 71 Rio Pinar course. That helped him to his best money year as a pro, although Hebert hasn't won a title since his victory here.

Hebert believes he will have to score much better this year to win, because last year he started with a 71 — five strokes off the lead — and won only when the early leaders faltered.

"I can't spot people five strokes and win very often," Hebert said.

Hebert's biggest challenge was expected to come from Doug Sanders, who apparently is off to another Florida surge.

The flamboyant Georgian won the Doral Open crown last Sunday to pick up his fourth Florida title in three years, and he likes to play in the state.

"I play well in Florida because I'm used to the grass on Florida courses," Sanders said. "And I'm still strong at this time of the year. Later in the summer I sometimes run out of steam, but I've got plenty of power now."

By winning, Sanders could join Arnold Palmer as the only double winners on the tour. Palmer has won the Los Angeles and Tucson titles this year.

All of this year's tournament winners are in the field, including Bob Goalby, Jack Nicklaus, Tom Nieporte, Julius Boros, Palmer and Sanders.

Also battling for the $23,000 jackpot that goes to the winner is Gary Player, South African veteran making his 1967 debut in this country after two triumphs at home.

Palmer was the most impressive in the pro-am, winning pro honors with a five-under-par 66 with six birdies and a bogey. Nicklaus, Frank Beard and Al Geiberger turned in 70s.

Giants' Pitching Rotation Set For Exhibition Games

PHOENIX ARIZ. (UPI)—For 10 days now the San Francisco Giants have been busy trying to work out the winter kinks, strenghten their legs and arms and regain their wind.

Today, the serious work toward rounding into shape for the 1967 National League campaign begins. While the veterans work to perfect their various skills, the rookies start the battle of survival.

There are 41 men on the roster and only 25 will make it to May 11—one month after the start of the season.

It all takes place at Papago Park, the Giants' permanent spring base in Phoenix. Until now they have been conditioning themselves at Casa Grande, the little desert sunspot about 40 miles south of here.

Tomorrow, the exhibition season gets underway at nearby Scottsdale with a game against the Chicago Cubs, led by former Giants skipper Leo Durocher. From there on there won't be a day off until the bell rings on April 11 with the exception of Good Friday, March 24.

29 GAMES

In all, the Giants will play 29 exhibition games in 30 days against the Cubs, Cleveland Indians and California Angels plus one against Santa Clara enroute home.

Bob Bolin, Joe Gibbon, Ron Herbel and Lindy McDaniel will do the pitching for the Giants tomorrow with Ray Sadecki, Art Mahaffey, Bill Henry and Frank Linzy slated for duty against the Indians at Tucson on Saturday.

The club plays its first game in Phoenix on Sunday —again against the Indians —with Gaylord Perry, Mike McCormick, Frank Kasheta and Don Larsen the pitching candidates. The game will be telecised back to San Francisco in color.

ONE STRANGER

Of the 12 pitchers working during the weekend only one is a total stranger, and that is the 27-year-old Kasheta, who was drafted out of the Boston Red Sox organization in 1963 and since has pitched at Reading, Springfield, Waterbury and Phoenix, all Giants farm clubs except Reading.

Mahaffey belongs to the St. Louis organization and is with the Giants this spring on a "look-see" basis. Art won 19 games for the Phillies only three years ago and then developed arm trouble.

McCormick, a former bonus baby with the Giants, returned to the club during the winter in a trade with Washington, while Larsen, baseball's only world series "perfect game" pitcher, is back trying to make the club after being sold to the Houston Astros in 1964. Larsen technically is on the Phoenix roster.

Pitching coach Larry Jansen is more than pleased with the condition of his pitchers to date.

"They're all ready now," said Jansen yesterday as the Giants took the day off while closing up the Casa Grande base and moving into Phoenix. "With 29 games against big league clubs, the fringe guys will eliminate themselves as we go along while the veterans will work to perfect what they already know."

JUAN STILL OUT

The Giants' only disappointment is the continued absence of star righthander Juan Marichal, who is still at home in the Dominican Republic fighting for a raise from $75,000 to $100,000. The Giants reportedly have offered the 25-game winner of 1966 a boost to $90,000.

"I'm not really worried about Juan at the moment," said Jansen, "but I will be pretty soon if he doesn't sign. I figure a pitcher needs a month to get ready, three weeks at the outside."

A year ago, Marichal didn't sign until 10 days before the start of the regular N.L. campaign and then won his first 10 starts, all route-going performances.

Junior College Playoffs Start

SANTA MARIA (UPI) — The State Junior College basketball playoffs get underway today at Allan-Hancock JC.

In a pair of afternoon games Laney College of Oakland takes on Imperial Valley and San Joaquin Delta meets Long Beach. The night pairings are City College of San Francisco vs. Riverside CC and Hancock vs. Pasadena CC.

Semi-finals in both the championship flight and the consolation round will be played Friday and the finals are set for Saturday.

'Bubbly' Flowing For 76ers

BOSTON (UPI) — Hal Greer wore an "I told you so" grin when he was carried off the court on the shoulders of his teammates.

Greer, the spunky Philadelphia guard, was glad to be resting. He had just netted a 40-foot set shot with three seconds remaining in an overtime session that beat the Boston Celtics 115-113 last night and earned the 76ers their second straight Eastern Division championship.

The veteran backcourt man, who scored a game high of 37 points, was playing on sheer guts to help nail down the title. He suffered a cramp in his right leg with about five minutes to go in regulation time and grimly held on in the extra session.

PREDICTS TITLE WIN

"I told a writer before the season started that we'd win the division title by six or seven games," Greer chortled in the dressing room as Philadelphia players passed around the champagne in celebration. "Look at us now. We're leading by eight games."

Philadelphia Coach Alex Hannum will have his 76ers practicing a lot in the coming days as the club seeks to break a Boston stranglehold on the National Basketball Association title that has brought the Celtics nine consecutive championships.

Hannum said he had played his regulars more during the season, but worked the subs well in practice sessions.

It was the regulars, naturally, who carried the ball last night to set a new club mark of 63 victories in a season and top the record of 62 previouly established by Boston.

SCORE DESPITE INJURIES

And they did it with minor injuries picked up during the battle. Bill Cunningham, who hurt an elbow during a second period fall, scored 21 points for Philadelphia, Wilt Chamberlain sustained a groin injury in a third period scramble for a loose ball, but stayed in to contribute 17 points, control the boards and pass off for scores. Wally Jones bruised his right knee in a first quarter collision with Sam Jones, but went on to tally 16 points.

It was Chamberlain, Cunningham and Greer who led a drive that made up a 15-point deficit in the third period. Greer hit on nine points early in the fourth quarter to close the gap.

Philadelphia finally edged into a 102-100 lead only to lose its chance at winning the game in regulation time when Baily Powell tipped-in the tying basket at the buzzer.

Some Doubt On Spencer Title Bout

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Willie Ketchum, San Francisco heavyweight Thad Spencer's co-manager, claimed a title fight with Cassius Clay for his boy in July at the Cow Palace today, but there was some doubt whether the fight would take place.

Ketchum joyously announced yesterday that arrangements for a Clay-Spencer fight have been completed with Cassius' manager, Herbert Muhammed.

"He (Muhammed) told me right after Clay's March 22 fight with Zora Folley in New York he would send signed contract papers to the California Boxing Commission," said Ketchum."

Standing in the way of a Spencer-Clay fight in San Francisco in July is anouncement out of Ghana that Clay will defend his title against an unnamed opponent in Accra in July.

Brannick Has Simple Formula For winning Flag: Beat Mets

HANLEY

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. — Eddie Brannick, a student of major league baseball for more than six decades, gave Herman Franks a simple formula for a 1967 Giant pennant today.

"All you have to do," Brannick told Franks, "is beat the Mets or Cubs."

The manager of the Giants smiled at the sage advice from the club's veteran secretary who will be 75 on July 22.

"YOU ARE SO right, Eddie," said Franks. "I just don't know what happens to us when we meet the Mets and Cubs."

Franks, of course, knew what happened last year but he could not bring himself to say it. No manager likes to admit his team beat itself. The Giants beat themselves in at least two games with the Mets last season and two more with the Cubs — more than enough to make them No. 2 finishers instead of pennant winners.

BRANNICK'S PENNANT formula of clobbering second division teams and breaking even with first division contenders is as old as baseball itself. Nevertheless, Brannick firmly believes it should be restated each spring.

"John McGraw," said Brannick, "never thought repetition of truisms hurt anybody. He expected his teams to wallop the second division clubs. And he wasn't interested in excuses if they didn't."

EVEN THE GREAT McGraw could not have found fault with the way the 1966 Giants manhandled the Cubs 10-1 in their first 11 games. But he undoubtedly would have been slapping stiff fines on last season's Giants for winning only two of their final seven games with the Cubs.

Right from the start last year, the Mets let the Giants know they wouldn't be patsies. Indeed, after taking the Giants to 17 innings in their first 1966 game before bowing 5-4, the Mets won six of their next eight games with the Giants.

AT THE ALL-STAR break last season, the Giants were down 3-6 to the Mets. The second half of the season gave the Giants a 6-3 edge so they finished 9-9 for the year with the Mets.

"You just can't break even with a second division club like the Mets and expect to win anything," said Brannick. "You got to clobber them."

NOBODY COULD FIND fault with that kind of logic, least of al! the Dodgers whose National League pennants of recent years were rooted in romps over the Mets. The Dodgers never have permitted the Mets the dignity of a season split.

Last season the Dodgers weren't as rough on the Mets as they usually are. However, their 12-6 season mark over them was quite adequate because of the Giant courtesy in giving the Mets a 9-9 break.

Second Straight TOC For Brown And Bucs

Brown does not teach flashy basketball. This year's team would not have run up 100 points on a fast break.

If one word sums up Brown and basketball it is defense.

"Of course, you have to score points," Brown said. "But you have to play defense."

"You don't always get boys who want to play defense," he said. "Sometimes they just don't want to and there's nothing you can do about it. But the boys this year did. They took pride in their defense, right down to the last game. They never let up."

A measure of that pride was the fact that the Pirates, with the title wrapped up in a sigh of relief earlier in the week, still played all out to down Redwood in their last game when the outcome would not have mattered.

"Defense is an individual thing," Brown said. "I like to use man-to-man but I'll use a zone if that's what's needed. Again it's a matter of pride. You tell a boy the man he's guarding is averaging 20 points a game and he holds him to 10. Now he's done something."

Although last year's title was Brown's first MCAL crown, he feels better about this year's uphill climb to first place.

"We weren't supposed to win it," he said. "Most of the coaches picked Tamalpais but I thought that we had a chance. Not at the beginning of the year, but right after we had lost to Tamalpais by two points. I knew we could do it then."

With two titles under his belt, the man who has set some tough goals for himself is close to satisfaction.

"Oh, I'd like to win the TOC," he said. "I'd give my right arm for that.

"But right now, I'm happy . . . happy as a clam."

Drake Nine Loses, 7-2

Drake's baseball team lost its second straight game, dropping a 7-1 verdict to Analy at Drake yesterday in a tilt moved up from Friday because of the Tournament of Champions.

There were a couple of bright spots in the loss. Centerfielder Bob Lopez got two of the Pirates' three hits, including a solo homer. The other Drake run also came on a homer, by sophomore second baseman Clark Jamison. Reliever Ken Kline came in to hurl three innings of one-hit shutout ball.

State Family Doubles Net Tourney Set

Belvedere Tennis Club will host the California State Family Doubles Championships starting this weekend, marking the second year the tourney has been held in Marin County.

A fine entry of 73 teams is expected. The tourney is Saturday, Sunday and the following weekend.

Last year's winners were Tom and Marlene in the husband-wife competition; Joe and Jim Woolfson, father-son; Norman and Diane Brooks, father-daughter; Margaret Wedertz and Joan Huggins in the mother-daughter action.

Besides these events, two additional events, brother-sister and grandparent-grandchild, will be held.

Nate Gets Medical Go-Ahead

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Bulwark center Nate Thurmond had medical clearance today to rejoin the San Francisco Warriors.

Thurmond suffered a broken bone in his left hand Jan. 10. Doctors removed the cast yesterday and said he could play this weekend if needed.

After removing the cast, his hand was taped and he suited up for a workout. The tape hampered his play, but team officials felt its use was a prudent move.

The Warriors return to action tomorrow night at Civic Auditorium where they will tangle with the St. Louis Hawks.

This has been a week of nothing but good news for San Francisco. Monday night the Hawks were beaten by Cincinnati, giving the Warriors the Western Division title.

'Solid' Mets Lineup Loses To Subs; Indians Blanked

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Perhaps the most solid line-up in New York Met history took the field in an intra-squad game. It lost.

The team, managed by Ken Boyer and including such veterans as Boyer, Tommy Davis and Ed Kranepool and talented youngsters such as Cleon Jones and Don Bosch, lost 5-0 yesterday to Ed Bressourd's team of substitutes.

"We're better than we looked," said Boyer, whose team was held to four hits. "They just had the pitchers."

The pitchers "they" had were the same ones Boyer had. Each of the six hurlers worked an inning for both teams in the six-inning game.

The Cleveland Indians probably wished they could have uesd pitcher Ramon Arano of the Mexico City Red Devils. They got to Arano for 12 hits last night, but he struck out 12 in beating the Indians 4-0.

Arano's brother, Wilfrido, provided the big blow, a three-run homer off Indians' rookie Gil Downs in the fourth inning. Rookie second baseman Gus Gill got three hits in three trips and Lee Maye went three-for-four.

Baltimore also played an intra-squad game, but the big news in the Orioles' camp was injuries.

In other developments:

—President Joe Cronin of the American League gave all 10 clubs in his circuit permission to use a pinch hitter twice in a game during the exhibition season. Previously, he gave permission only to the Chicago White Sox and Baltimore.

—Smoky Burgess, 40, of the Whtie Sox, who holds the major league pinch hit record of 137, and pitcher Jack Sanford, who held out for two weeks before signing for a reported $30,000, arrived at their respective camps.

—Roger Maris, the former New York Yankee slugger, singled in his first time at bat in a St. Louis intra-squad game.

Seals See 4-2 Lead Disappear In 80 Seconds

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Victoria Maple Leafs, trailing 4-2 with only 80 seconds left in the game, bounced back to an amazing 5-4 overtime decision over California last night to climb from sixth to fourth place in the Western Hockey League.

In other league games, Portland anchored a berth in the league's Patrick Cup playoffs with a 3-2 victory over San Diego and Seattle romped to a 5-2 win over Vancouver.

Veteran leftwinger Lou Jankowski pulled the Leafs out of the hole in Victoria by scoring two goals 43 seconds apart to force the game into overtime. A close-in shot by Bob Barlow at 1:49 of the extra period secured the victory. Bruce Carmichael scored the other two Victoria goals and Charlie Burns, George Swarbrick, Wayne Maxner and Forbes Kennedy tallied for the Seals.

California and Los Angeles are now tied for fifth place, one point behind Victoria.

Tourney Trivia: A Strange Couple Matched In NIT

NEW YORK (UPI)—If Southern Illinois and St. Peter's didn't exist, tde National Invitation Basketball Tournament selection committee would have had to invent them.

The two schools provide the perfect colorful backdrop for the opening of the tourney tonight—a matchup that would sound implausible if you made it up.

SIU comes in as the small college national champion that spurned a bid to the NCAA small college tourney to enter the NIT and prove it deserves major college status.

St. Peter's of Jersey City, N.J. is already a major college even though it's an 11-point underdog and nobody outside of the New York Metropolitan area ever heard of the school.

Both teams are determined to prove they're better than generally given credit for and what will actually happen when the two teams collide is the unanswered question that will draw the crowd into Madison Square Garden tonight for the opening of the 30th annual NIT.

Villanova, the third place finisher last year and runnerup in 1965, will play Marshall in the first game before SIU and St. Peter's clash. Villanova is a three-point pick.

Nebraska, the Big Eight runnerup, was the 13th team named to the field yesterday. Either North Carolina or Duke will be No. 14—depending on their finish in the Atlantic Coast Conference tourney starting tonight.

The SIU-St. Peter's game will also feature a clash of contrasting styles. SIU coach Jack Hartman played for Hank Iba and is a great believer in Iba's controlled style of play while St. Peter's coach Don Kennedy believes in the Ed Hickey brand of fast-break basketball.

The Salukis (a Saluki is a type of hunting dog) bring a 20-2 record into the NIT including victories in their last 15 games.

St. Peter's comes in with an 18-5 record although it lost its last three games of the season—blamed on a letdown after receiving the NIT bid.

Penaroya Gets Sixth Straight With Knockout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rollie Penaroya scored his sixth straight victory since coming to this country from the Philippines with a knockout over Chuey Rocha last night at Kezar Pavilion.

Rocha, originally of Mexico and now of San Jose, Calif., leaped up ready to fight after being decked at 2:06 of the second round, but referee Fred Apostoli had already gone the full count.

Rocha, who does not understand English, later said he misunderstood the count.

Penaroya weighed 118½, Rocha 118.

2,876 Score Leads ABC Tournament

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Delmore Lanes of Morrisville, Pa., compiled a three-game series of 2,876 yesterday to take first place in the regular team division of the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Delmor rolled games of 942, 1041 and 893 to outscore by eight pins the previous leaders, Clearwater Sprinklers of Boca Raton, Fla. Delmor's middle game was the best of the five-day-old tournament.

Ed Rowell, 43, a building contractor in his second ABC, set the pace with a 620 series. Dick Oliver, 33, manager of the bowling center which sponsors the team, helped the cause with 615.

Four members of the same team — Oliver, Harry Wilcox, Robert Beadle and Bob Walker — bowled with a club last year which totaled 2,911 to finish 73rd in the ABC.

Earlier in the day, Dave Odell and Charles Furrer of Chatham, N.J., collaborated for a 1,316 series and first place in regular doubles. Odell, 20, a taxi driver had 680 and Furrer, a 33-year-old sewing machine salesman, contributed 636.

The new leaders displaced Richard Garbrick and Carl Senft of York, Pa., who dropped to second place with the 1211 total they had assembled Sunday.

Limit Salmon Catches Reported By Some Party Boat Skippers

STEVENS

In order to verify the scuttlebutt that limit catches of salmon outside the Gate were the rule for Monday, I called Sid McMullin of Caruso's harbor at Sausalito and Hal Boenner of the Lee Anderson bait and tackle in Oakland. McMullin reported the rumor was true. All boats that went out came to port with limits of salmon. Part of the fleet apparently worked the water off Duxbury Reef and in the Light Ship locale. No really big salmon came in but the average per fish was higher than last week.

"I judge the average was about 10 pounds with a few of the fish in the 20 or more pounds class" said Sid, and added: "The high boat was the Sunrise which unloaded limits for its short load of seven anglers. The boat, Ma Ru, only had five rods working but took fairly quick limits."

SID McMULLIN ALSO reported some nice sturgeon were landed off Elephant Rock, but no reports of stripers.

Hal Boenner of Lee Anderson's in Oakland reported that all skippers working out of his shop had limits. "The Yvette returned to port with limits to 22 pounds at 9 a.m.; the boat Chinook had 7 limits to 18½ pounds; the Sea Horse netted 10 salmon to 22 pounds, and the Wilma H. had four limits to 17 pounds.

HAL BOENNER also reported some fairly fast success for the striper strivers casting or trolling from Ashby Avenue to and including Point Isabel. Best results were had on Rebel golden lures.

The runs of flounders and stripers on the shallows near the Pump House seems to be still on. A general slowdown on the sturgeon yield is true but a few are taken each day.

CARL BENNETT of the Rodeo Marina called Monday evening to report some fair action on stripers. Best bets — bouy 5 and bouy 8. Bass to 31 pounds were weighed in. John Algood had the 31 pounder; Nish Yamamoto and Frank Chang took limits as did Tony Centoni and Tom Yamamoto (had their limits to 25 pounds by 10 a.m.).

Some bass were taken on bullheads, some on sardines and others on grass shrimp. The party boat, Bluefish, with seven anglers, took 11 bass and six sturgeon. The boat, Pet, had four sturgeon and two bass. Anyone fishing for flounders made the grade easily.

CHUCK BENNETT of the Kiwanis Club of Southern Marin called to report some swell prizes came in from the Garcia Co. and a few genuine $40 rods by Fenwick are on the list of monthly prizes for salmon or striped bass.

Which reminds me, a salmon weighing 44 pounds was recently landed by John Stevens of Corning. Too bad John had not bought a ticket on the salmon derby. His fish would stand a very fine chance of winning one of the wonderful trips to Jamaica or Nassau.

ANYONE WHO has a ticket on either the salmon or bass derby, regardless of where the fish is caught, has a chance at one of the monthly prizes or the outstanding grand prizes. So why not send one or two bucks to Chuck Bennett and get aboard the gravy train.

Cerrudo Heads Alumni Team

Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael is one of the top members among an Alumni aggregation slated to clash with San Jose State Spartans Friday, 1:30 p.m., at San Jose Country Club.

Cerrudo, 22, a Walker Cup and World Cup selectee, was an All-American last year for the Spartans. He also sports a runner-up showing in the 1966 U.S. Amateur, played in the last Masters and has been invited back for the '67 Masters tourney.

"Mommy, is this baby going to be a boy or girl?"

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, March 9, the 68th day of 1967 with 297 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new stage. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

Italian navigator Amerigo Vespucci, after whom America was named, was born on this day in 1451.

On this day in history:

In 1832, Abraham Lincoln ran for his first political office—the Illinois legislature—and lost.

In 1862, the warships Monitor and Merrimac battled four hours off Hampton Roads, Va. The North's Monitor claimed a moral victory when the Merrimac retreated to Norfolk.

In 1947, one of the longest strikes in American history ended after 440 days when the United Automobile Workers came to terms with the Case Manufacturing Co. in Racine, Wis.

A thought for the day—American naturalist John Burroughs once said: "It is easier to believe than to deny. Our minds are naturally affirmative."

The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Opening lead — ♣ J

West led the jack of clubs, and dummy's queen lost to the ace.

GOING WELL

Declarer cashed the ace of diamonds, drew two rounds of trumps, and discarded dummy's low clubs on high diamonds.

So far, so good.

South had to ruff a club and a diamond in dummy but went wrong by ruffing the club first.

He cashed dummy's top hearts, and got back by ruffing a heart — but West discarded a diamond on this trick.

When South next led a diamond, West ruffed with the nine of spades to defeat the contract.

EARLY CLUE

The clue to the right play was in the first two tricks.

East returned the eight of clubs, showing that he didn't hold the nine.

West's opening lead of the jack of clubs showed the 10.

These plays accounted for all of the clubs.

South knew that West had started with four clubs and three trumps.

The hand could be made only if West also held two hearts and four diamonds.

Even with the ideal distribution, South could make his slam only by ruffing the losing diamond before the club.

West would follow suit on the fourth round of diamonds, and dummy would ruff.

When declarer then cashed the top hearts and ruffed a heart West could discard a club — but this would do no harm since West still had two clubs.

South would ruff his last club safely and take the last trick with his high trump, making the slam.

DAILY QUESTION

Dealer, at your left, opens with one spade and your partner bids two hearts.

The next player doubles.

You hold:

♠ 9 6 2
♥ 10 5
♦ J 9 7 4
♣ J 10 9 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Your prayers.

Your partner is probably going to take a bad loss, but there is nothing you can do about it. You have a terrible hand.

When the smoke clears, say something sympathetic to your partner.

Complaining will only make matters worse.

CABLE LAYER—The barge Pacific, its steam-driven winches operating, created cloud of spray as it laid cable between Point San Quentin and Point Molate to carry telephone messages across the bay. The three-week job has now been completed.

Bay Cable To Ease Telephone Call Flow

A construction project which will help the flow of Marin County traffic has just been completed.

In this case the traffic movement is telephone traffic.

It involves phone calls between Marin County and Richmond — under San Francisco Bay — and on to long distance circuits reaching across the nation.

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s cable barge, Pacific, laid the cable from Point San Quentin to Point Molate near Richmond. The crossing is 22,000 feet long and the cable, slightly smaller in circumference than a football and weighing 25 pounds per foot, lies on the bottom of the bay. It was placed in three sections over a three-week period.

A special radar device and plotting board were used to hold the barge on the pre-planned route during the laying project.

The cable, when it becomes operational later this spring, will carry voice communications from San Rafael to Richmond and to long-distance circuits.

The Pacific is a familiar sight on San Francisco Bay. It recently completed two years of almost constant service including the relocation of underbay cable for the Bay Area Rapid Transit District project. It now becomes a one-barge mothball "fleet" until needed again. The nine crewmen who have been manning the barge will go back to regular duties as linemen, splicers and foremen on regular Bay Area telephone crews.

Big Travel Trailer Rally Is Announced

Thousands of travel trailers, many of them passing through Marin, will converge on Sonoma County June 27 to July 4 for an international rally of the Wally Byam Caravan Club.

The club, which holds annual rallies throughout the country, will hold the eight-day meeting near the former Naval Air Station on Sebastopol Road near Santa Rosa.

Three Marin men attended a planning conference in Santa Rosa Tuesday to outline Marin facilities available for the campers: Clinton DeLap, manager of the Marin Visitors Bureau, A. L. Nieri, president of the bureau, and William L. Howell, president of the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce.

DeLap said today he is seeking a site for trailers to camp here so a sizable number could visit Marin before or after the rally.

Printing Stock Is Good Buy

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I must retire shortly and will need additional income. Eight years ago I bought 50 Donnelley and Sons at 23. These have increased through splits and stock dividends to 236 shares. The current yield is very low. Should I switch to higher income stocks and pay the capital gains tax?" A. S.

A. I congratulate you on a profitable investment. Your experience provides a very good example of the value of growth stocks on a long-term basis. Donnelley, the largest commercial printer in the U. S., is a fine company with a strong record which seems likely to continue. If your retirement is imminent, it would seem advisable to sell now and reinvest in good income stocks, such as CIT Financial and Duquesne Light.

I have never believed that the capital gains tax should deter an investor from selling when the need arises.

Q. "I'm a fairly new investor. I wanted to buy for trading profits and read and studied all I could. A broker was recommended to me. I bought a stock through him and very soon he told me to sell it at about what I paid since he was concerned about it. This happened three times in succession and I'm greatly disturbed. If I had held longer in each case I would have had a good profit. What should I do?" S. A.

A. Your problem may have arisen because of a lack of communication between you and your broker. You should tell him that you believe your account is being traded too actively and get his reaction. If you are convinced that he is advising a quick turnover through inexperience or to build up commissions, you should take your

Transmission Service Opens Place On Francisco Boulevard

Recently opened at 647 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, is AAMCO Transmission Center, first Marin facility of a large transmission service firm based in Pennsylvania.

AAMCO has dealers in all parts of the country and as of last August had about five shops in the Bay Area. The total may have gone up since then. Shops are said to be equipped to provide one-day service. James Hamra, who is in charge here, has recently returned from company headquarters where he underwent an intensive training course.

AMONG THE INITIAL VENTURES in the new Corte Madera complex of Consumers Co-op opening Thursday, March 16, on Tamal Vista Boulevard will be Gallery III.

This is not a part of the cooperative, but a separate business of Mrs. Hilda Korner and Mrs. Alice Liff, both of Mill Valley. They have leased space from the cooperative and will feature paintings, sculpture, ceramics, weaving and prints by Bay Area artists. Gallery hours will be 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Saturday.

Mrs. Korner is an interior decorator working from a studio at her home in Mill Valley and will continue this pursuit. Mrs. Liff has been painting and studying art for many years, but does not classify herself as a professional. Her husband, Dr. Elliorr Liff, is on the staff of Kaiser Hospital, San Francisco.

MIKE DEVAL, who has had Tropicana Pools in Novato for more than four years, has opened a second branch operation on Pheasant Court, Santa Rosa. Dean Burford of that city will manage it. Same Tropicana construction crew will do the work for both.

EUGENE R. SWANSON of San Rafael has been appointed Midwest area sales manager for the Matson Navigation Co. Far East freight division. He and family will return to Chicago which they left in 1964 when Swanson was transferred to San Francisco headquarters.

He will open and staff a Chicago Far East division freight office. He joined Matson in 1960.

They must hold a B average, be in the top 20 per cent of their class or be on the dean's honor list or honor roll.

PROFESSIONAL gardeners, landscapers and nurserymen will find much to interest them in the Northern California Turfgrass Council to be held at the Hall of Flowers in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, March 22 and 23. Hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days.

Latest equipment, planting materials and chemicals will be shown. "Lawn doctor" Gregg Swanson of Terra Linda, a specialist in turf aeration and fertilization, will be among the exhibitors, displaying his patented equipment.

Stocks Close Unevenly; Busy Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed irregularly higher today. Trading was active.

Speculative issues, some of them low-priced, were among the trading favorites.

Among cheaper stocks, Benguet, Atlas Corp. and A. J. Industries were heavily traded fractional gainers.

Schenley jumped 6 points and Lorillard about 4 on news they were discussing possible consolidation.

Gainers outnumbered losers but leading market averages were down slightly.

Down about a point were Anaconda and Swift.

Illinois Central and Eastern Air Lines advanced 2 or more. Up a point or so were Air Reduction, Eastman Kodak and Schering.

Pan American World Airways was heavily traded and up more than a point in further response to its plans for a stock split and higher dividend.

American Cyanamid, United Nuclear and Essex Wire also gained about a point in active dealings.

County Moves To Buy Bolinas Lagoon Shore

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission yesterday ordered that negotiations for purchase of Bolinas Lagoon shoreline be commenced.

Parks and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske told the commission that $172,000 in state bond park funds should be available in August. This with a county allocation of $10,000 would allow purchase of about 86 acres on the north side of the lagoon around to the Audubon Canyon Ranch, Joske said. He based this on appraisals recently received ranging from $1,500 to $2,500 an acre.

John Campbell of Muskrat Corp., with plans for a residential development on 15 acres of shoreline, scoffed at the figures, saying they were far too low.

Joske said application for $172,000 in federal funds will not be made for about a month, pending second appraisals, and approval cannot be expected for about eight months.

Joske had expanded the territory proposed for purchase, extending it south toward the recently donated Kent Island to include all of the 38.8-acre Francisco property and the 15.5-acre Reinhardt land on the south side of Kent Island, but he said only a portion of the Francisco land should be picked up now and the Reinhardt purchase could be delayed.

In all, Joske's map showed 173 acres for purchase, but the Finley and Ferguson lands, totaling 15 acres on the east side of the lagoon, would not be purchased at once, nor would some of the other lands along the shore immediately north of Bolinas.

Commissioners urged that no priorities be established, fearing that would hamper negotiations.

Trustees Told Of Little Bond Election Opposition

Bolinas-Stinson School District's $275,000 bond measure, to be voted upon March 21, is running into very little opposition, district trustees were told last night by Mrs. Roberta Peterson, chairman of the committee for the bond election.

Committee members are reaching voters by telephone and in a house-to-house canvass, she said, and most voters appear to favor the bond measure, designed to finance a building program to meet district needs for 10 years.

Action on a proposal from Tomales High School District that Bolinas-Stinson District join the high school district was deferred to the next meeting, March 22 at 8 p.m. in Stinson Beach School. Mrs. Jane Phillips and Mrs. Raymond Sarraille were appointed to study the proposal, reported Trustee Arthur E. Carpenter.

Board meetings will start at 8 p.m. in the future, instead of at 7:30 p.m., Carpenter said.

Trustees hired Dorothy Andrews of Inverness as part-time secretary for Principal Keith Oveson at $221 a month. She replaces Mrs. Helen Warring, who resigned because of illness.

Trustees voted unanimously to oppose Assembly Bill 272, which would dissolve school districts with fewer than 200 pupils. Bolinas-Stinson District has 149 pupils.

College Board Views Faculty Insurance

The Marin Junior College District Board last night discussed insurance and sick pay for faculty at a study session with the faculty salary committee, but no decision was reached.

Acting President Irwin P. Diamond said salary increases were not discussed at the meeting, which lasted about one hour.

$3,400 Aid Given To Victims Of Fire

Fourteen families left homeless in the Feb. 23 fire that destroyed a crowded mansion at 1364 Grand Avenue in San Rafael have received $3,400 in aid from the Red Cross, the disaster committee of the Marin County chapter announced yesterday.

The chapter also reported approximately $3,800 in aid to more than 10 Marin families suffering losses in January flooding.

$750 A Month Pension Given

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A San Francisco policeman yesterday was granted full retirement pension of $725 a month after leaving the force because his right thumb was severely slashed and is useless.

The City - County Retirement Board voted to grant the lifetime city pension to Patrolman Patrick J. Kearney, 28.

Kearney's thumb was slashed while he quelled a brawl 18 months ago.

South Italy's climate is comparable to California's.

Rec Board In Argument With Bruce Over Budget

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission yesterday decided to make an issue over budgeting procedure with county administrator Alan Bruce.

Parks and Recreation Dir. Pierre W. Joske told the commission yesterday that Bruce had refused his request that commission chairman Melton Ferris be allowed to sit in on a budget review session March 23 with Joske, Bruce and County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell.

"I don't take kindly to that sort of viewpoint," Ferris said. He was reluctant to make an issue of it, but other commissioners were not. They voted that a formal request be made for the commission chairman to attend.

Bruce said today the ordinance creating the commission and guidelines for committees and commissions do not give them control of budgets. However, he said he would not make a definite answer until he receives the formal request.

Mustang-Type Plane Sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Air Force wants aircraft designers to turn back the clock and come up with a fighter plane more like the legendary P-51 Mustang of World War II and Korea than today's supersonic jets.

Twenty-one companies were invited yesterday to submit proposals for a heavily armed, rugged propeller-driven plane for close support of ground troops in limited wars like Vietnam, where there is little or no enemy air opposition.

CITY OF SAN ANSELMO
ORDINANCE NO. 546

AN ORDINANCE ADDING A CHAPTER 4 TO TITLE 10 OF THE SAN ANSELMO MUNICIPAL CODE PROVIDING FOR A DESIGN REVIEW OF ALL IMPROVEMENTS SUBJECT TO A BUILDING PERMIT EXCEPTING SINGLE FAMILY RESIDENCES AND APPURTENANCES AND PLANNED DEVELOPMENT (P D) IMPROVEMENTS SUBJECT TO APPROVAL BY THE PLANNING COMMISSION.

The City Council of the City of San Anselmo do ordain as follows:

Section 1. There is hereby added to the Municipal Code of San Anselmo a Chapter 4 to Title 10 as follows:

Chapter 4. DESIGN REVIEW.
Article 1. Adoption of Design Review

Sec. 10-4.01. Adoption of Design Review. There is hereby adopted a plan of design review for all buildings, structures and improvements requiring a building permit in the City of San Anselmo excepting single family residences, appurtenances and improvements thereto, and certain planned development (P D) improvements by creating a Design Review Committee.

Sec. 10-4.02. Purpose. The City Council of San Anselmo hereby finds that poor or inappropriate exterior design of improvements to real property adversely affects the health, safety and welfare of the residents of this City by creating conditions which: (a) endanger the lives of persons using adjacent streets and property; (b) decrease property values in the surrounding area or the City as a whole; (c) impair the comfort and well-being of the persons using such real property; and (d) are aesthetically incompatible with adjacent real property. It is the purpose of this ordinance to minimize such adverse effects by providing for the review of the design of certain buildings and improvements hereafter constructed in this City.

Sec. 10-4.03. Membership pf Design Review Committee. The established Design Review Committee (hereinafter referred to as the "Committee") shall consist of seven members appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by the City Council. Any such committee member may be removed by a majority vote of all members of the City Council. Each such member shall be appointed for a term of four years and until his successor takes office, and may be reappointed for an additional term or terms, provided however, that (a) a member appointed to fill a vacancy caused by the death, resignation, or removal of a member shall initially be appointed to serve only during the unexpired term of the former member, and (b) the terms of three of the members first appointed shall expire on April 15, 1968, and the terms of the four other members first appointed shall expire on April 15, 1970. Each such member shall at all times during his term be a resident of, or have his principal place of business in the City of San Anselmo and each shall serve without compensation. Each such member shall be a person whom the City Council finds qualified by education, experience, or interest, to be a member of the Committee.

Sec. 10-4.04. Meetings and Organization. (a) The Committee shall meet at the City Hall at such times as it deems advisable and necessary, but not less frequently than once a month. It shall elect a chairman and such other officers as it deems advisable at its first meeting in January of each year. Four members of the Committee shall constitute a quorum and the like votes of the majority of the members present shall be necessary for the Committee to take action on any matter. All meetings shall be open to the public.

(b) The Committee shall keep minutes and records, which shall be public records, of all of its proceedings and shall, from time to time, adopt such rules as it deems advisable for the implementation of this ordinance. To the fullest extent compatible with the purpose of this ordinance, such rules shall seek to encourage creativity and variety in design, and to minimize any expense or delay necessitated by the review herein established. The City Council shall establish such policies for the augmentation of this chapter as may become necessary or desirable.

(c) The Committee is directly responsible to the City Council.

Sec. 10-4.05. Improvements Subject to Design Review. (a) The Committee shall review the design of each improvement for which a building permit, license, certificate or other approval is required, except (a) single family residences, appurtenances and accessory improvements, and additions or repairs to either; (b) additions or repairs to any existing improvement if the exterior thereof is not to be altered; (c) any addition or repair to an existing improvement if the total value of additions and repairs to such improvement does not exceed $300 in any calendar year; and (d) any improvement which is constructed in a P D District, pursuant to a variance or use permit, or is otherwise subject to Planning Commission consideration. The Committee shall, nevertheless, when requested to do so by the Planning Commission, make recommendations to that Commission regarding the design of any improvement subject to Commission consideration.

(b) The term "improvement" as used in this ordinance shall be liberally interpreted, and shall include the construction, alteration and repair of all buildings, structures and facilities permanently affixed to real property, and appurtenances thereto. No improvement subject to design review shall hereafter be constructed, located, repaired, altered or thereafter maintained except in accordance with a design approved as provided in this ordinance.

Sec. 10-4.06. Applications for Design Review. Any person or entity proposing to construct or locate in this City an improvement subject to design review hereunder shall file an application for design review with the head of the Planning Department. Each application shall be in the form, and shall include such plans, elevations and other information as the Committee shall by its rules require. No application shall be considered complete until all information required by the Committee's rules has been filed. The head of the Planning Department shall submit to the Committee all applications for design review promptly following completion thereof. If the Committee fails to take final action upon an application within 30 days after the date of its completion and filing, the application shall be deemed approved by the Committee as filed, provided, however, that the foregoing provisions of this sentence shall not apply to any optional procedure established by the Committee for the review of tentative or preliminary designs. Any time limit specified herein may be extended by written agreement between the Committee and the applicant.

Sec. 10-4.07. Review by the Committee. (a) The Committee shall review the significant elements of exterior design and arrangement set forth in each complete application filed with the head of the Planning Department, and shall approve the application if it finds that the design of the proposed improvement (1) is functionally and aesthetically compatible with the existing improvements and the natural elements in the surrounding area; (2) provides for protection against noise, odors, and other factors which may make the environment less desirable; (3) will not tend to cause the surrounding area to depreciate materially in appearance or value or otherwise discourage occupancy, investment or orderly development in such area; (4) will not create unnecessary traffic hazards due to congestion, distraction of motorists or other factors and provides for satisfactory access by emergency vehicles and personnel; and (5) will not adversely affect the health or safety of persons using the improvement or endanger property located in the surrounding area

(b) In its review the Committee shall consider size; proportion; use, type and quality of materials; architectural features and ornamentation; night lighting; color application; signs; site placement of all features; existing and proposed landscaping and topography; existing and proposed open spaces and paved areas; screening devices, and other matters and elements deemed by it to be pertinent to criteria (a) to (e) listed above.

(c) If the Committee is unable to make the finding required above, it shall take one of the following actions: (1) request further information from the applicant, upon obtaining a written stipulation waiving the 30-day approval period; (2) disapprove the application; or (3) require, as a condition of approval, such changes in the design as it determines are necessary to enable it to make the required finding. Any disapproval shall be accompanied by a statement of the Committee's reasons for such action and showing how each member present voted.

Sec. 10-4.08. Appeals and Further Review. Any person in interest may file with the City Council an appeal of any approval, disapproval or other disposition of an application for design review. Such appeal shall be filed within ten days after the date of such approval, disapproval or disposition, and the appeal shall be put on the City Council agenda for that next regular meeting which follows a lapse of ten days from filing of the appeal. The action of the City Council on any application shall be final and shall be effective on the date of the action. Any other approval, disposition, or action not appealed shall become final upon the expiration of the ten day appeal period. The City Council may, on its own motion made within the appeal period, order an appeal of any approval, disapproval or other disposition or action of the Committee.

Sec. 10-4.09. Appeal Procedure. Each appeal by a person in interest shall be made in the form prescribed by the City Council and shall be filed with the City Clerk. Each such appeal shall state the respects in which the decision appealed is contrary to the provisions hereof. The Council shall promptly consider the appeal and shall approve, modify or reverse the prior decision.

Sec. 10-4.10. Prohibitions. No building permit, license, certificate, or other approval shall be issued or given by the City or any department or employee thereof with respect to any improvement subject to design review until the design of the improvement has been approved as provided in this ordinance. No certificate of use and occupancy or similar approval shall be issued or given for any improvement subject to design review hereunder unless, and until the head of the Planning Department has certified that the improvement has been completed in accordance with the design approved pursuant to this ordinance.

Sec. 10-4.11. Nuisance. Any improvement constructed, located, repaired, altered or maintained contrary to the provisions hereof is hereby declared to be unlawful and a public nuisance.

Sec. 10-4.12. Other Duties of the Committee. The Committee shall review the design of all improvements to be constructed (1) by the City and, (2) to the extent permitted by law or by the agencies involved, by school districts and other governmental agencies. Such review shall be conducted with reference to the criteria and factors set forth in section 6 hereof and, following such review, the Committee shall submit a written report of its recommendations and comments to the body proposing to construct the improvement. The report and recommendations as to improvements to be constructed by the City of San Anselmo shall be advisory only. The Committee shall also perform such other functions as may be assigned to it by the City Council.

Sec. 10-4.13. Financial Interest of Committee Members. No member of the Committee shall participate in the review of or vote upon the design of any improvement in which he has a direct or indirect financial interest of any kind. The Mayor may appoint a temporary member to the Committee to take the place of each member so disqualified during the Committee's review of and voting upon the design in which the regular member has an interest.

Sec. 10-4.14. Other Ordinances Not Affected. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to: exempt any applicant from compliance with any requirement of any other ordinance of this City; or amend any such other ordinance.

Section 2. This ordinance shall be published once in full, within fifteen (15) days of its final passage and adoption in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper printed in the County of Marin and of general circulation in the City of San Anselmo.

The foregoing ordinance was introduced at a regular meeting of the San Anselmo City Council held on February 14, 1967, and was thereafter at a regular meeting of the City Council held on February 28, 1967, duly passed and adopted by the following vote:

Marin City Center Aide Hiring Funded

Marin County Housing Authority commissioners Tuesday night granted Marin City Community Services District $10,625 to hire a director of the district's community center.

Construction is to begin this spring, reported Donald O. Stutsman, housing authority director. The funds will pay the salary of the director until February, 1968. He will supervise construction and develop a program for the center.

Commissioners asked Stutsman to study a request by the Marin City Services District that the housing authority make up a $37,000 deficit expected in the operating budget for the center.

Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. was elected as chairman and Herman J. Hale as vice chairman of the housing authority for 1967.

The authority advanced $2,500 to Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District to cover cost of condemnation suit for sewer easement for 36-unit low-cost-housing project in Santa Venetia.

Write-off of six delinquent tenant accounts totaling $825 was approved.

Candidates' Night Slated On March 29

The event is being sponsored by the San Rafael and Terra Linda High Schools Parent-Teacher Associations. It was announced in a PTA bulletin as set for next Tuesday, but the date has been changed to March 29.

Douglas Godfrey will moderate the program, with Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Arntz, program chairmen of the San Rafael High PTA, as chairmen.

Both PTA's will hold business meetings and elect officers in other rooms of the high school at 7:30 p.m., preceding the candidates' night, announced Mrs. Bryce W. Anderson, president of the San Rafael High unit, and E. C. Brendel, Terra Linda High president.

Refreshments will be served in the school cafeteria after the meeting.

Dominican Student Sues For Injuries

Sisters of St. Dominic, Congregation of the Most Holy Name, have been sued in Marin Superior Court for $25,000 by a student at Dominican College in San Rafael for injuries allegedly suffered in a dormitory fall.

Kathleen M. Curran, 19, daughter of Mrs. Claire A. Curran of Sacramento, charges that negligent maintenance of Meadowland Dormitory at the college caused her to fall on April 4, 1966, breaking her left ankle and suffering other injuries.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Tetanus Far Easier To Avert Than It Is To Effect Cure

VAN DELLEN

Tetanus (lockjaw) is easier to prevent than to treat. Although the disease is rare in Western countries, the consequences are so dire when it does develop, that all doctors recommend prophylaxis. World War II proved tetanus toxoid an effective preventive; for the first time none of our fighting men developed the disorder.

Most children receive the toxoid along with their other vaccines early in life. Two or three injections are needed depending upon the type of serum used.

A BOOSTER dose is given one year later. Some authorities claim immunity lasts for five years; others believe it is for life.

But all agree that a booster is necessary whenever an injury is sustained. Our public health department recommends a booster dose every 5 years, as well as at the time of injury. In this way some immunity is always present.

It is calculated that one case of tetanus occurs for every 60,000 to 100,000 injuries when prophylaxis is not used.

The disease is associated with rusty nails, possibly because the "tetanus-prone wound" occurs after stepping on a nail. This is a fallacy because tetanus can result from the slightest laceration that is contaminated with the causative spores.

EVERY WOUND and scratch should be thoroughly cleansed with soap and water. The spores in soil remain viable for years and the chance of getting tetanus is greater when a farmhand is injured in a field than on a city street. Immunization early in life saves considerable anxiety, especially when booster doses are received regularly.

Tetanus organisms produce a deadly toxin that poisons the nervous system.

Prior to the discovery of toxoid, physicians used an antitoxin that neutralized the toxins. This vaccine is prepared in horse serum and allergic reactions are common.

HUMAN ANTITOXIN is now available. In addition penicillin and oxytetracycline are effective against the bacteria.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

NAIL BITER

Mrs. B. J. writes: Is there any way to stop my 3-year-old boy from biting his fingernails?

REPLY

Nail biting is a sign of internal tension, anxiety, or worry. Nagging and scolding should be avoided. Try to build up the child's self-confidence by paying him. a compliment now and then. I doubt if the child is old enough to respond to the old trick of making him take pride in the appearance of the nails.

BARBER'S ITCH

G. M. writes: Can you tell me how to get rid of barber's itch?

REPLY

Griseofulvin tablets are the best remedy. In the early stages, ointments containing aureomycin, bacitracin, or polymyxin are helpful. Keep the face clean with soap and water and through a proper diet. In addition, change the razor blade daily.

PROTRUDING ELBOW

W. A. writes: What is a sideswipe fracture?

REPLY

This is the type of fracture of the elbow sustained by those who drive with the left arm hanging out the window. It can occur also to children who lean an arm on the open window of a car or bus.

CONTACT ULCERS

M. B. writes: What is a contact ulcer of the vocal cords?

REPLY

There are two vocal cords. When ulcers develop on the edge of each cord, they are called contact ulcers because they touch each other.

Strange Qimm-El-Ummam Schools As Described By Mohammed Dui

The immense progress that American public education has made in the past few generations is brought into focus by a recently published study of the schools of a more backward country.

THE PRIVATELY published volume, called "A Case Study of a Public Education System in a Disadvantaged Society," describes the schools of Qimm-el-Ummam, an obscure and little-known trucial state on the Gulf of Oman. The author is Mohammed Dui, an American of Arabian descent who spent a year in Qimm-el-Ummam on a study project underwritten by the Flegenheimer Foundation. (There has as yet been no hint that any CIA money was involved.)

The schools of Qimm-el-Ummam, Dui reports, have never instituted a grade system. This is in part because many of them are small, one-room or two-room schools. However, the system of dividing into grades has not been introduced even in the larger schools which have many teachers.

THE CLASSES in these schools meet all together in one or a few large rooms. The master teacher (there is no principal) assigns each of his assistants to a group of pupils, who may be of various ages and learning levels. Each child is allowed to go along at his own speed.

Along with no grades, there are no report cards. Dui found that Qimm-el-Ummam educators regarded with horror the idea of evaluating a child's performance in terms of "A, B, C" or any other grading system.

AS THERE ARE no grades and no grading, there are no failures. Qimm-el-Ummam recently adopted a compulsory education law requiring each child to attend school for 12 years. At the end of the 12 years, each is given a diploma. However, he is not required to pass any examination to receive the diploma.

English is the second language in Qimm-el-Ummam, and all pupils are required to study both English and Arabic. Dui found, however, that both the Arabic and English taught are the local patois rather than the classic language. Qimm-el-Ummam education leaders insisted that it would be foolish to teach correct grammar and word use to children who are unlikely ever to hear either language spoken correctly, he reported.

READING IS taught in both languages, but as the leaders of Qimm-el-Ummam are not desirous of producing a people who will read widely and appreciate good literature, very uninteresting books are given the children who are just learning to read. Also, there is little attempt to assign books of genuine literary quality for the more advanced readers.

Dui found that some advanced mathematics and science courses are offered in the larger schools, but few of the students take them.

All children, however, are required to take various courses aimed at teaching them how to get along with others. Learning to conform is highly important in Qimm-el-Ummam, the investigator reported.

DESPITE ITS isolated position, however, Qimm-el-Ummam is beginning to feel the winds of western educational change. In the last few years—especially since the government in Abu Dabu Dhu, the capital, acquired a computer—there has been public agitation for testing.

Qimm-el-Ummam educators, though firmly against tests which might point up any shortcomings in the schools, have made a gesture toward satisfying the demand by giving all school children a series known as the Ajowa tests (so named for the neighboring sheikdom of Ajowa). In these, Dui found, the children always average higher than the norms reported for the tests. He was unable, however, to find how the norms are arrived at.

Dui found another evidence of the influence of western ideas in recent agitation by some unbelievers for laws forbidding the customary reading of the Koran in classrooms. He predicted this agitation will be successful.

ON THE WHOLE, however, reported Dui, the people of Quimm-el-Umman seem eminently satisfied with their school system, which produces no failures and calls for only such scholarship as the students undertake on their own initiative.

(Editor's note: No, Virginia, there is no Qimm-el-Ummam . . . Or is there?)

Rafferty Says Kuchel Unliked

LONG BEACH (AP)—Dr. Max Rafferty, California superintendent of public instruction, says U.S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel "is as popular with Republicans as a skunk at a picnic."

Rafferty, like Kuchel, is a Republican. However, his office as school chief is non-partisan.

He offered his appraisal of the state's senior senator yesterday in a speech before the Long Beach Council of Republican Women.

Rafferty, often mentioned as a GOP senatorial candidate next year against Kuchel, has said he will seek the office if he can be assured of a $1 million primary campaign war chest.

Mrs. Nelson Joins Betty Furness Foes

WASHINGTON (ANS) — Two Kennedy administration advisers have denounced President Johnson's appointment of television performer Betty Furness as his special assistant for consumer affairs.

Helen Nelson of Mill Valley, and Helen Canoyer of Ithica, N.Y., members of the President's Consumer Advisory Council until last June, expressed strong dissatisfaction with the president's selection of Miss Furness.

Mrs. Nelson, who was consumer adviser to former Gov. Edmund G. Brown, said in a telephone interview from Sacramento that the Furness appointment should make it clear to consumers and to consumer groups that they have failed to impress the administration with their cause and political strength.

She said that Miss Furness lacked "competence" to adequately advance consumer interests within the White House.

Mrs. Nelson quoted a telegram sent to President Johnson this week by an 8,000-member California consumer group, denouncing the appointment.

Sheep Groups Offer College Scholarship

The North Bay Wool Growers Association and the North Bay Bo-Peeps are jointly offering a $200 scholarship to high school seniors and junior college students from Marin, Napa and Sonoma counties planning to pursue careers in agriculture or home economics.

Deadline for applications at the Farm and Home Advisor's Office, Room 100-P, 2555 Mendocino Avenue, Santa Rosa, is April 1.

Two-Car 101 Crash Hurts Fairfax Woman

A Fairfax woman driver was injured yesterday at 6:30 p.m. when her car hit the center divider of Highway 101 north of Richardson Bay Bridge, then swerved into another auto, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Susan Clare Mennie, 21, of 200 Bolinas Road was treated at Marin General Hospital for a back sprain and scalp cuts. The highway patrol said her car hit that driven by Linda Louise Menke, 18, of 136 Fernwood Drive, San Rafael.

Senior Citizen Luncheon Slated

A salad luncheon for senior citizens will be given March 31 at noon at San Rafael Recreation Center.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Edna Praun of Greenbrae.

Speakers will include Andrew J. Snyder, the city's new recreation and park director, and Edward Ryken, the newly hired executive director of the Marin Senior Coordinating Council. Mrs. Margot Bull is chairman.

Mrs. Johnson Takes New Role

WASHINGTON (AP) — First to get a crack at a new swing in a large assortment of imaginatively designed playground equipment from Mexico for Washington's parks was Lenora Bridgett, 9.

Lenora got her ride yesterday with Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson doing the pushing.

Before her workout, Mrs. Johnson dedicated the equipment, a gift from Senora Gustavo Diaz Ordaz, wife of the president of Mexico.

The most common day for the celebration of Arbor Day is the last Friday in April. Most states celebrate it sometime in April or May.

Marin Rec Members Back Land Purchase For Park

The Marin County Park and Recreation Commission yesterday recommended by 5-1 vote that the county join in purchase of 18 acres in the Monte Vista tract at the entrance to Muir Woods for addition to Mount Tamalpais State Park.

The land, owned by Angelo Carrozzi, is priced at $85,000, but the Sierra Club, Tamalpais Conservation Club and federal government would contribute to the purchase. County share would be $10,625, County Parks and Recreation Dir. Pierre W. Joske reported.

Commissioner Howard Council dissented on the recommendation, noting that the closest motels for overnight visitors were a long drive from Muir Woods and the state park and that it would be beneficial to leave the land on the tax rolls.

The Board of Supervisors sometime ago proposed that the Muir Woods Overlook, owned by the county, be offered to the state in exchange for state contribution to the Carrozzi purchase. Joske said the state had refused to make the trade.

The commission voted 6-0 to recommend seeking purchase under a life estate proposal of two acres adjacent to the Muir Woods entrance that Carrozzi wants to retain for a home site.

Commissioner Lothar Salin was absent.

The Marin County Park and Recreation Commission also:
zsasuee

BOLINAS RECREATION — Learned that Joske will recommend formation of a community services district covering Bolinas and the Bolinas Mesa to provide recreation and other services.

KENT ISLAND — Named council chairman Melton Ferris and Aline McClain to a committee to study restriction of use of nature preserves under county ownership, such as the recently donated Kent Island and Tiburon Uplands.

STRAWBERRY DREDGING — Endorsed the plan to dredge the channel around the west side of the 27-acre Strawberry Tidelands, to be financed under a special zone and bond issue within the Strawberry Recreation District.

Attorney Stephen Kaufmann told the commission he must also get approval from the City of Tiburon, the Army Corps of Engineers, the Bay Conservation and Development Commission and the Mill Valley School District.

Storer Criticized In Elephant Rock Negotiations

County Park and Recreation Commissioner Gibbs H. Lawson had some harsh words yesterday for Supervisor Thomas T. Storer over the county negotiation for Elephant Rocks in northwest Marin.

Five weeks ago, rancher William D. Willimsen, who owns the property, told supervisors he did not want to sell. Supervisors then turned that matter over to Storer to see if he could negotiate with Williamsen.

Lawson told fellow commissioners yesterday Storer's efforts "had been minimal, ill timed, and seem to me to have been almost calculated to have negative results."

The commission recommended that Pierre W. Joske, parks and recreation director, resume negotiations to see whether Williamsen would be interested in selling development rights only.

Joske said he would first have to check with the anonymous donor of funds for purchase of the Rocks, to see if development rights would be in line with that party's wishes.

Couple Plans Viet Peace Role

CLAREMONT (AP) — Spiritual experiences during their ordeal on a Mexican mountain have prompted a young college couple to volunteer to aid war refugees in Vietnam.

"We feel our experience was like a hand pointing and we are going to follow its lead," said Eleanor Dart, 20, of Eugene, Ore.

She and Ogden E. Kellogg Jr., 21, of Gold Hill, Ore., were lost for two weeks on the slope of Mt. Dablo in Baja California. They were rescued by helicopter a week ago.

"I'm convinced the hand of God played a part, so is Ogden," she said yesterday. They have decided to join the American Friends Service Committee.

Youngsters Also Suffering From Migraine, Arthritis

By SCIENCE SERVICE

BOSTON—Migraine headaches and rheumatoid arthritis, popularly believed to afflict only adults, are by no means rare in children and young people.

Two separate reports in the New England Journal of Medicine warn physicians to be on the lookout for diagnoses that may be missed.

During the past 25 years many reports of electroencephalographic changes in migraine have been published, mainly by those working with adults, and this could be due in part to the false but widespread view that this form of headache is rare in childhood, a team of Johns Hopkins pediatricians points out.

Linkage of migraine with epilepsy goes back to the 19th and early 20th centuries, when the term "borderland of epilepsy" was used to include both migraine and certain types of vertigo. As late as the present time, reports have continued in this country and in Denmark to show abnormalities in electric currents set up in the cerebral cortex among children with migraine.

Industry Uses Artificial Limbs

By SCIENCE SERVICE

TORONTO, Canada — Techniques learned by medical engineers are being put to work by industry. Prosthetic techniques which enable the bioengineers to give a useful second arm to a man who'd lost one, can also give a third arm to a worker who needs one.

All the worker has to be able to do is wriggle his ears, wrinkle his nose, or otherwise be able to control face, neck or shoulder muscles.

A research project currently under way at Litton Systems here is trying to find out if people can use such otherwise idle muscles accurately enough to direct small electrical impulses which they generate through electrodes and amplifiers to operate various types of machines or equipment, without any direct assistance from their hands and arms.

Work being done has already resulted in major advances in the science of "myoelectric control" (the word is derived from the Greek "my" or myo, meaning muscle).

Since muscles give off tiny electrical pulses, the pulses can be utilized to perform useful functions. In the defense field these pulses could help give a tank commander a "third hand" or help an astronaut handle a wider array of switches than is now possible.

While the research work in myoelectrics is not new, the Canadian team's effort is unusual since it is exploring new directions.

Researchers in the U.S. and in the Soviet Union have chiefly focused on the use of myoelectric control as applied to artificial limbs; where the electrical pulses trigger motors in the artificial limbs. David Lewis and Alfred Stein, the two scientists at Litton Canada, explain that most researchers are interested primarily in the exclusive use of myoelectric power for prosthetic appliances.

The Litton researchers think that their research may well have significant results for this medical field as well.

Psychiatrists Urged To Help Avert Wars

SYDNEY, Australia (SS)—Psychiatrists were urged here to apply their talents toward lessening the danger of war.

Dr. W. E. Mickleburgh, of the South Australian Mental Health Services, called upon psychiatrists to pool their knowledge with that of other social scientists in diagnosing unhealthy social systems.

He told a meeting of the Australian and New Zealand College of Psychiatrists that man has seen 14,531 wars in 5,560 years—an average of two and a half wars per year.

Today the United States and Russia have between them an arsenal of nuclear power equal to 50,000 tons of TNT for every human being, said Dr. Mickleburgh, and military scientists are experimenting with chemical warfare, searching for ways of weakening the enemy's resistance with drugs.

Given this atmosphere, psychiatrists should be concerned that innocuous-sounding words are being used to represent mass destruction, said Dr. Mickleburgh. "Megadeath," for instance, means a million people killed. "Take out" means the total destruction of a city's people, plants, animal life and property.

FLYING WEDGE ON WATER, TOO

Canadian Geese, often seen arrowing through the skies in Vee formation, are believers in the flying wedge at swimming time, too. At Concord, Mass., a colorful mother and father goose protectively flank their paddling youngsters, in a scene photographed last summer. (AP Wirephoto)

Silas Marner Illness Found

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON—The mysterious malady that afflicted Silas Marner was probably an irresistible urge to sleep called narcolepsy, according to a Florida psychiatrist.

This would explain the apparent "fits" that took hold of the character in George Elliot's novel, required reading in high schools throughout the nation, believes Dr. Robert I. Simon of the Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami.

Until recently, scientists knew little about this affliction. But study of brain waves has revealed that the narcoleptic attack is exactly like normal sleep—and may actually be an incidence of dreaming — only it occurs at the wrong time.

People with a mild form of narcolepsy fall asleep periodically and uncontrollably during the day. Probably many automobile accidents can be attributed to the disease, since researchers now believe a large number of people may have narcolepsy and be unaware of it. Those more severely afflicted usually cannot laugh at a joke or get violently angry without collapsing to the ground.

Hallucinations, loss of muscle tone and paralysis all occur during normal dreaming. But for the narcoleptic they intrude into waking hours, possibly because of some disfunction in the sleep or dream centers of the brain.

If Silas Marner had narcolepsy, it was not the common type, however.

Eccentric Finns Keep Firm Grip On Title

HELSINKI (UPI)—The Finns have long been considered a little eccentric by their more sober Nordic neighbors and during the winter they go out of their way to prove it.

Last year it was hospital-bed pushing and a 104-day skiathon.

This year it's crawling and being buried alive.

The crawling craze began in the little western Finnish town of Rauma when one longshoreman, Venni Ojala, bet another he could make it from the harbor to the market square—a distance of about two miles—on his hands and knees.

He made it—though the sight of a grown man crawling alongside the snow-covered road raised a number of eyebrows and police were called out to arrest the alleged "drunk."

Little did Ojala know what his $30 bet had started.

His exploit was covered by the Finnish press which was looking for a little light news to liven its pages during the dreary winter.

Soon practically everyone—or so it seemed—was in on the act.

There were these highlights: Veikko Niemisto, 19, crept 3.7 miles at Jalasjarvi to crack Ojala's record. Finnish television covered his crawl.

At the same time glass worker Raimo Ahlsten, 32, crawled from work to his home in a suburb of the western Finnish city of Turku, raising the record to 8 miles.

Shortly afterward, Veikko Kemppi, 24, of Kangasniemi in eastern Finland, boosted the record to a new and so far unequaled high—14.1 miles. A snow plow cleared a few inches of fresh snow from the road for him and he covered the distance in 12 hours.

Even Gravity Not Stable Any More?

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON—Is nothing sacred? Now even gravity isn't what it used to be. At the South Pole, it seems, gravity has gone up noticeably since 1957.

Noticeably isn't saying much, however. Gravity in January 1966, was just about a hundred-thousandth of one percent (0.00001) greater at the South Pole station than it was in December 1957, according to John C. Behrendt of the U.S. Geological Survey.

The reasons, he says, are probably that the ice sheet, with the station on it, is moving downhill and to areas of higher gravity, and that the station itself, from which the measurements are made, is sinking into the ice. The closer an object gets to earth's core, the greater is the gravitational attraction on it.

The traveling ice sheet, Behrendt reported may actually have veen moving as much as 165 feet a year. Sinking alone could have produced the same apparent increase, but it would have required a drop of more than nine feet since 1957, which is probably more than 100 times as much as actually took place.

Another possibility, he said, although an unlikely one, is a thinning of the ice sheet. Again, the amount necessary for such a gravity increase, about 16 inches a year, is "not supported by direct evidence."

Unfortunately it is virtually impossible to pinpoint the station's position exactly, which make precision gravity measurements somewhat inaccurate at best. A remedy may be found in the future, when a now-proposed geodetic satellite system enables the super-accurate location of any transmitter on the ground.

Savant Studies A Windy Topic

OBERLIN (UPI)—A study of 400-year-old trombones is one of five projects to be undertaken by Oberlin College faculty members recently appointed to Research Status for 1967-68.

Thomas E. Cramer, professor of music theory and trombone in the college's Conservatory of Music, will make the study.

His purpose is three-fold: to compose an instructional book on the trombone for advance students and young professionals; to play 16th-19th Century music on museum instruments and, if feasible, to have a 16th Century trombone made to his specifications for practice purposes. His work will take him to several eastern music libraries and museums.

Science Has Neutron Gun For Research

PRINCETON, N.J. (SS) — A new scientific tool called the "Moletron," has been developed by scientists at Princeton University here. It generates beams of neutral atoms and molecules, permitting, for the first time, detailed studies of events in common gaseous reactions.

The new tool opens the way to experiments with molecular beams at energies "substantially higher than have heretofore been possible," the Princeton scientists reported in the Feb. 24 Science.

Dr. John B. Fenn is the leader of the four-man research team that found a new way of accelerating molecular beams to kinetic energies into the range of up to 10 electron volts.

Although this energy range is far below that generated in large or even small conventional atom smashers, which put out millions or billions of electron volts, the Moletron nevertheless fills a major gap in machines available to probe nuclear and molecular structure.

According to the report in Science, the accelerator uses a supersonic jet of mixed gases in a high vacuum container to generate molecular beams from one of ten electron volts: Favorable results have been obtained with 16 different molecular beams, including nitrogen, carbon dioxide, methane and sulfur dioxide.

Dr. Fenn said that the importance of the Moletron is due to the fact that it permits detailed investigation of changes in the energy, momentum and structure resulting from collision of molecules with surfaces, or with other molecules, at precisely the energy range in which many chemical reactions and particle-surface interactions occur.

TONIGHT while MARIN sleeps...

employees of Casa Marin will be busily engaged in placing 12-HOUR SALE price tags on many, many home furnishings throughout our store. Why? Because the tremendous volume of business usually anticipated at this season has not come in--to date. A lag in traffic, with its resulting loss in movement of goods, cannot be tolerated for many days.

Fresh, new merchandise arrives almost daily and with these arrivals comes the problem of locating such items in the store . . . and in the warehouse. Now, to move out some $20,000 worth of overstock in one day takes some real doing. And the only way that we know to accomplish same is with a hotter-than-hot, door-busting sale. Consequently, we are offering TOMORROW (Friday) $115,400 worth of quality home furnishings for only $87,275 . . . every single item at a substantial saving to you.

This certainly will be the BIGGEST ONE-DAY SAVINGS OPPORTUNITY OF THE YEAR. So don't be late. Casa Marin opens at 9 A.M. tomorrow morning. No matter what furnishings you need or want for your home, you'll find them . . . and at almost unbelievably low, low prices.

Remember: SALE LASTS FROM 9 A.M. to 5:30 P.M. THEN WE CLOSE OUR STORE UNTIL 7 P.M., WHEN WE REOPEN UNTIL 10 P.M. Don't miss it! Bring the entire family with you. You'll be glad you did!

Smoking Helps Germs' Work Inside Lungs

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON—Smoking cigarettes destroys the germ resistance of the air vesicles of lung tissue, thus opening the way to a wide variety of lung diseases including bronchitis and possibly emphysema, two Harvard scientists report. Their study is not necessarily related to lung cancer, however.

The effect of smoke from five unnamed brands of cigarettes in different lengths, either filtered or unfiltered, was demonstrated by inserting them in a closely fitted rubber tube attached to a syringe gauged for smoke withdrawal similar to human smokers' "draw."

The smoke was introduced into a flask containing cells from the lungs of rabbits mixed with the organism Staphylococcus albus found in boils and suppurating wounds.

The air vesicles, called "alveolar macrophages," are known to be susceptible to many environmental substances and to organisms which set the stage for infection.

THE LONG, LONESOME WAIT

Repeated in dozens of airports east of the Rockies in recent weeks has been the saga of the traveler stranded by blizzards. This unusually stark, artistic scene took place in the Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minn., airport where a young passenger stares into the snow, waiting for a plane. (UPI Telephoto)

Zoologist Thwarts Turtle Soup Lovers

CHIOGGIA, Italy (AP) — A fishing boat in this north Adriatic port brought in a rare catch indeed: A massive sea turtle weighing 409 pounds.

That would make a lot of turtle soup but a zoologist beat the cooks to it and bought the turtle for a wildlife collection.

Giant Bird Fossils Are Found

BERLIN, (GF)—Fossils of giant prehistoric birds unable to fly, but believed to have dominated the European continent 50 million years ago, have been uncovered beneath soft coal deposits in Germany.

The remains indicate the birds were up to 18 feet tall and appeared following extinction of the reptile giants, so familiar to today's visitors to natural history museums.

The existence of the large birds had been suggested by previous finds in North America and southern France, where scattered remains were found inadequate to provide fuller information about such a species.

Because of destructive acids in coal deposits where previous examples were found, learning more about the grounded birds appeared to be hopeless. The fossils in Germany were discovered in protective calcium layers below soft coal. Even examples of blood cells in the bone marrow of the birds were able to be removed by experts.

Scientists believe the species existed on a diet of small lizards and frogs and enjoyed only a brief sovreignty, measured in term of the earth's age.

It is thought the birds ultimately lost out to more versatile beasts of prey.

Unpopular Pupil Tests Begin

By ADVANCE NEWS SERVICE

WASHINGTON—Despite bitter sniping by school superintendents, a national assessment to measure how much American children know is well under way.

Pilot projects of the assessment, involving 50,000 pupils, are almost completed. The full assessment, involving 5 per cent of the nation's 9, 13 and 17-year-olds, is scheduled to begin in the fall.

But the closer to a reality the national assessment comes, the hotter the controversy it evokes. What many educators fear is that it will compare their school systems unfavorably with others or could lead to dictation of local school curricula from Washington. Its backers deny it will do either.

Just recently the assessment provoked a bitter internal debate at a meeting of the American Association of School Administrators, finally pitting the AASA membership against its own executive committee.

The AASA's members, meeting in Atlantic City, unanimously adopted a resolution reversing the executive committee's blanket opposition to the assessment.

Many of the 18,000 school superintendents at the meeting regarded the assessment as inevitable anyway. Just before the meeting opened, the Carnegie Corp. and the Ford Foundation announced they were each giving the assessment program $640,000 to carry it through 1967.

A few weeks earlier Harold Howe II, U.S. Commissioner of Education, said there was about $2 million in the federal budget for the same purpose.

It was this expansion which the AASA's executive committee feared. It sent a letter to all members urging them not to cooperate with the assessment in any fashion.

Individual members resisted this stand.

"Let's not sit back with our heads in the sand," said James Allen, New York State Commissioned of Education.

Opposition to the assessment, he added, "seems entirely in opposition to what the school leadership should be. We should seek out the truth and the better way, we should not be afraid of it."

The more conservative Edgar Fuller, executive secretary of the Council of Chief State School Officers, backed away from the AASA's initial hard line.

"Our council is split three-to-two on the assessment," he said. "Which way? That depends on whichever side you are talking to. My own opinion is that we are where we should be. There is a lot of shadow boxing and headlining of fears about this. The whole situation is a real can of worms."

A Texas superintendent commented, "We're on the short end of the totem pole on this thing. Unless we tell the public what we're doing to cooperate with the assessment, the national press will give us a real licking."

Eight members of the Harvard education faculty, AASA members all, weighed in with a statement that the AASA leaders exaggerated the potential dangers of assessment "beyond recognition" and ignored its potential benefits.

"We believe that the risks of knowing nothing are greater than the risks of knowing something," they said.

In the face of this pressure, the AASA came up with a face-saving resolution establishing a committee to study the problem. The resolution was approved without discussion.

Although it opened the door to accepting the assessment, the resolution did reaffirm the AASA's historic opposition "to any act which would in effect establish a national testing program or a national curriculum."

Supporters of the assessment say it is carefully set up in such a way that neither of these educational bugbears could result.

Commissioner Howe says in its support, "We are flying blind right now. We have no real idea of what the changes in education recently might mean in terms of what people have learned."

The assessment will measure knowledge in nine fields. The names of those tested and the names of their school systems will not be identified. The results will be broken down only by regions, size of the school system and age groups. No individual school system, or individual child, will be compared with another.

The aim of the assessment simply is to learn where the holes are in the nation's general knowledge so that federal, state and local school authorities can develop programs to fill them.

Traffic, People Are Choking Ancient Cairo

CAIRO (UPI)—City fathers of this 1,000-year-old metropolis on the Nile have launched a new year's attack on its twin 20th Century problems—too many people and too much traffic.

With more than 4.9 million people jamming its 87-square miles, Cairo carries the proud title of Africa's biggest city. But along with the problems of a community bursting at the seams, it also has one of the continent's worst traffic snarls.

Narrow streets choked with peddlers, taxis, buses, trolleycars, bicycles, donkeycars and bazaars are a tourists delight—if they're not in a hurry. But officials consider it one half of their twin headache.

Like the population rise, an average of 2.3 per cent a year, traffic volume is growing 6 per cent a year, officials report. Urgent action has been started to curb both.

Soviet and Egyptian experts are currently surveying the city seeking routes for what will be Africa's first subway transportation system. Running from north to south parallel to the Nile on the east bank, the subway will link the teeming Shubra residential district with the modern business center and the narrow streets of old Cairo to the south.

A second line running east-west under the Nile is planned for later.

The urgency of the sitatution was pointed up in a 1966 report by Japanese traffic experts. They called the city's traffic congestion "horrible" and advised monorails arching out across the desert, waterbuses on the Nile and the subway.

MODERN MESS—Ancient Cairo is suffering the Siamese-twin problems of too many people and too much traffic. The cars, buses, animals and bicycles can barely be kept moving even though policemen signal frantically from high towers overlooking intersections. (UPI Telephoto)

Campus Plans For 25,000 Population

A far-reaching academic plan for the University of California at Santa Barbara, providing for 25,000 students and several new academic units, has been approved by the Regents.

Santa Barbara Chancellor Vernon I. Cheadle presented the plan, which includes six additional schools and colleges, and two specialized research centers.

The study charts broadly UCSB growth until the year 2000 and is more precise in its specifications for the next decade.

Estimated enrollment figures indicate that the campus would reach its maximum of 25,000 students in the 1986-87 academic year. The summer quarter, scheduled to begin in 1969, would accommodate 25 per cent of the fall enrollment in the first year, expanding its program ultimately to offer instruction to 40 per cent of the fall enrollment.

Schools and colleges envisioned for the future are a School of Library and Information Sciences to admit students in 1967; a Graduate School of Administration in 1969; a School of Law and a College of Architecture and City and Regional Planning in 1970; a School of Pre-clinical Medicine in 1972; and a new undergraduate residential College of Liberal Arts, is now under study by the Academic Senate. The liberal arts college, with the recently approved College of Creative Studies, would "reinvigorate the campus' commitment to undergraduate teaching and demonstrate the practicability of small colleges on a large general campus, upon whose diverse resources they can draw while preserving their unique identities," the plan states.

Expansion of Education Abroad Centers administered by the Santa Barbara campus suggests that as many as 20 new study centers throughout the world will be started during the next nine years. These would include graduate study overseas and preparation of teachers of modern languages in elementary and secondary schools.

Stage Sound Solution May Come Soon

LOS ANGELES—The sound of music is being refined in a model worshop on the bottom floor of the UCLA physics building.

The room is the laboratory of two acoustical physicists, Drs. Vern O. Knudsen and Leo P. Delsasso, and it is filled with experimental stages and concert shells, imitation orchestras, and wiggly charts of sound waves.

The scientists are developing a technique for theaters-in-the round to meet a common acoustical failing: As the actor moves about the circular stage, the audience behind the actor's back has trouble catching his words and notes.

The solution, worked out on a scale model, is to design the architecture and loudspeaker to get the following effect:

Sound waves emitted from the stage first hit the audience in front. Then they bounce back from the overhead curved and sloping surfaces and ceiling, traveling over the actor's head to envelop the audience behind him.

Obedient Scouts Take Chief's Words

READING, England (UPI) — A scout obeys, as any good scout or scoutmaster knows. But scoutmaster Anthony Moss, 25, didn't really expect obedience when he told his troop he would give a reward to anyone who'd burn down their old scout headquarters.

Two of the boyes tried to and caused nearly $400 damage. In court, Moss pleaded guilty to a charge of counseling and commanding'' arson, and was fined $280.

HOMEWORK SOLVES A CRIME

25 Are Believed Dead In Ohio Air Collision

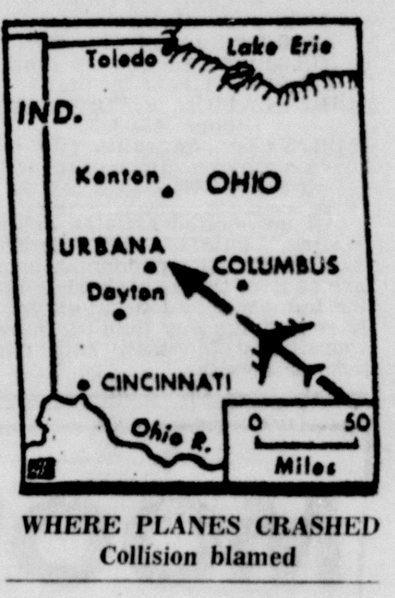
Jet Pilot Warned About Small Plane

URBANA, Ohio (UPI)—A Trans World Airlines jetliner with 25 persons aboard and a small private plane apparently collided in flight today, sending both planes crashing to earth. There were no survivors.

"We are going on the assumption it was a mid-air collision," said Joseph Blosser, a communications officer for the Ohio Highway Patrol in Columbus.

The Air Control Center at nearby Dayton—the next stop for the jetliner—reported both planes were on a collision course when the blips disappeared from its radar scope, an official said. He said the Dayton center informed the TWA plane of the collision course.

The wreckage of a twin-engine Beechcraft, believed to be from Michigan, was found about two miles from the debris of the airliner. It was not known immediately how many persons were aboard the small-er craft.



WHERE PLANES CRASHED
Collision blamed

The TWA plane had made intermediate stops at Harrisburg and Pittsburgh, and was on an approach pattern for the Dayton Airport when it went down.

The crash scene was about 50 miles south of Kenton, Ohio, where a Lake Central Airlines Convair crashed Sunday night with a loss of 38 lives. In that crash, area residents reported one or more explosions before the plane slammed into a farm field.

EXPLODED IN FLIGHT

In today's crashes, William Schetter, an Urbana fireman, said an area resident told the fire department the TWA plane eploded in flight before it struck the ground.

It came down in a wooded area near two rural roads.

(In Washington, Rep. Donald E. Lukens, R-Ohio, called for an immediate federal investigation to determine if there was any connection, sabotage or otherwise, between the TWA and Lake Central crashes.

CREW OF FOUR

The TWA plane with 21 passengers and a crew of four, was flight 553 which left LaGuardia Airport in New York at 8:50 a.m. It was scheduled to arrive at Dayton at 12:03 p.m.

A Washington spokesman for Trans World Airlines identified the four crew members as Captain Karl Kohlsaat, First Officer Donald Binder, and two stewardesses, Lynda Wilds, and C. Andrews.

U.S. CASUALTIES HEAVIEST IN WAR

1,617 Americans Reported Killed, Wounded Or Lost Last Week

SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. troops suffered their heaviest casualties of the war last week—1,617 killed, wounded or missing.

As the report was issued a Communist suicide squad using mines and satchel dynamite charges inflicted heavy casualties today on a U.S. Army platoon.

A U.S. military spokesman said the week of battling in the biggest ground operation of the war killed 232 Americans, wounded 1,381 and left 4 missing. Communist losses during the same week were 1,736 dead, a drop of 713 from the Reds record loss of 2,449 the week before.

The previous high number of American casualties was the week ending Jan. 14 when there were 1,194 killed, wounded or missing. That resulted from operation Cedar Falls, the first American division-sized offensive of the war.

The current high American losses reflected allied drives into some of the toughest Communist strongholds in South Vietnam —savage fighting by Marines just south of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and Operation Junction City near the Cambodian border, the biggest push of the year.

The brightest part of the picture was the spokesman's report that Communist troop strength in South Vietnam dropped by about 2,000 during the week to 282,000 while American strength increased by 3,000 to a new all time high of 418,000 men.

The Communists also lost on another front —1,168 defected

Podgorny Claims Mao Is Undermining Peace

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny charged today that Hanoi and Peking are split over the issues of war and peace in Vietnam.

In an attempt to split North Vietnam off from Chinese influence, Podgorny accused Mao Tse-tung of opposing Hanoi's bid for peace talks in exchange for an unconditional end to U.S. bombing of the north.

"The Mao group is against the proposal," he said. "Its intentions in connection with the war in Vietnam does not accord with the views of the government of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam."

Podgorny linked left-wing Chinese and right-wing Americans together and accused them of considering a world nuclear war to achieve their different ends.

But he warned that the Communist bloc will "retaliate" against any U.S. attempt to escalate the Vietnamese war.

"We will do our best to keep our military power at a level sufficient to crush any aggressor," Podgorny said in a speech here.

"The American ruling circles must be aware of the fact that their new steps to escalate the war in Vietnam will be faced by new retaliation by the Vietnamese people and the Socialist countries," he said.

In an apparent reference to the bombing and shelling of North Vietnam, Podgorny said, "The recent developments have again exposed the hypocrisy and falsity of American declarations about their striving for peace."

TAX RELIEF?

Auditor Says Reagan Plan To Hike Bills

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Measures in Sacramento to reduce the property tax impact will increase other state taxes so much that the net result will be a hefty increase in the tax bill, according to Marin County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell.

The auditor-controller today produced an analysis of bills introduced by Assemblyman John G. Veneman, R.-Stanislaus County, and legislation asked by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The Vietnam bill would provide property tax relief for low-income persons 65 years or older, but cost of this is only $25 million, while the additional taxes on sales, income and corporate taxes proposed in its place would be $1,165,000,000 declared Mitchell.

He said the Veneman measures would reduce property taxes by school districts by 10 per cent. The Reagan proposal calls for a 6.5 per cent reduction.

Taking some average Marin families, Mitchell said in a letter to county supervisors that a man earning $6,600 a year with a $20,000 home pay $44 more in taxes.

A man earning $10,000 with a $25,000 home would pay $179 more; one earning $15,000 with a $30,000 home would put up $365 more in taxes, and one earning $20,000 with a $40,000 home would be paying $657 more each year.

Mitchell said the bills are "political myths," and the only good thing in the Veneman bill is the reduction in property tax for the aged. This is not included in Reagan's proposal.

Ranchers Sign Preserve Pacts

Fourteen per cent of Marin County was placed in agricultural preserve by ranchers signing 10-year farm use contracts prior to the tax lien date Monday.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney reported that 77 ranchers owning 44,168 acres had signed contracts. Last year, when the agricultural preserve act was first in effect, there were 6,630 acres put under contract.

The total thus comes to 50,798 acres under contract which is slightly more than 14 per cent of the total area of the county, he said.

Urban Pressures For Parks Cited

CRESCENT CITY (UPI) — Guidelines on the controversial redwood national park in northern California were laid down today by the state's new resources administrator at the 29th annual Redwood Region Logging Conference.

Administrator Norman B. Livermore Jr. of San Rafael listed 10 guidelines which will be used in determining state policy for creation of the park.

Livermore also called on loggers to hire more Negroes in their woods operations and to make more efforts at preserving scenic beauty in the forests.

"There are hundreds of determined voters to every one of you and they will force the issue if you don't face it yourself first," Livermore told loggers.

"You simply must learn that the demands of our metropolitan neighbors are going to force us to look beyond our own timber world and to consider beauty as well as business."

Livermore had a slap on the wrist for conservationists in the park issue. He described much of their language as "inaccurate and unfair."

Emanuel Fritz, 80, professor of forestry emeritus at University of California, had harsher words.

Fritz, know as the father of redwood forestry, said the park issue "is marked by wilder statements, more slanted propaganda, more misrepresentation, more sarcasm and more literary dishonesty than any other park controversy. The American conservationist movement is falling into the hands of opportunists who make its publicity a career."

Livermore's guidelines included:

The area selected for the park must be acceptable to a substantial proportion of conservationists, both in California and throughout the nation.

The Save-the-Redwoods League should play a key role in any decision.

In counties involved, there should be no reduction in logging payrolls resulting from land acquisition.

The federal government should furnish timber land instead of cash in payment for private timber land taken for a park.

Livermore announced a meeting will be scheduled soon in Sacramento for leaders in the park issue to complete state recommendations to the federal government for park development.

Water District Land Sale Fails; Andersen Optimistic

The Marin Municipal Water District's old one-acre corporation yard at Second Street and Grand Avenue in San Rafael drew no bid yesterday when put up for public sale.

The property is not far from the city-owned eight acres which the City of San Rafael is hoping to sell to finance purchase of the courthouse square. City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen, however, today saw no threat in yesterday's poor showing to the city's hope of raising "at least $100,000 an acre" for its property.

Andersen noted that San Rafael's acreage is bordered on one side by the canal and on the other by Francisco Boulevard, extending roughly northwest from Harbor Street. "It's an entirely different type of property," he said.

Andersen said the city has received about three calls from interested buyers waiting to bid. The city manager said he expected the council to call for bids at its next meeting, March 20, or on April 3.

Meanwhile, the water district board adopted Gen. Mgr. William Seeger's recommendation to place its old yard on multiple listing with the Marin County Real Sstate Board. Its new yard is adjacent to its office in Corte Madera.

Several real estate men were present for the sale yesterday but made no offer. No written bid was received.

Unemployment Up

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's unemployment rate rose slightly to 6 per cent in February, the State Department of Employment announced today.

Senate Approves Language Policy

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California schools should be permitted to teach Mexican-American or other minority group children in their native language, the Senate has agreed unanimously.

Sen. Alan Short, D-Stockton, sponsors of the bill which passed yesterday, said the idea is that pupils would be taught in Spanish, for example, so they could master other subjects while catching up on English.

Saigon Living Expense Cuts Bring Outcries

SAIGON (AP) — American servicemen here reacted with groans, sighs and occasional screams today to the news that they're losing $21-million a year in living allowances. The guys out in the doondocks couldn't care less — they weren't getting it.

WIDE COMMENT

Short-timers whose tours in Vietnam are nearly over took it casually. Others said the Pentagon was fouled up, blind, crazy or an unprintable combination of these and other things.

The Pentagon announced yesterday that on May 1 it is ending the cost of living allowances paid to some 31,200 servicemen in the Saigon area. The allowances — ranging from $27 a month for privates to $84 for generals — were intended to help men who had to live partially on the badly inflated civilian economy.

VARIOUS STORIES

Many men drawing the allowance were actually living in military quarters and eating at military messes. But others told a different story.

"Look around this town," said one Army sergeant who didn't want his name used. "There are hundreds of guys who miss meals and have to grab taxis and pay for all kinds of things they wouldn't have to if they were working on some regular base. It'll cost me about $2 a day and I will really miss it."

Air Force Maj. Lewis Raines, with a wife and four kids in Colorado Springs, Colo., is one of those who will be hurt.

He rents a civilian house and works in a downtown Saigon building. His allowance has been $73 a month.

"It's a dirty shame," said Marine Lt. Col. James Williams of La Jolla, Calif., who also

Workers Return To G.M. Plant

MANSFIELD, Ohio (UPI)—United Auto Workers who vowed to remain off the job at the vital General Motors plant here made an about face and returned to work today.

A company spokesman said more than 900 of the 1,200-man shift had reported for work by 7:15 a.m.

Seventeen hundred members of Local 549 voted yesterday night to continue the wildcat walkout only an hour after they were ordered back to work by UAW President Walter Reuther.

Fire Probe Sketch Gets Quick Results

Two sketches that appeared in the Independent-Journal of a youth who reported the fire of a $100,000 Los Ranchitos area home, then disappeared, brought quick results yesterday.

David Lee, 19, of 435 Pinewood Drive, Marinwood, told sheriff's officers that he received about 15 telephone calls from friends soon after the paper was delivered, advising him of his likeness to the sketches.

Lee, a student at College of Marin, readily admitted that it was he who stopped at a home on Glenside Way near where the home was ablaze, told the occupant of the fire, then drove away.

Inspector A. V. Menjou of the sheriff's office, whose request led to publication of the sketches, said Lee cleared himself of any involvement in the fire, cause of which was still being investigated. Lee was just trying to be helpful, said the inspector.

The sketches, by Edward Mauberret of the sheriff's office, were drawn from descriptions furnished by persons who saw the youth stop, then drive away.

Menjou said Lee told him that he and Gayle Peterson, 20, of 27 Ranch Road, Los Ranchitos, were talking in his car when they saw the fire at 97 Glenside Way.

Miss Petersen ran home to call the fire department, according to Lee, and he dashed to the Glenside Way address, told a woman there of the fire, then drove away.

Lee aided firemen on their arrival, according to Menjou.

Hasty Pudding Honors Bob Hope

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—Comedian Bob Hope became the first honorary member of the Hasty Pudding theatrical society at Harvard last night.

Hope

The award was given to Hope for his outstanding achievements in the entertainment field and his export of good will around the world.

Hope received a proclamation and a shiny pudding pot, noting he has been "given a medal by my country — for leaving it; been given an Oscar by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences—in a year when I didn't make any movies; and several months ago I was given the B'nai B'rith award for being a gentile."

More Mint Charges

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A fourth employee of the San Francisco Mint has been indicated on theft charges. Charles A. Bowles Jr., 23, a coin press operator, was indicted by the Federal Grand Jury Wednesday on charges of stealing 40 "mis-struck and mis-minted" coins.

Bridges Hits At Government In Labor Field

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Government should "stay out" of labor problems unless it is asked to help, according to Harry Bridges, president of the Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

"They only mess things up," he told 300 Golden Gate College students yesterday.

Bridges said the ILWU has developed good relations with management by weighing proposals carefully and asking only for what it realistically believes can be won.

"We don't go in and ask for a dollar an hour raise when we actually can expect only fifty cents," Bridges said. "We ask for that fifty cents and then fight for it. Our managers know this; we demand only what the industry will bear."

Magazine Honored

NEW YORK (UPI) — Life Magazine has won the 1967 National Magazine Award, it was announced today by the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism. Life was cited for its "skillful, imaginative and constructive editing" in three major fields of reporting — the Vietnam war, civil rights, and preservation of great works of art.

Boy Suspect Held

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — John W. Williams Jr., 17, has been ordered held without bond in connection with the executive-style slaying of two 14-year-old boys. War Protest Before Talk By Humphrey

NEW YORK (AP) — Some 75 persons protesting the role of the United States in Vietnam walked out on a speech by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey at the National Book Award ceremonies last night. But 1,000 others remained to give Humphrey a standing ovation.

Novelist Mitchell Goodman, one of those protesting, marched up to the stage of Philharmonic Hall, cupped his hands to his mouth, and shouted: "Mr. Vice President, we are burning children in Vietnam and you and we are all responsible!"

As the demonstrators left their seats, Humphrey, who appeared to be calm, told the audience: "This is what we mean by free speech. I've heard that Broadway shows sometimes lose their audience after the first night. I'm sorry to have lost part of our audience before we even began."

Among those who walked out were several prominent authors and publishers, including Anthony West, literary critic of the New Yorker magazine; Richard Baron, president of Dial Press; Jules Feiffer, the cartoonist; Andre Schiffrin, editor in chief of Pantheon Press; Robert Gorham Davis, a literary critic; and Hans Koningsberger, an author.

Most of the demonstrators returned after Humphrey finished speaking.

Defects Reported In 670,000 Vehicles Since Start Of Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Potential defects in more than 670,000 cars, trucks and buses — most of them 1967 models — have been reported to the government by domestic and foreign manufacturers since Jan. 1.

Commerce Department records showed today that most of the recalls were by the domestic big three—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—for a variety of possible defects involving brake parts, steering shaft alignment and windshield wipers.

Three other domestic and seven foreign producers also are listed.

Some of the recalls have been announced publicly by the companies but this isn't required under the new traffic safety law.

Manufacturers are only required to report potential car and truck defects to the government and to inform owners so corrections, if needed, can be made.

A report to the government doesn't mean that all vehicles listed are defective.

If, for example, the manufacture discovers an improperly made steering gear on a car, he may trace the batch of gears which contained the faulty one, then recall all cars supplied from that batch. He might find many, a few or no cars with the same defect.

Other U. S. firms which filed reports on possible defects since Jan. 1 were Kaiser Jeep, International Harvester, American Motors and Clark Equipment Co., a manufacturer of trailers.

Foreign companies filing reports included Rolls Royce, Jaguar, Porsche, BMW of West Germany, Datsun, Volkswagen and Renault.

One of the largest recalls came in January when General Motors reported possible misaligned steering shafts in more than 269,000 Chevrolets, Pontiacs, Oldsmobiles and Buicks.

Stiff Firearms Plan Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill providing stiffer penalties for anyone threatening a police officer or fireman with a weapon has passed the Senate despite some Democratic opposition.

The bill, approved by a 25-9 vote yesterday, makes it a felony to draw a loaded or unloaded gun on a peace officer in a "rude, angry or threatening manner."

Felony provisions carry prison sentences up to two years. The penalty's former misdemeanor status provided up to six months jail, $500 fine, or both.

"We apparently apply different yardsticks for the protection of citizens and the protection of police officers and firemen," said an opponent, Sen. George R. Moscone, D-San Francisco.

Gold Fever Hits Town In Africa

WIDHOEK, Southwest Africa (UPI) —Gold fever raced through the town of Outjo today. The mining office in the community of 2,900 persons said a "rich" gold reef had been discovered and contained a relatively high 39 per cent gold content.

Townsfolk anticipated a gold rush when the news spread to South Africa.

Bircher Drive Against Aid

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society, said yesterday the organization would conduct a "massive petition drive" to urge Congress to stop foreign aid to Communist nations.

Welch said American aid is being converted to help the Communists in North Vietnam.

"We are paying the bills and supplying war materials for both sides of the war," he said.

LBJ Held Rejecting Peace Talks For Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former top aide to President John F. Kennedy says the Johnson administration has hardened its terms for Vietnam peace talks and apparently "does not wish negotiations now."

The charge yesterday by Arthur Schlesinger Jr., a special assistant to Kennedy and a Pulitzer Prize-winning author, drew an immediate White House denial.

Administration leaders "have made clear we're ready to negotiate an end to the war," said George Christian, White House press secretary.

Shortly before Schlesinger read his statement to a news conference, Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg said the United States "is ready for unconditional discussions today" on ending the war.

Goldberg, chief U. S. envoy to the United Nations, was asked if U. S. policy calls for delaying talks until South Vietnam's constitutional government is installed later this year.

"That is not true," Goldberg replied.

But Schlesinger said the administration has "hardened its terms, demanding today from Hanoi what it did not demand a year ago—the prior assurance of some reciprocal act as a condition to our ending the bombing of North Vietnam."

Hanoi has in the past interpreted U. S. offers of peace talks as a sign of weakness, said Schlesinger. Now administration policymakers are viewing recent North Vietnamese statements in the same light, he added.

"By this logic we cannot negotiate while we are behind because we are weak, and we can't negotiate either when we are ahead because, if we keep on doing what we have been doing, we will be even farther ahead at some later point," he said.

Ranch Assessments

William Lund, executive vice president of the economic resource association of Los Angeles, will speak on assessment of ranch land redevelopment potential at 8 a.m. March 16 at the Lodge, north of Novato, in a breakfast session arranged by real estate man Gordon Pusser of Marshall.

Tennis Court Plans Approved

Specifications for two double Tuesday night by the Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission. The two courts, if the city council approves the plan, will be built on school property behind the Fairfax School District office. Cost is estimated at $14,000.

The commission did not act on a request by citizens for gates at Andi Peri Playground. The gates will be included in a landscaping plan if the plan is approved by the council at budget time.

A proposal by Fairfax Lions Club to install shuffleboard and horseshoe facilities behind the Women's Club was accepted by the commission.

The Fairfax commission agreed to meet with the San Anselmo Park and Recreation Commission to discuss joint programs.

Commissioners asked that the city council notify the county parks and recreation commission that Fairfax intends to set up a senior citizens' recreation program and ask for matching county funds.

Repeated Demands Hold Up Federal Aid For Airport

Repeated federal demands for adjustments in plans for reconstruction of the Marin County Airport at Novato could jeopardize the entire project. County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost reported today

Options on land needed for realignment of the runway expire April 14, and escrow cannot be opened until the Federal Aviation Agency approves the plans, Frost explained.

Approval by Carl Hand, chief of airport planning in the FAA western region office in San Francisco, should have taken only two weeks, but it is now in its fourth week, with engineers in the county public works department drawing up a fourth in a series of minor adjustments asked by Hand, Frost said.

Closing of escrow will take at least three weeks, Frost said. If escrow cannot be opened soon, the options could expire and the county will be back where it was a year ago, having to renegotiate property purchase agreements all over again.

The FAA has already agreed to put up $242,000, at 56 per cent share of the redevelopment cost.

Conservationist Dinner Slated

The Marin Conservation League will hold its 33rd annual dinner meeting tomorrow at the Edgewater Inn in Corte Madera.

The meeting, open to the public, will begin at 7 p.m.

Judge Hugo M. Fisher, former state natural resources administrator, will be guest speaker. Mrs. T. C. Wellman, league president will present a report on last year's activities.

Among the guests will be Charles H. W. Foster of Washington, D.C., president of Nature Conservancy; Huey Johnson of Nature Conservancy's San Francisco office; Alfred Heller, president of Cry California and County Supervisors Thomas T. Storer and William A. Gnoss.

WAR

during the week to the government bringing the year's total to 6,357. This is almost twice the figure for the same period a year ago.

Last week's American death total was not the highest of the war. It was eight short of the 240 Americans killed during the week ending Nov. 25, 1965, in the bloody Ia Drang Valley campaign by the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division. That battle killed more than 2,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese.

The reports contrasted sharply with casualties the week before. That was the bloodiest week of the war for the Communists —2,449 dead. The Americans lost 163 dead that week and 929 wounded.

The Communist attack on a platoon of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division fighting in Operation Adams along the coast 240 miles northeast of Saigon came with lightning suddenness in what could be a renewal of previous Communist strategy.

The attack lasted only 32 minutes but before it was over the Communists killed 13 Americans and wounded 27. Three other members of the platoon of perhaps 44 men were listed as missing in action.

Ex-Marinite's Body Found In Napa River

The body of former Marin resident Marvin Desmond Cyr, 31, of Vallejo, was found yesterday in the Napa River a mile and a half north of the Napa River bridge near Vallejo. Solano County Coroner Dan Horan said death was due to drowning.

Cyr had been missing since Feb. 22. Solano authorities earlier had found his car parked at a bar near his home, and learned that he had taken a taxi from there to his boat, docked on the river nearby.

His boat was found at its mooring with the engine partly dismantled. Horan said Cyr apparently was working on the engine and fell into the water. The body was two miles upstream from the boat dock, evidently borne there by swift tidal flows in the lower rifer.

Cyr, a heavy equipment operator, was born in Sausalito and lived in Marin until the family moved to Vallejo seven years ago. The family's last Marin home was in Mill Valley.

Funeral for Cyr will be at 1 p.m. Tuesday at Colonial Chapel, 1000 Redwood Street, Vallejo. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

He was a Navy veteran of the Korean War, and was a member of the First Baptist Church of Vallejo, the Vallejo Yacht Club, and Operation Engineers Union Local 3 at Vallejo.

He is survived by his wife, Carolyn, of Vallejo; two children, Susan and Steven Cyr of Vallejo; his parents, Ivan Cyr of Crescent City and Mrs. Myrle E. Fenski of Seattle, Wash.; and four sisters, Donna Berwidk, Jodeane Westbrook and Regina Varelli of San Rafael, and Wanda Kafka of San Francisco.

A Lucas Valley resident had his sleep disturbed, but retaliated by ruining a champagne party by intruders of his home.

The burglars abandoned the champagne on Kahn's front lawn during their flight, however, deputies said.

IN MEMORIAM

BROWN, ROY ALLEN—(1893-1966). In loving memory of ROY ALLEN BROWN, who passed away March 9, 1966.

You cannot say, you must not say
That he is dead. He is just away!
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand
He has wandered into an unknown land
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since he lingers there;
So think of him faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here.
Think of him still as the same, and say
He is not dead, he is just away.

The families of

McCARTHY, VINCENT WILLIAM — In loving memory of a wonderful husband and dad who passed away March 9, 1956.

Time has changed the face of things
Since you went away;
There's almost nothing here that you
Would recognize today;
Yet could you look into our hearts
You'd see there still tonight
The love you lighted long ago
Like votive candles, burning bright.

Death Row Black Muslim Seeks Book

A Black Muslim on Death Row in San Quentin Prison has petitioned Marin Superior Court to force prison authorities to allow him a book he claims is necessary to his faith.

Archie Simmons, 26, sentenced from Los Angeles County for a series of robbery-kidnapings and rapes, claims in his petition that he has been denied a copy of "Message to the Black Man," although he could obtain it without cost to the state.

It is necessary, he contends, is a prerequisite for his worship in the Moslem faith.

Simmons' complaint claims another Death Row prisoner was allowed the book in January, but was required to sign a pledge that he would allow no one else to read it.

Judge Thomas F. Keating ordered prison officials to show why Simmons should not get the book at a hearing at 2 p.m. April 3.

Simmons and his partner in crime, Gene Daniels, 32, were received at the prison last Oct. 6 after their conviction in Los Angeles Superior Court. Simmons was found guilty of three counts of kidnaping to rob with bodily harm and one count of rape. Daniels was convicted of two counts of robbery-kidnaping.

They were arrested after a neighborhood near the Los Angeles Coliseum and University of Southern California had been terrorized for months by a pair who forced their way at gunpoint into apartments where women were home alone, robbed the women and raped them.

San Marin High Gets State Cash

The State Allocations Board yesterday granted a $2,327,213 to Novato Unified School District for the first phase of the San Marin High School.

This is $180,787 less than the $2,508,000 requested by the district, according to Eugene de Brecht, assistant superintendent in charge of building.

"I do not know what they have cut off, but I will find out when I go there tomorrow," De Brecht said.

Fred Mantegani is president of the Tiburon Sanitary District Board.

Water Board Heeds State Warning On Fire Hazards

Warned by their general manager that "the district will be in trouble if nothing is done about fire protection on Mount Tamalpais watershed," Marin Municipal Water District directors yesterday ordered an immediate start on snag removal.

Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger said pressure is being brought to bear by the State Division of Forestry.

County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom asked that firemen and water district workers be allowed to start immediately on removal of snags as the first step in a fire protection program on the mountain. The board concurred.

Water district directors decided to spend $37,000 to install a new 18-inch line along East Blithedale Avenue in Mill Valley, where the city is widening it between Toyon Drive and Meadow Avenue. Seeger said this was only $3,000 more than it would cost to repair the old pipes.

They complained, however, that it is unfair for the City of Mill Valley to be able to use state gasoline tax funds for widening the street while the water district must relocate its line at its own expense. Seeger said he is urging Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, to seek an amendment to the Collier-Unruh Act to provide gasoline tax funds toward utility line relocations.

Marin Municipal Water District Board Also:

PIXIE LINE — Agreed to abandon an unused line on Pixie Trail in Tamalpais Valley.

REPLACEMENT PUMPS — Opened three bids for replacement pumps and referred them to district engineers for analysis, with awards to be made at the next meeting.

QUIT CLAIMS — Granted Quit claim deeds to San Geronimo Valley Water Co. and Lagunitas Development Co. for some springs not used for water supply.

CAMPS — Granted requests to camp at Lake Lagunitas, March 21 to Leslie Smith, and to camp five days during Easter vacation in Potrero Meadows to Boy Scout Troop 90, Corte Madera.

UFO — Granted a request of Al Collins of radio Station KSFO to open the parking lot at the mountain theater tomorrow at 8 p.m. so his listeners can watch for unidentified flying objects.

EMPLOYMENT — Hired Albert Hubbard, 40, as a mechanical and maintenance man, with salary not specified at the meeting.

Bill Asks State Project Warning

I-J SPECIAL REPORT

SACRAMENTO — State agencies that plan public works projects may be required to let local agencies know beforehand, under terms of a bill introduced by State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael.

The McCarthy bill specifies that in cities or counties where a general plan has been adopted, state agencies must submit lists of any proposed public works construction to the local planning agency.

The senator said his action was precipitated by an occurrence in Marin County, where the State Division of Highways put up a maintenantce shop near the entrance to Point Reyes National Seashore.

Pill Victim Rushed To Hospital, Mends

George Wilson Graham, 50, of 34 Ridge Road, San Rafael, was reported in good condition at Marin General Hospital after taking an overdose of tranquilizer pills.

San Rafael police found Graham shortly before midnight at a Fourth Street restaurant after a call from Marin County Communications office. Police said Graham was semi-conscious and said he had taken 60 to 100 tablets. He lost consciousness while being taken to the hospital.

County Eyes Workman's Insurance

Self-insurance for workmen's compensation was proposed for serious consideration by county administrative analyst Martin Nelson during a workshop session of the county safety commission today.

Nelson said the City of San Diego has started the plan and might save up to $25,000 a year. He said it is the trend among other public agencies as well.

The commission, studying budget requests for next fiscal year, did not recommend any funds for such a study, however. Commission Member Wallace Chipman thought the matter might be developed by insurance advisers.

The recommendation for next year's budget will include a half-time administrator to start June 1, a position created by supervisors last June with the hiring date deferred. Commissioners also agreed today to seek a half-time clerical position.

The budget will be considered again at the regular meeting of the commission next Thursday.

Human Rights Meeting

The Marin County Human Rights Commission will meet at 8 p.m. today at St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church in Marin City to hear reports on the War on Poverty, temporary recreation center and sheriff's substation.

INSTANT MURAL—Edwin A. Cadogan, retiring chairman of the division of fine arts at the College of Marin, turned this painting out in about 45 minutes as a demonstration of a painting class assignment. The assignment, Cadogan said, was to fill a large canvas "with a whole lot of things."

Would-Be Engineer Looks Back On Artistic Career

By CAROL MARSH

Edwin A. Cadogan, chairman of the division of fine arts at College of Marin, came to the college in 1932 — to study engineering.

Cadogan will retire at the end of this semester after 20 years on the college faculty as a teacher of painting, ceramics, life drawing, crafts, sculpture and architecture, as head of the art department since 1951 and as division chairman since 1960. He is 59.

DREAM TOUR

He and his wife, Adalaine, will leave in July on a four-year tour of England and Europe which represents "a lifelong dream." They plan to take a camper truck along, and spend the first year touring the British Isles and having a Scottish trawler converted to a yacht for traveling the Mediterranean in the next three years, using the yacht as "headquarters" and the camper for touring the continent.

Mrs. Cadogan also paints professionally, and Cadogan said he is retiring to have more time for painting, research, and writing. One of his major European projects will be researching and writing a book on architectural history.

They plan to return to the United States in the yacht after a tour of the Caribbean.

INVOLVED IN ART

Cadogan, a native of San Francisco, began his artistic career by taking a few art courses as electives when he came to College of Marin to study engineering. "Before I knew it I was all involved in art instead of engineering," and he had been completely "involved in art" ever since.

He earned an associate of arts degree at the college in 1934, then attended the California School of Fine Arts for three years, and spent two years studying in Europe, mainly in Paris, at academies and under private teachers. In 1939, his work was exhibited as part of a three-man show at the American Students and Artists Center in Paris, in an exhibition sponsored by U. S. Ambassador William C. Bullitt.

He enlisted in the Navy Seabees in 1942, and saw service in the Philippines. After the war he enrolled at San Francisco State College, where he earned a bachelor of arts degree in 1947. He received his master of fine arts degree in 1950 from the California College of Arts and Crafts.

ONLY TEACHING JOB

He took his "first and only teaching job" at the College of Marin in 1947, when the art department consisted of one full-time and one part-time teacher. The department now has 11 full-time and nine evening teachers, and the college is building a new fine arts complex.

As an artist, Cadogan's interests are balanced between painting and ceramics, mainly stoneware pattery. He finds that each of the two art forms "is a relief from the other," and that they complement and influence each other. "They don't compete," he said.

His painting, he said, does not follow a single style. "I paint the subject as I feel it, so it may be somewhat realistic or totally abstract." He does not have a favorite painting, although he has sold "two or three hundred, besides all those I burned."

"You paint because you have a desire to say something," he explained, "and after you've expressed yourself, it's a statement that has been made and you want to go on to something new."

He is a past president of the Marin Society of Artists, past president of the San Francisco Potters Association, a member of the San Francisco Art Institute, and past commander of the Marin Power Squadron, a boating education organization.

STUDIO IS HOME

He and his wife live at 50 Murray Avenue, Larkspur, in a house that began as a studio. When they bought the property, they had in mind a spot behind the house for a 1,500 square foot studio, which they eventually built.

"Then my practical wife suggested we rent the house and move into the studio, so we did," he said.

When they return from Europe they plan to build a new home in Bolinas, and "retire from retiring."

Cameras, Binoculars Taken From Auto

Theft of two cameras and a pair of binoculars from the locked automobile of Henry Garrison Jr. of Palo Alto, parked in the 200 block of Drake Avenue in Marin City, was reported yesterday by sheriff's officers. They said entry was by breaking a left ventilator window.

Leon Jack Mailett, 317 Montego Key, Bel Marin Keys, reported someone took his wife's grey mink stole and possibly a $20 bill from their bedroom. No forced entry to the house was evident, deputies reported.

Claim Filed Over Swim Club's Woes

Leighton Hatch, attorney for the Strawberry Swim Club, said today he has filed a claim of damages with the Strawberry Recreation District for $50,000, for unlawfully soliciting club members' donations of their dues to the district.

Hatch claims the solicitation interfered with the club's operation, causing it to suffer a diminution of membership values, lost dues and assessment payments, loss of memberships and inability to continue operation of the club. Clarence G. Bush, chairman and Stephen H. Kaufmann, attorney for the district, are named as the solicitors.

Hatch has also filed a request with the American Arbitration Association in San Francisco for a hearing on the club's dispute with the recreation district, which terminated the clubs' lease effective last Sunday.

The Coliseum in Rome was built in the First Cenruty.

Hub Residents Get Blanks To Rate City

Questionnaires on San Anselmo's problems and needs, looking toward the San Anselmo Town Meeting April 29, are being distributed this week.

The questionnaires are being handed out door to door by volunteer groups of Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls. Some are being sent home with school children and distributed at churches, and copies are available at grocery stores and at the San Anselmo library, according to Mrs. Anne West, president of the San Anselmo Homes Association.

The homes association and the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce are sponsoring the survey. Mrs. West said responses to the questionnaires will be used to choose topics for discussion at the Congress for Community Progress town meeting.

Deadline for returning the questionnaires is March 17, and results will be tabulated and published as soon as possible after the deadline, Mrs. West said. She urged that the forms be returned as early as possible to facilitate tabulation.

Questionnaires call for ratings on town services and comments on San Anselmo's problems and advantages, and list 18 possible topics for town meeting panels.

Hearing Set On Marijuana

Preliminary hearing for three persons charged with conspiring to smuggle marijuana into county jail was scheduled in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for 9:30 a.m. next Thursday.

Accused are Mrs. Roberta Marie Buckley of Walnut Creek; her common-law husband, Eugene O. Boehm, serving a year in jail for felony child-beating and Merton Wesley Spaulding, in jail for auto theft.

Spaulding also is charged with possession of marijuana. He allegedly picked up a small package which Mrs. Buckley is accused of depositing in a jail garbage can to deliver it inside the jail to Boehm last Sunday.

CORE BACKS POWELL—Ousted congressman Adam Clayton Powell and CORE leader Floyd McKissick tell newsmen at Bimini, the Bahamas, that CORE will back Powell for election. (UPI Telephoto)

Powell, His Attorneys Begin Seating Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorneys for Adam Clayton Powell have launched court action aimed at forcing the House to seat him, while the Harlem Democrat starts his own campaign to win back the seat in a special election.

A suit filed yesterday in U.S. District Court here charged that Powell's constitutional rights were violated by last week's House vote barring him from taking the seat to which he was elected.

The suit asked a preliminary injunction ordering Powell's immediate seating and a permanent injunction to prevent House Speaker John W. McCormack from refusing to give Powell the oath of office.

The court petition was signed by Powell and 13 others, including civil rights leader A. Philip Randolph, Percy E. Sutton, Manhattan borough president and Hulan Jack, former borough president.

On the Bahamian island of Bimini, the fishing retreat where Powell has remained during most of the controversy, he spoke derisively of the man selected by New York Republicans to run against him in the special election — James H. Meredith, first Negro enrolled in the University of Mississippi.

"Meredith, who is he?" asked the debonair preacher- politician at a Bimini news conference. "I don't know Meredith."

He said Meredith would not be a "formidable" opponent. Powell added he doesn't plan to campaign in person in Harlem.

The head of the Congress for Racial Equality pledged political retribution against those who voted for the ouster.

Floyd McKissick said CORE will help Powell campaign in the April 11 special election to fill the vacant seat he held for 22 years. He said Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Movement also was supporting Powell's election bid.

In Atlanta, however, a spokesman for King said the civil rights leader was sticking to an earlier statement in which he commended both Powell and Meredith, and said the "people of Harlem should decide who they want."

In New York, Jackie Robinson, a former baseball great and now an aide to Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, said he'll support Powell and rapped Meredith for entering the race.

Trade Secret Law Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An employee would be guilty of theft if he steals a trade secret from his boss—even if it's only taking a photograph or a scrap of paper — under a new Senate bill.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Robert J. Lagomarsino, R-Ojai, passed 30-5 yesterday and was sent to the Assembly.

Lagomarsino said the measure closes "a loophole" in the present law. There will be no penalty, he stressed, for memorizing a trade secret and disclosing it to another firm.

Maximum penalty under the bill would be 10 years prison, a $5,000 fine or both.

McBird's Navy
That's my cake your fingering!
Pat Egan

BIRD PEOPLE—This is a panel from "McBird's Navy," the creation of confident, 11-year-old Patrick Egan, who is determined to make cartooning a career.

'McBIRD'S NAVY'

11-Year-Old Determined To Become A Cartoonist

Patrick Egan, 11 years old and determined to be a cartoonist, can't wait until he grows up.

In a fairly confident letter to the editor of the Independent-Journal, Pat wrote: "I have a new comic for your paper. . . .

"When I get the job, should I write in pencil or pen? And one more question, how much do I get paid?"

A sixth grader at Blessed Sacrament School in Santa Venetia, Pat is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Egan, 23 Linda Avenue, Santa Venetia.

He's been drawing cartoons ever since a friend taught him how to draw birds in the second grade. And that's had a profound influence on his style, for all the characters in his comic strip, "McBird's Navy," are humanized birds.

"I just like to draw people like birds," said Pat. "They look like birds to me."

He admits he got the idea for the strip from "McHale's Navy" on television, and says most of his gags revolve around military life because he wants to join the Navy.

He reads comics avidly. His hero is Sgt. Mike Hodgson, whose syndicated cartoons on the Vietnam war appear in the I-J.

"He started drawing cartoons when he was in school, and that's what I intend to do," said Pat.

As for the job with the I-J, his application, like many others received weekly, will be duly considered.

Harmless Rockets

Two projectiles were found at a duplex at 37 Bungalow Drive, San Rafael yesterday by Roland Carrier, salesman for Brockman Realty of Tiburon, who called the Hamilton Air Force Base explosive ordinance section. S/Sgt. Hal W. Elledge, who responded, found them to be harmless practice rocket heads.

McKinley Climbers Rest After Ordeal

TALKEETNA, Alaska (AP)—The first men to scale Mount McKinley in the fierce subarctic winter were resting from their ordeal today while a search continued for two companions who have been unaccounted for since Sunday.

An Army helicopter plucked three Anchorage climbers from the 14,000-foot level of the 20,320-foot mountain late yesterday Earlier the men, using a radio dropped from an Air Force plane, sent word that they reached the summit at 7 p.m. March 1.

What was it like at the highest point on the North American continent, in temperatures of about 50 below zero and wind of possibly 100 miles an hour?

"It was nice," said Ray Genet, 35, of Anchorage when the helicopter landed here. With Genet on the assault were Art Davidson, 22, and Dave Johnston, 24, also of Anchorage.

At Talkeetna they rejoined Gregg Blomberg, 25, of Denver, Colo., leader of the expedition, and John Edwards, 35, of Cleveland, Ohio, from whom they became separated during the climb. Another Army helicopter picked up Blomberg and Edwards at the 8,250-foot level.

The climbers were reported in good condition except for apparently minor frostbite.

Veteran bush pilot Don Sheldon took off to fly the five climbers from here to Fairbanks, but had to put down for the night at Summit, about halfway there, because of bad weather.

The men were supposed to have been rushed to the Arctic Research Laboratory of the University of Alaska at Fairbanks to test effects of the climb on their metabolism. It was feared here that the overnight stay at Summit might affect the value of the tests.

A search was begun for Dr. George Wichman, 39, and Shiro Nishimae, 31, both of Anchorage. When last seen they were about 10,000 feet, not far from an igloo or ice cave stocked with supplies.

Dancer Cleared In Actor's Fall

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dancer Rita Lupino, sister of actress Ida Lupino, has been cleared of any implication in the fall of actor Peter Hornsby from her second-story apartment.

Bruce Daniels, 21, son of singer Billy Daniels, was booked last Sunday on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder. He is free on bond pending additional investigation.

The 36-year old Hornsby was reported unconscious and in critical condition yesterday at Los Angeles County General Hospital.

FIREMEN FINISH WHAT THEY STOPPED

When a grass fire last summer reached the old barn on the former Sorich Ranch—now City of San Anselmo property for corporation yard and future park—Hub City firemen extinguished the blaze and save the barn. But it wasn't much worth saving, so today they burned it as an exercise in fire control. Took awhile to get it blazing, too.

Novato Plan Complaints Told Council

Communication between the Novato City Council and the planning commission has been a one-way street, commissioners declared last evening at a dinner meeting with the council at Nave Lanes.

Commission members pointed out that the council keeps track of commission activities by getting copies of its minutes, but refers items back to the commission without instruction or even benefit of the council minutes.

"I will try to get this changed at our next meeting," said Councilman Douglas M. Merrill.

The composition, duties and standards of an architectural review committee took most of the time in the two and one-half hour informal discussion.

Merrill reiterated his earlier suggestion that membership on the committee be opened to residents outside the city, saying many talented persons live just outside Novato's city limits. Several commission members, however, said they thought the committee should be made up only of members of the planning commission.

Commissioner John Milkos put in a pitch for two-year terms for committee members, rather than four years as earlier suggested. This brought no answering comment.

Problems of getting citizen participation were discussed in general.

Councilmen and commissioners agreed several such joint discussions shoull be held each year, and scheduled the next one for April 5.

Credit Union's Assets Increase

Increases in assets and membership were reported last night at the annual meeting of the Independent-Journal Federal Credit Union.

Treasurer Frank Turner said assets stood at more than $150,000, a gain of $24,000 over last year, and membership had increased by 30 to a total of 224.

More than $110,878 was out in loans, said Turner, and a 6 per cent dividend was declared on savings accounts.

Ernest H. Fingerlos, Ethel M. Schwab and Jean Day were elected to the executive board, and Berta Appel and William G. Schendel to the credit committee.

Phone Hike Request Attacked, Defended

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s requested rate increase was called "the most barefaced piratical attack on California consumers since the days of Hiram Johnson" by the treasurer of the Association of California Consumers today.

Arthur Danforth of Corte Madera, whose group has formed CAPRI (Consumers Against Phone Rate Incerases) to fight the hike said PT&T is 90 per cent owned by American Telephone and Telegraph Co., which shows the largest net profit for any business in the United States.

40 PER CENT

Speaking on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board," Danforth said PT&T is thus already making better than a 10 per cent return under its present rate structure, "and now we find that consumers are faced with a 40 per cent increase in residence and 90 per cent on business phones."

A preview of the battle which will be fought before the California Public Utilities Commission later this year was heard on the program, to be rebroadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m., with two representatives of PT&T stating their case, and Everett C. McKeage, former chairman of the PUC, explaining the regulatory body's function.

QUALITY CONCERN

Harold A. Gerrish, PT&T vice president in charge of public relations, said while customers are concerned with the price of telephone service, "I believe our customers are equally concerned about the quality of telephone service."

He differed with a listener's question that contended operating costs normally vary inversely with the volume of business and asked why customers should be penalized "for what appears to be an extremely inefficient operation."

Gerrish said the company has used every possible cost saving to keep phone rates low.

Jerry Ezrin, Bay Area information supervisor of PT&T, said in 1962 the company had to invest $435 for each plant, and this has now risen to $495.

McKeage said it would not be realistic for him to comment on the merits or demerits of the public utility's application for rate increases, but commented, "To my knowledge this is the largest public utility rate increase ever requested."

The rates of a public utility may require changing frequently, said McKeage, "because the rate of return may be confiscatory one year, and compensatory the next."

PT&T's rate of return was fixed recently by the PUC at 6.3 per cent of its cost rate base. He said its request's for a hike to 7.9 per cent, which would represent a rate of 10 per cent on equity of common stock.

"Anyone who can show a lawful interest" may appear before the PUC hearing on the increase application, he said, "but he should be prepared to offer that type of detailed evidence required to support his case. Merely stating you are for or against is of no value."

If the proposed increase were granted, the rate for a one-party residential phone in San Rafael would go from $3.90 to $5.75 a month, said Ezrin.

Plea Scheduled On Bal Checks

Paul Michael Ashley, 18, was to enter plea in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon to two counts of possession of checks with intent to defraud, and a third count of passing worthless checks totaling $200.

Ashley, with the Army at Fort Folk, La., was arrested by Corte Madera police Tuesday. He allegedly had the checks with intent to defraud that day, and passed worthless checks totaling $200 Sunday and Monday in Corte Madera.

Annual St. Pat's Dinner Is Saturday

A longtime Sausalito tradition will be continued Saturday evening when the city's Star of the Sea Church holds its St. Patrick's Day dinner.

Chairman Frank C. Pasquinucci reported that the 5 to 8 p.m. affair in the church hall traditionally has drawn hundreds of Southern Marinites, of all faiths, for a celebration of the Irish holiday.

'701' Review Tonight

Mill Valley's "701" planning consultants will present physical, visual and market analyses to the citizens advisory committee today at 8 p.m. in the gallery of the library. Also on the agenda is further discussion of the goals of the study of city's commercial areas.

Television Set Reported Stolen

Loss of a television set in a burglary of the unlcoked home of Lorin B. Gossage on Dillon's Beach Road was reported today by sheriff's officers.

Gossage, who also has a home in Penngrove, Sonoma County, told deputies nothing else was missing. He said the house had also been burgled of several guns on Feb. 17.

Martin N. Hanzlik, 1419 Buchanan Street, Novato, told deputies someone broke a rear window of a building being remodeled for the Young Men's Christian Association at 241 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, and stole a box of carpenter's tools.

Clifton Cordes, proprietor of Lagunitas Store, reported someone pried open the coin box of a telephone booth outside the store and looted it of coins.

A total of 60 billion francs ($1.2 billion) will be paid in old age pensions in Belgium in 1967, according to government estimates.

Larkspur Summer Rec Plans Approved

The Larkspur Park and Recreation Commission last night approved a summer recreation program including playground activities, archery, tennis, baseball, arts and crafts, and excursions.

Recreation Director Robert C. Bundy said the recreation budget would be "essentially the same as this year's," with increases for maintenance of the new baseball field at Ronald E. Piper Park.

Demos Demanding Withholding Tax

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Majority Democrats replied to Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan's $946 million tax plan today with new demands for withholding of state income taxes, which Reagan opposes.

And, Democrats staged a full-scale rebellion against what they termed the slowness of work on his record $5 billion budget.

"I'm very alarmed at the time it has taken to present a proper budget," said Sen. Stephen Teale, D-Railroad Flat, acting chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

Teale was among the Democrats calling for withholding.

Another was Assembly Majority George N. Zenovich, D-Fresno, who said it would bring in up to $250 million a year.

Reagan's tax plan, he said, is directed at the consumers.

Sen. Walter W. Stiern, D-Bakersfield, chairman of the Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee, said he thinks he will support withholding.

"It makes it easier for low income families to budget," he said.

Republicans generally praised Reagan's plan. But they acknowledged the legislature—controlled by Democrats in both houses—will write its own tax program.

Assemblyman John G. Veneman, R - Modesto, chairman of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee, said the Reagan plan is "certainly compatible" with his own $1.15 billion proposal. Veneman, however, advocates more property tax relief.

The Senate Republican leader, John F. McCarthy of San Rafael, said "for the first time in recent years a governor of California has taken a realistic approach to our state's fiscal problems . . ."

He warned "the road may well be longer and rougher than he thinks, but it is one that must be traveled."

Sen. John G. Schmitz, who carries the conservative banner, said Reagan's plan is "an error."

He promised to fight income tax increases.

"I can see something everybody can vote against," said Senator Teale. He said he couldn't see more than a dozen Senate votes for the plan at the present time.

Senate President pro tem Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno, said the legislature should hold off consideration of a tax program until a budget is adopted.

And he said that legislators should possibly forget boosting tobacco and liquor taxes this year.

Youth Bound To Juvenile Court

Complaints of burglary, passing worthless checks, and conspiracy to defraud with worthless checks, against Gordon Keith Jennings, 19, were certified to Marin Juvenile Court yesterday by Judge Peter Allen Smith of Marin Municipal Court.

Jennings, of 25 Sierra Vista, Novato, allegedly burgled Montgomery Ward and Co. in Corte Madera Jan. 4, and conspired to pass two worthless $10 checks drawn on a smaller checking account Jan. 4.

He also is accused of passing four checks totaling $130 with intent to defraud the Ward Company Dec. 28-31, and a $115 check to defraud Ray Jacob in Novato.

Betty Hutton Is Hit By Lawsuit

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Entertainer Betty Hutton was sued for $19,400 yesterday by former landlords who claimed she "was a dissolute person of bad reputation" and was "addicted to alcohol and barbiturates."

The suit was filed against Miss Hutton and her recently divorced husband, musician Pete Candoli, by Mr. and Mrs. David Simmons, who leased a South Laguna home to the couple last April 3.

The suit asked $1,400 for allegedly unpaid rent, $8,000 for asserted damages to a rug, furniture and a wall, and $10,000 because Miss Hutton purportedly stated falsely that she was a person of "integrity and probity."

Worthless Checks Plea Slated Today

George Newall of B and G Homes, San Rafael, was to plead today in Marin Municipal Court to five counts of passing worthless checks. He was arraigned yesterday before Judge Peter Allen Smith.

Newall is accused of passing a worthless $286 check last Aug. 16 to defraud Cement Mason's Pension Fund; a $258 check Aug. 22 to defraud Bay Area Conference of Hod Carriers; and checks for $453, $482 and $409 last June through August to defraud AFofL-CIO Bricklayers and Stone Masons Union.

Lively Ballot Race In Store For San Rafael

With the deadline for filing candidacy papers 5 p.m. tomorrow, the San Rafael City Council race shapes up as the most spirited in the municipal election April 10.

Five incumbent city officials probably will run unopposed, barring new candidates entering the race in the short time left.

Two council seats — those of Charles W. Aby and Fred E. Jensen — expire in April. Aby has announced he will not seek re-election, but Jensen has returned completed petitions to seek another term.

Other council candidates are attorney Joseph D. Dahlman; George S. Burton, a used car dealer; Planning Commissioner John A. Miskimen; plumbing contractor Orlando Conti; service station operator Charles Swanfelt, and Gene F. O'Connor, an insurance broker.

Of these, O'Connor is the only one who had not returned completed petitions to City Clerk W. C. Cornwell today.

Four candidates are vying for three seats on the board of education, including incumbents Carl J. Brown, current board president; Mrs. Anita C. Strom and Herman L. Childress. The fourth is management consultant John C. Pfeiffer.

Mrs. Strom has yet to return candidacy papers among this group.

Candidates who apparently will run unopposed are Mayor C. Paul Bettini, Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa, who also has yet to file papers; City Atty. David Menary Jr.; Cornwell, and Treasurer Angela J. Soldavini.

Court Rejects Appeal By Savio

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The latest appeal by Mario Savio and 571 others convicted of misdemeanor charges resulting fromthe 1964 Sproul Hall sit-in at the University of California has been rejected by the state Supreme Court.

The defendants' attorney said, however, he would now take his case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Malcolm Burnstein said he would argue there, as he did in briefs filed with the California court, that the members of Free Speech Movement were denied effective pretrial proceedings, denied jury trials and were not informed of their rights to counsel.

Study Postponed

A study session scheduled yesterday by Tiburon Planning Commission was postponed indefinitely, Phil V. Scott, development administrator said today. He said commissioners learned yesterday that study material on the downtown plan, subject of the meeting, was not ready.

Jury Indicts Prison Inmate For Murder

A 28-yesr-old San Quentin prisoner, serving time for voluntary manslaughter yesterday, was indicted by Marin County Grand Jury for the murder last Aug. 19 of another inmate.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said James Boyd Mackey, convicted of manslaughter in Los Angeles County May 27, 1965, confessed to prison authorities that he killed Jess Russell Pearce, 49, in the prison cotton mill.

Bales said the motive apparently involved homosexuality.

Body of Pearce, serving six months to 15 years for sex perversion, was found with wounds apparently inflicted by an ice pick or narrow screwdriver. There were 73 puncture wounds, officers said. The weapon was not found.

Both Pearce and Mackey, who is serving six months to 10 years, worked in the cotton mill.

Mackey is scheduled for arraignment on the murder indictment at 9:30 a.m. Monday in Marin Superior Court.

Youth Arraigned On Burglary Charge

Ronald Berg Goodrich, 18, of 429 Elm Avenue, Larkspur, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a charge of burglary of Hap Edde's Service Station at 100 Marinwood Drive, Marinwood. Judge Hadden W. Roth scheduled plea entry for 2 p.m. next Wednesday.

Goodrich was arrested Feb. 22 after sheriff's officers saw him running from the station.

Dixie Trustees Grant Raises In Split Vote

Trustees of the Dixie School District last night voted 3-2, with Melvin R. Stidham and Mrs. Dorothy Brown dissenting, to grant a 5.8 per cent increase in teacher salaries for next fiscal year.

This will add $77,000 to payroll and will raise the starting salary from $5,200 to $5,400 and the top salary from $11,300 to $12,000 a year.

Mrs. Brown and Stidham thought the increase too large.

The board approved district contribution to fringe benefits next fiscal year for teachers, with the district to put up $4.65 per month for the entrie amount of dental coverage and contribute $5 a month toward health plans. The Dixie Teachers Association negotiating council had asked $8.10 per month for the dental plan to cover the employee and one dependent.

The Dixie School District board also:

READING PORJECT — Hired Spero W. Theodore as programmer for the district's individual reading project at $750 a month.

GIFTS — Accepted a tape recorder system with listening panels and 36 headsets valued at $782 from the Marinwood Home and School Club, and five tape recorders and a typewriter valued at $629 from the Bernard Hoffman Parent-Teacher Association.

Canadian growers of holly start harvesting in early November in order to reach markets for Christmas.

LECTURE SET — Rev. E. David Willis, Th.D., associate professor of theology at San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, will deliver the fifth and final lecture in the seminary's "New Frontiers in Theology" series at 8 p.m. Monday in the First Presbyterian Church, San Anselmo.

Parents Pen Complains On Discipline

Parents of most of the 15 pupils suspended from Lucas Valley School last month for damaging the schoolgrounds complained by letter last night to the Dixie School District Board.

Trustees took no action on the complaint, however, pending determination of legal questions. Board chairman Melvin R. Stidham said he thought such a matter should be brought up in closed session. Also he wanted advice from the county counsel regarding illegalities in the suspensions alleged in the letter.

Also, he told Maurice A. Erickson Jr. of 845 Flaxberry Lane, Lucas Valley, who presented the letter, that he should set forth specific complaints in writing.

The letter, signed by 12 persons, cited several sections of the California Education Code in questioning the right of a principal to suspend pupils from school.

Erickson said the signers represented seven families. Five of his children were among the 15 suspended from one day to a week following damage at the school Feb. 27.

Principal William Van Winkle suspended the pupils after finding ice plants strewn across the playground, gravel loosened from the roof, and words written on the cement.

Lagunitas Postal Box Broken, Looted

A mail box in the Lagunitas Post Office was looted, county sheriff's officers reported today.

The little glass window was broken to steal mail from the box of Mrs. Mary Weckerle, who has homes in both Lagunitas and San Francisco, sheriff's officers said.

CANDIDATES' NIGHT

Speakers Praise, Condemn Schools

By FRANK FARRARA

School board candidates opened their tour of the "candidates night" circuit last night with talk of financial problems and the role of a school board as a "voice of the people."

Twelve candidates for the Kentfield, Tamalpais High School and Marin Junior College District boards spoke before about 40 persons at Wolfe Grade School, Kentfield.

David D. Ring of Tiburon, a challenger for a seat on the Tamalpais High School District Board, launched the strongest attack of the evening.

FAILURES CHARGED

He charged that the Tamalpais board has failed to carry out its duty as "the voice of the public" and has failed to maintain public participation in its deliberations.

The duty of a school board is not only to listen to those who communicate with the board, but also to raise the questions that any informed voter would raise, he contended. It's function is "to question, not simply accept every proposal," and "to bring out, not suppress," areas of disagreement, Ring said.

OTHER VIEWS

Ring also charged that many areas of program coordination between elementary districts and the high school district "have not been effectively worked out."

Dr. John C. Siemens of Kentfield, a six-year member of the board, said Tamalpais High School District is "one of the most efficient organizations" he has seen and has an excellent academic reputation.

Citizen committees have been helpful in maintaining public involvement and the board is going to appoint a committee to study how to proceed with a building program, said Siemens.

The board holds forums, and information about the board is available through mass media and a district publication, he noted — but only if people read the stories, serve on committees and attend forums "are we actually communicating."

NEEDS CITED

Mrs. Bette Wallace of Corte Madera, appointed to the board last September, pointed to the "most pressing need for classrooms." She said she favored emphasis on construction of the first phase of a high school in San Geronimo Valley.

Mrs. Wallace said the board also should take "a serious look' at building a high school in Tiburon.

She also advocated efforts to help Negro students, and a restudy of the 32 acres that the district owns in Marin City.

COLLEGE CANDIDATES

Seven candidates for the Marin Junior College District Board spoke, and one, Francis J. Carr of Sausalito, sent a statement which was read by Kentfield Supt. Anthony Q. Bacich, moderator.

Edward K. Wachsman of San Rafael, a challenger, questioned the need for "large scale acquisition of parking spaces" and of land fo ra dormitory.

"I don't think the taxpayers want to support a dormitory," he said. Acquiring the site and taking the land off the tax rolls was "wasteful" and not necessary for education, he contended.

During the question session, Elizabeth M. Deedy of Ross, an incumbent, said plans for a dormitory have been shelved. "The land is now a temporary parking lot." she reported.

FINANCING HIT

Wachsman also contended there is "too often a tendency to appoint citizen advisory groups that will act as a rubber stamp."

The ultimate in property taxation has been reached and the board must look for other ways of financing, he said.

Harry J. Moore of Novato, a challenger, said there could be better communication between the college and high schools and "with the public in general."

Citing plans for a campus near Novato, he said he could "give communication with the people of the north" and serve as "someone who'll give the feeling of the peaple and the ideas of the students." Moore is a Novato High School teacher.

PLANS URGED

Mrs. Sarah S. Nome of Mill Valley, a challenger, expressed concern about finding a method "to remove the burden of excessive taxation from the property owner."

Mrs. Deedy said "growth has far from stopped" at the college and stressed the need for planning at both the Kentfield and the north campus.

If there is total state financial support, "you are going to have total state control," she warned.

F. J. Picchi of Novato, a challenger, said the district's pay-as-you-go financing cannot provide the physical plant that is needed. He advocated a bond issue "to do the job today" and having it paid for by those "today, tomorrow and tomorrow."

Robert E. Rogers of Tiburon, board president, said the board is trying to offer "what you want," including evening programs for adults. It has been proceeding under the pay-as-you-go program "to the best of its ability," he contended.

MONEY PROBLEM

Thomas A. Skornia of Ross, appointed to the board last December, said the district is facing "a transitional period" and financing "is the heart of the problem."

The key question is distribution of the tax load "between various areas of government," he said. All governmental funds come from the taxpayer's pocket, but "we should make sure that Marin gets its share without sacrificing local control." In his statement, Carr said that, with costs increasing, it is "quite unlikely" that property taxpayers will continue to support the college "unless an increased share of the total costs, or perhaps all, are borne" by state and federal governments.

TWO UNOPPOSED

The session opened with statements from two unopposed candidates for the Kentfield School District Board, incumbents Kenneth L. Treganowen of Kentfield and Lawrence Goldberg of Larkspur.

Goldberg pointed out that the state contributed 52 per cent of the district funds during the 1955-56 fiscal year as compared to 24 per cent during the 1965-66 fiscal year.

During the 10-year period salaries and costs of services and supplies have increased, and the state has mandated programs such as foreign language, he noted.

"In the face of decreasing state support in costs, we have to ask the taxpayer," he explained. "If the local taxpeyer is to have relief, it will have to be from the state legislation."

Treganowern, who had to leave early, told of thrift claimed educational progress in the district and the board's efforts "to do the best to save the tax dollar and still give high quality education."

The neeting was sponsored by the three Parent-Teacher Associations in the Kentfield School District in preparation for the trustee elections April 18.

Marin Democrats To Attend Parley

A dozen official delegates from Marin County Democratic clubs will attend the California Democratic Council convention in Fresno this weekend.

S. Robert Politzer of Sausalito will head the delegation as CDC director from the First Congressional District. He will stand for re-election as First District director, and will introduce a resolution calling for specific actions by the United States to end the war in Vietnam.

Hans Schiller of Mill Valley, chairman for the preparation of the three-day conference, will be a speaker Saturday.

Chinese Travelers Report Heavy Canton Clash Toll

HONG KONG (AP) — At leat 170 people were killed or wounded during clashes between Red Guards loyal to Mao Tse-tung and county officials at Fatshan, near Canton, arrivals from Red China reported today.

The travelers said the most serious clash occurred last Friday when 2,000 Red Guards besieged a Communist party committee office building where about 700 officials were working.

After a lengthy argument, according to the reports, the officials closed all doors and windows of the building.

"The Red Guards eventually smashed the doors and windows and physically subdued the officials and placed them under house arrest," one traveler said.

Wall posters next day reported about 170 people were killed or injured, the sources said.

The travelers said the Red Guards set up kangaroo courts on Sunday and tried Fatshan's Vice Mayor Tsang Kok and several other officials on charges of being "antiparty, anti - Socialist bourgeois counterrevolutionaries."

Other arrivals reported another clash between Red Guards and factory workers occurred Sunday at Fatshan. They said the number of casualties was not known.

One traveler said a "huge" bomb was discovered on the Fatshan highway Saturday and was removed by army troops.

Guitar Stolen

A Mill Valley musician complained to San Rafael police Tuesday night that someone stole his $475 electric guitar from the bandstand in the bar at Bermuda Palms Motel, San Rafael after he finished playing at 1:30 a.m. yesterday.

British Royalty Are Locked Up

LONDON (AP) — British royalty was locked in a London museum yesterday. It turned out to be a mistake. Shortly after Queen Elizabeth II and Princess Margaret had entered the Victoria and Albert Museum, an alarm rang and all exits were slammed and bolted.

Security guards scurried about. Five minutes later they discovered a red-faced student standing by an alarm phone and the search was called off.

"Apparently the student thought it was a public phone," said the museum spokesman.

Obstacles To Goals Cause Of Most Youth Delinquency

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — Youth delinquency travels a double standard route.

This fact is the probable reason boys are five to 10 times more likely than girls to become a social problem, says one University of Michigan investigator.

Dr. Ruth A. Morris suggests that the higher rate for the boys simply means there is the absence of cultural and social support for delinquency among girls —in other words, a double standard.

Dr. Morris and associates in the university's Institute for Social Research interviewed matched groups of delinquent and non-delinquent boys and girls in Flint, the site of a continuing study of family life and youth by institute researchers.

DR. MORRIS SAYS the interviews support the theory that delinquency results most often when factors prevent young people from reaching "culturally defined" success goals. These goals differ for boys and girls.

She said that obstacles to higher social status are most likely to lead to delinquency in boys, obstacles to warm interpersonal relationships most likely to lead to delinquency in girls.

The researcher said that those interpersonal relationships are more often available to girls than social mobility is to boys —ergo, boys, being frustrated in their goals more often also more often turn delinquent.

BOYS' DELINQUENCY is more tolerated by others, including other young people, says Dr. Morris. And girls in the study were less willing than boys to admit previous contacts with police, an indication that they feel more shame about delinquency.

The study also shows there is less social disapproval of boys than of girls for committing the same offenses, the researcher says.

Novelist From Terra Linda To Review Book For TaMar

Alvah Bessie, author, critic, screen writer and journalist, who resides in Terra Linda, will review his new novel, "The Symbol," on Wednesday at 8:30 p.m., at the Terra Linda Recreation Center.

Mrs. Bessie will be the guest of the B'nai B'rith Women's TaMar Chapter.

"The Symbol" is the story of a young movie star in the Hollywood setting.

A screen writer from 1943 to 1950, Mr. Bessie subsequently became one of the "Hollywood Ten," who refused to answer questions of the House Un-American Activities Committee in order to test the committee's constitutional right to exist. For this, he and nine other writers and directors spent a year in prison for contempt of Congress. His autobiography, "Inquisition in Eden," tells of this time in his life.

Mr. Bessie found it impossible to find work in Hollywood under his own name in the past 17 years. During that time, he spent five years as editor and public relations man for the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union; seven years as stage manager, lightman and off-stage announcer for the Hungry i, and one year as public relations man for the San Francisco International Film Festival. He has lived in Marin County for four year.

After the review Mr. Bessie will answer questions concerning his writings. Mrs. Philip Landa is program chairman for TaMar. Mrs. Eugene Lee is hospitality chairman in charge of refreshments.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

If Brother Threatens To 'Rat' To Folks, Head Him Off At Gap

DEAR HELEN:

My brother and I got into some trouble a while back, and got out of it without anything serious happening, but I'd just as soon my parents didn't know about it. I mean, what's over is over — and it would only worry them. I learned my lesson!

But my brother threatens to tell them all about it every time I won't clean up his room for him, or do something that's HIS job. I'm working twice as hard now, just to keep his big mouth shut. What should I do? — WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED:

Use your brain! Your brother couldn't "rat" on you without getting himself in trouble too. So tell him you've decided to give your folks the straight word — it's easier than being his slave.

You can't fight this type of thing any other way.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Back in November I gathered enough nerve to begin a conversation with a girl. Now I see her at school and go to her house on weekends. My problem: I would like to be more aggressive, but an inner force compels me to keep our relationship platonic. I haven't even held her hand yet.

All my friends have completely surpassed me in this field. But I'm afraid I might offend her. Tell me, does a girl of 15 look for aggressive tactics like kissing and hand holding, right away? Or should I be patient and let it happen eventually? — WONDERING

DEAR WON:

A girl doesn't look for "aggressive" tactics right away, but it's been four months, chum. Surely she's begun to wonder: "Does he know I'm a girl?"

Next time you walk her across the street, take her hand, and keep holding it.— H.

DEAR HELEN:

Well, Helen, for once your intuition and good judgment fell. I refer to your reply, "A's aren't that important anyway," when IGNORAMUS wondered if her folks were right in grounding her until she got them (in all subjects).

You must be blind to the facts of college acceptance standards. You have no right to tell ANY student A's aren't important!

College acceptances get tougher every year, and to reach the college of your choice your grades must be "top." True, all young people aren't capable of straight "A's," but don't discourage the ones who are! — MARIE

DEAR MARIE:

Sorry to disagree, but a "straight-A grind" has far less chance of making the "college of his choice" (if it's one of the Big Ten, that is) than a B or B-plus average student who has leadership qualities and proves them by his list of extra activities. "A's" achieved through "grounding" build up parents' self-esteem at the risk of losing a REAL all-around person . . . who studies because he wants to learn, not through fear of punishment. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Thanks for yor wise answer to "Ignoramus," I pray that her parents will realize you are right and that grounding a cooperative, sensible child until she gets all "A's" can be destructive. Proof of overemphasis on grades is all too evident in today's statistics of numerous nervous breakdowns and a tragically high total even of suicides among students.

I would be happy if our children earned all "A's" but we don't push. We only ask that they do their best— and they do, for they know we are pulling for them. A "B" average is all that is needed for college entrance. — E. F. C.

DEAR READERS:

Many colleges accept less than "B" average students. All is not lost if you're in "The High C's" — as your counselor will tell you. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Book Reports On Color Deficiency

NEW YORK (UPI)—Eight men (and less than one woman) out of every hundred are color deficient and may have difficulty telling red from green. Unless their eyes are tested, they may never know they are seeing a less colorful world, according to reports in "The Little Seeing Book," published by the makers of Visine.

The scientist John Dalton, who gave his name to this condition—Daltonism—did not know that he was color deficient until, at the age of 10, he discovered that other children could pick cherries faster than he could because to them the cherries and the leaves were not the same color.

Mrs. William Moschetti Leads Strawberry Guild

Mrs. William Moschetti, who has been a member of Strawberry Guild No. 1 of Sunny Hills for 10 years, was elected president recently. Mrs. Moschetti has served as secretary and treasurer for the guild.

Plans for the benefit dinner to be given June 3 at the Outdoor Art Club, Mill Valley, are occupying the members this spring. All of their activities assist in the support of Sunny Hills Home for Children.

Bette Moschetti is the wife of William Moschetti who works for a commercial refrigeration firm. They have lived in Marin for 16 years, and their daughters are Marcy, 16, and Janis, 12.

Bette attended business college in Fort Wayne, Ind., her favorite pastimes are playing bridge, reading and outdoor activities.

Lots Of Lettuce In Markets From Imperial, Yuma Valleys

NEW YORK (AP)—Let them eat lettuce.

Lots of it.

That is the plea of farmers in California's Imperial Valley and Arizona's adjoining Yuma Valley.

The weather has been ideal, the crop excellent, and green leaves are piling up in supermarkets at low prices.

It is good news for everyone but the farmer, and points up one of the problems of food prices.

The 800 lettuce growers in the Imperial Valley may lose $21 million on the crop, estimates the Western Growers Association in Los Angeles.

Lettuce currently is selling for about 4 cents a head or $1 a carton harvested, trimmed, packed and delivered to shipping points. The association estimates growers must make $1.75 just to break even.

More than 1,000 acres have been abandoned without a head being cut.

"It is time the housewife was told bluntly that she can't expect food to be cheap while the cost of raising, processing and selling it keeps going up," said Robert L. Gibson, president of the California Canners and Growers.

"I have yet to see a consumers' picket line in front of an automobile dealership or a clothing store or a ski lift."

The militant national farmers organization is trying to bring meat and milk supplies more closely into balance with demand, urging members to sell bred cows and sows.

If it works, the number of calves and pigs this spring may be cut sharply enough to raise meat prices this fall. Milk supplies also may be withheld in the months ahead.

The Village Easter Bunny would put Harvey to shame. This big, beautiful (mechanical) bunny is ten feet tall and will appear in The Village on March 11th, 18th and 25th. The Bunny's Easter Basket will be filled with treats and prizes for children accompanied by an adult.

MEMO: To The Easter Bunny . . . if you've been fretting over an appropriate Easter Basket for furry friends, fret no more! MUTTS OF MARIN has filled traditional Easter Baskets with toys and goodies for the family pet to discover on Easter Morn.

FU'S ART STUDIO

Madeleine and Paul Fu are the talented owners of FU'S ART STUDIO. Both are gifted artists and share their talents by offering classes in Chinese Traditional Brush Painting. We have admired their students' paintings and find it hard to believe many are first-time efforts. FU'S ART STUDIO carries an excellent selection of art supplies including all the components for mosaics . . . (if you've always wanted to try this creative "outlet," you'll find advice and inspiration at FU'S.) Expert framing done here by artists who know just how a painting should look. By the way, we have found all the prices at FU'S ART STUDIO are very realistic.

We were flabbergasted by the new, spacious look of The LITTLE DAISY. They have really expanded and will be carrying larger selections of "old favorites," as well as a number of new lines. As a "for instance," the famed Vera label will be represented in dresses, tops, pants, scarves and accessories. Do make a point to drop in at The LITTLE DAISY, we feel certain you will be as pleased as we are.

Any Easter table will glow beautifully with the special candles we spotted at FIESTA CANDLE SHOP. These are shaped as traditional Easter Eggs . . . in pretty colors with lovely decorations. Two sizes available . . . $1.50 and $2.50. Many more exciting springtime table inspirations at FIESTA CANDLE SHOP . . . in both candles and accessories.

Delightfully daffy daffodils blooming from half of a real egg shell at ROJEAN'S CARD & PARTY-SHOP. These would make enchanting decorations for your Easter table. Lovely Easter cards at ROJEAN'S too, as well as many appropriate (and very pretty) Easter decorations.

We understand that many smallish groups and organizations are discovering the banquet facilities at KUBLAI KHAN. This attractive restaurant makes a point of accommodating the small banquet by providing just the space they require, so they don't feel "lost" in a huge banquet hall. KUBLAI KHAN'S menu includes Chinese, Polynesian and American cuisine . . . a variety bound to please every member of your group. This banquet fare is not only palate pleasing but wallet pleasing also, as their prices are most reasonable.

If you too have had problems coinciding business or school hours with optometrist appointments, read on. DR. JOSEPH POMPURA, OPTOMETRIST is in his Village office from 10 to 6 weekdays (except Wed. is by appointment only). Excellent eye care and thoughtful office hours.

The famous Dansk line is well represented at deBEAU'S INTERNATIONALE, LTD. These handsome designs appear in table china, casseroles, wooden ware, salt and peppers and candle holders. The latter are designed with subtle simplicity and deBEAU'S carries the equally good-looking Dansk candles for the holders.

HAPPY HOUSE

These first few weekends that tease us with spring weather, always start us thinking about outdoor cooking which, in turn, starts us in the direction of HAPPY HOUSE. Checked out the Barbecue Dept. here last week and found lots of new things. They have a great collection of long-handled BBQ tools for turning, basting, etc. . . . even for seasoning. The latter item is a tricky salt and pepper shaker on the end of a long handle. HAPPY HOUSE carries sets of mitts, aprons and chef's hats . . . also asbestos mitts. BBQ skewers here too . . . from the short, cocktail hibachi size to a hold-a-complete-dinner length.

This you gotta see . . . the new culotte pajamas at THE HOUR GLASS. Of 100% drip-dry cotton in pastel watercolor print, they are styled with a low back with built-in sash that criss-crosses and ties in front, and are comfortably sleeveless. In the same "hanky-sheer" cotton, THE HOUR GLASS showed us a short gown and peignoir set . . . white background, sprinkled with green polka dots. This sleeveless set would be perfect for travel and the Peignoir doubles fetchingly as a swim-suit cover-up.

Mr. & Mrs. Louis Reimers of L'ENTREE are enjoying a well-deserved vacation. L'ENTREE will re-open on March 28th, but in the meantime you can still phone for catering bookings . . . 383-1323.

Since there's no rule that says you must be Irish to celebrate St. Patrick's Day, here's a way for the Smiths and Joneses to get into the spirit of the occasion . . . Irish Whisky from VILLAGE LIQUORS. Their well-stocked shelves offer typical Gaelic labels such as Bushmill's, John Jameson, Murphy's, Paddy, and Galway Mist. Cheers!

Ladybug, Ladybug, fly away . . . next door and take the Villagers with you. That's just what is happening as the DAISYBUG plans to open next week, adjoining The Little Daisy. The DAISYBUG is a perfect name for this new shop which will carry Villager and Ladybug labels exclusively. These are superb suburban fashions especially appropriate for our Marin living.

We'd like to introduce you to a perfectly charming lady, who is both titled and talented . . . Contessa Angela Desideri. The handsomely carved door of her exquisite shop, CONTESSA ANGELA OF ROMA, opens onto the world of haute couture. (Now, just a darned minute, Mabel . . . come back here! Don't be timid and let the thought of custom designed clothes terrify you and/or your wallet.) The Contessa has any number of things that are most reasonably priced . . . including boutique items for both men and women. If, perchance, you have some fitting problem that makes ready-to-wear shopping a maddening experience, then CONTESSA ANGELA OF ROMA is for you. We have watched in open-mouthed fascination as Contessa Angela "whipped up" a little afternoon frock that conformed absolutely to the buyer's measurements . . . not to what someone else thought they should be. Of course, you can spend fabulous amounts of money on custom designed clothes, but the point we'd like to make is that not all of CONTESSA ANGELA'S creations "cost the world." If you have not visited this shop, you are missing a unique shopping experience.

If you claim a "black thumb" when it comes to gardening (welcome to the club) then we recommend "Sunset Western Garden Book" at CAPRICORN BOOKS. The "green thumb gang" appreciates this just-revised book too, since it is the best of its kind for this geographical area. (You may be mildly interested in what grows well in New England but, as CAPRICORN BOOKS points out, that information does little for the looks of your Northern California garden.)

ALBERTA OF MARIN tells us so many of you paid attention to our items about her sale flowers that she has reordered and this swinging spring sale will continue. These special prices of 10, 19 and 29c are remarkable values on quality, imported (and artfully artificial) flowers. Do see the charming Easter "eggs" in ALBERTA'S window . . . these elegant "eggs" are being created in ALBERTA'S Easter classes.

TEETH MARKS IN YOUR WALLET?

If the family wallet is suffering seasonal teeth marks from the Old Tax Bite, you'll be glad to hear you can still afford to take all the exemptions out for dinner at The HICK'RY PIT. This moderately priced family restaurant features year-round "deductions" that taste just as good as their prices look. The HICK'RY PIT offers a varied menu, excellent service and attractive, informal surroundings . . . other than a tax refund, what more could you ask for?

Fire Extinguishers Stolen From Center

Theft of two chrome plated fire extinguishers worth $70 from Mill Valley Community and Youth Center was reported yesterday to police by Don Dimitrakos, parks and recreation director.

The theft occurred between noon and 3 p.m., he said. One of the extinguishers was discharged inside the center. A louver window was forced to enter the building, police said.

Wilbur Lee, manager of Red Cart Market, 759 East Blithedale Avenue, reported yesterday to Mill Valley police that two bottles of liquor worth $8.76 were taken from the store.

Mrs. Wesley Smith, 4 Plymouth Circle, reported a tent was set up in her back yard, and tools inside it, were stolen.

Mrs. John T. Keane, 566 Panoramic Highway, Mill Valley, told police that gasoline had been siphoned from her car while it was parked opposite 386 Miller Avenue.

Mrs. Albert E. White, 465 Throckmorton Avenue, told police yesterday that the red velvet curtain at the municipal golf clubhouse was torn beyond repair. The curtain was part of the equipment of the Center for the Performing Arts.

Open Primary Bill Planned

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill to establish open presidential primaries in California — patterned after the "Oregon Plan" —will be introduced in the Senate by Sen. Alfred E. Alquist, D-San Jose.

The bill would require the Secretary of State to list the prominently mentioned presidential candidates of both parties on the June primary ballot.

Listed persons, by stating they are not candidates, may have their names removed on request, Alquist said yesterday. This is the practice in the State of Oregon.

Young Cuban Refugee Earns A Scholarship

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Back in 1960 a Cuban mother and father put William Sabates and his younger brother and two sisters on an airplane for the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Guillermo Sabates didn't want the children to grow up under the Fidel Castro regime. Three years later the parents fled Cuba and joined the children in Charlotte.

This week the 99 Morehead scholarship winners were announced and one of them was William Sabates.

His A-minus average for four years had been rewarded with a $7,000 scholarship for four years' study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

An athlete as well as top student, Sabates, 17, has played football, basketball and baseball and is on the track team at Charlotte's Catholic High.

Which sports will he play at North Carolina?

"I want to study," he says. "Studies come first. I'll go out for baseball if I have time. I may try baskttball."

His studies will be premedical, with a major in biology.

"I want to be an ophthalmologist and I hope to do well enough to earn some graduate help," Sabates said.

Recently he watched an operation at a Charlotte hospital because "I wanted to be sure that's what I wanted to be," the dark-haired boy said. "Now I'm sure."

The faculty at Catholic High is almost as elated as Sabates about the Morehead scholarship. It's the first for the school.

Study Center Provides Valuable Aid To Youth

The Marin Study Center, a program under which some 300 volunteers tutor elementary school children in Southern Marin, will be able to limp along through June, despite termination of federal aid last month.

The Center's Advisory Committee, headed by Mrs. John W. Binckley, launched a fund-raising campaign in January and succeeded in saving the program to the end of this school year.

Committee members are now contacting various foundations and other sources of funds so that the four-year-old-project can continue beyond June. We hope they make it.

The Marin Study Center is based largely on self-help. Bulk of the work is done by volunteers, mostly high school and college students with a smattering of adults. Some 300 of these dedicated individuals play the big brother and sister role to elementary school youngsters who need help in school work or encouragement to overcome their problems and frustrations.

Aside from a small paid staff to coordinate the project, the entire program depends on volunteers.

Volunteer student tutors, who could be engaged in more traditional teenage activities like beach parties or snow trips, are devoting their time to helping their juniors.

Student tutors come from at least six different Marin County high schools, and from the College of Marin. A special group of San Francisco State students tutor as part of their formal teacher training.

Warm friendships and racial understanding are developed in the tutor-student relationship on a one-to-one basis. Benefits of the program go far beyond the main objective of helping youngsters in their academic achievements.

The Center operates with minimum drain on the public's pocketbook. We hope that with private and public support, the study center will survive beyond June.

The Daphne Spreads Its Blossoming Time

We have noticed it other years without realizing it. This year, however, we had it called to our attention that a daphne plant opens its buds in rather an unusual fashion. Some clusters of buds remain tightly closed, while others are opening and fading. Then they open, too.

This is why those lucky enough to have these plants in their garden can usually count on a month of one of Marin's enticing fragrances from their tiny, waxen, cream and lavender flowers.

ZOO KEEPER JOGS HIPPO'S MEMORY

A hippo's memory of an old circus trick saved the life of an attendant in a Coventry, England, zoo.

The hippopotamus, enraged with a toothache, seized a 17-year-old keeper in its mouth and dived to the bottom of a 20-foot pool.

The head keeper, remembering a command from the hippo's circus act, rushed to the pool and shouted "Harry, open, open!" when the animal surfaced.

The two-ton beast dropped the young man from its jaws. The teen-ager was suffering from internal injuries, but alive.

The impressions made on the brain, even of a primitive animal, are seldom completely forgotten. They can often be called forth with remarkable swiftness at unexpected moments.

Man, with his vastly superior sensitivity and retentiveness, has a unique responsibility before God and his fellow man to fill his mind with worthwhile thoughts and intentions. Then it is up to him to translate noble ideas into practical action.

"Whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure . . . think about these things." (Philippians 4:8)

AFFAIRS OF STATE

One Unnamed Senator Feels State Leaning To Socialism

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The annual budget analysis submitted to the state legislature by A. Alan Post, legislative analyst, reveals careful comprehensive study by Post and a competent staff of budget experts. For many years, Post has been analyzing proposed expenditures by the state, and coming up with recommended reductions.

The fact that Post's recommendations for reductions this year fell far short of those proposed by Gov. Ronald Reagan is not a matter about which to get excited, for the proposals were made on a different basis entirely.

The Post analysis came up with reductions of around $90 million, but on the other hand, he suggested augmentations of $60 million, making a total net reduction of $30 million.

REAGAN'S BUDGET called for a straight 10 per cent reduction, across the boards, for all government agencies.

In comparing the two proposals, the fact must be recognized that not only were they made on a different basis, but also that the motivations for the decreases are different.

Post's staff analyzes state expenditures almost item by item, recommending increases, decreases, eliminations or no changes as it believes is in accord with good government practices. And it does an excellent job in performing this work.

IN CONTRAST, Reagan believes state expenditures can be cut 10 per cent without damaging either the quantity or quality of state services.

It so happens that both methods are entirely feasible, and a combination of the two, if allowed by the legislature, no doubt would result in material benefits to the taxpayer.

Governor Reagan and Post may differ both as to how to cut state spending and as to how much, but neither can be criticized insofar as the ultimate objective is concerned—making the costs of state government less onerous on the people of California.

Neither Post nor the Governor has the final answer. This lies with the California legislature, which soon must determine the exact amount of proposed expenditure for the fiscal year 1967-68.

And whatever determination is made, it is a known fact, both from Post and Reagan, that taxes must be increased to meet the proposed expenditures, whatever they are.

THE ONLY LOSERS in this game of whether to spend a dollar or 90 cents, will be the people who pay the tax bills. And even if the 90 cent advocates come out on top, the taxpayers still will be losers.

As Post suggests, revisions of present laws regrading state services are necessary for curtailment, and as Reagan suggests, curtailments are necessary within the present structure. Both have the interests of the taxpayer in mind.

Republican Writes Of Indians, Rights

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As liaison agent between Marin County Republicans and the Yurok Indians I wish to thank you and Paul Miller for the fine cartoon March 1.

We didn't take up the Indian cause for grandstanding purposes, as witness the time and effort we have put into it, while your paper is practically the only one ever to make mention of the fact. A little recognition does feel good, however, and we are grateful.

Not large enough to be a catered-to voting block, Indian people have been victims of the most callous disregard by political administrations in Sacramento and Washington, which suffered sprained arms from self-back-patting for other so-called "civil rights" reasons. Pat Brown's Fish and Game Commission arrested Indian fishermen and confiscated their nets and equipment in spite of U. S. Public Law 280, expressly giving them rights to do what they were doing — as the state's courts could not but recognize, though not until the Indians had suffered great hardship and expense. This was not mere disregard but outright persecution.

Then we have former Senate Floor Leader Hubert Humphrey throwing out minimum Indian provisions from the Kennedy Civil Rights Bill with the outlandish and outrageous pronoucement that Indian rights were "not germane to the matter of Civil Rights."

The Yurok Indians, California's leading tribe in both numbers and development, enthusiastically support Ronald Reagan, who gave them more assistance before he ever got into public office than Pat Brown did in eight official years. In fact, you could throw in Johnson and Kennedy too. They also support Don Clausen, the first congressman ever to take action in their behalf.

Once again, our sincerest thanks.

Unemployed Still Paying Full Tax

Editor, Independent-Journal:

After trying to write a letter comprehensible to W. P. Campana who has mastered the difficult problem of passing a Civil Service "exam" —

I was a great deal relieved to find a letter by C. C. Vargas Jr. of Belvedere and Norah Alford of San Rafael in last night's (March 1) Independent-Journal, both of whom express my feelings better than I can write . . .

Now I am not complaining about my own lot in life, but as W. P. Capana states, things are not so rosy for state employees — having only 8 to 11 paid holidays a year — (among other gripes).

Now if W. P. C. realized that the tax paying carpenter and others in affilliated industries were paying for state employees holidays off with pay— and if W. P. C. realized these carpenters and others are required to take these holidays off without pay!. These tax paying tradesmen have been out of work for several months — taxes have not decreased though. The unemployed are still paying a full tax!

W. P. Campana does not have unemployment insurance — how much unemployment has W. P. C. had?

Perhaps W. P. Campana thinks things are not so rosy — but if he will look towards the East — to Berkely campus and the students — then perhaps he will see a rosy glow — more likely a definite red! emanating from those so thoroughly indoctrinated in Communist ways that perhaps schools patterened after those in Russia and Communist China would be much to their liking. I prefer to believe that the majority of young folk at Berkeley are there to receive an education — to become worthy of the trust we place in those who are chosen to lead us in the future. Not those who are indoctrinated by a Communist minority who expound on the campus!

Let Students Obtain Loans For Tuition

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re: Editorial Feb. 22 on college tuition. It has been shown that a college degree is worth $250,000 extra in a graduate's working life. Isn't it fair to assume that a student should be willing to invest in his own future? Every high school graduate that qualifies should have the opportunity for a college degree and those that can not afford it should be given a loan to see them through and be repayable after graduation . . .

Our trouble is the cost of operations and the expenditures in non-essential buildings as well as the memorials these architects build for themselves. There should be one standard type of building, varying only with terrain.

As a point of information, when these learned professors take time off from their classes to picket, strike, march and incite rebellion to these students, are their salaries deducted for the time they take off? . . .

"Apathy" Aptheker, an admitted Communist Party member and student quotes, "This nation's future rests upon the young people of today." My dear "Apathy," so it has been for thousands of years, the old die off and the young take over. Where would you be if your parents and grand-parents and on down the line hadn't taken over. Where would you be if we had not backed the war efforts of previous years. We would have the Chinese, Russians and all of your communistic countries running rampant over our shores . . . I thank God for the privilege of serving my country in World War II and my only regret is that I am too old to serve them again. You see, "Apathy" your future and that of millions of other young people like you rested on the young people of yesterday, the old of today. . . . Consider it a privilege that you have attained your senior status at the expense of myself and millions like me . . .

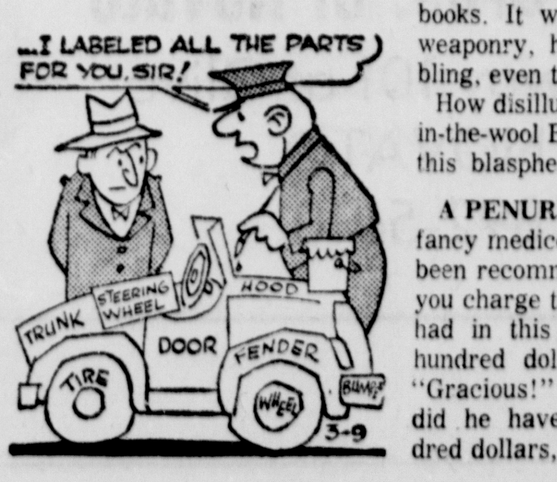
TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

JOHN PEARSON has written a biography of Ian Fleming in which he somewhat denigrates the "expertise" that is a hallmark of the Bond extravaganzas. "It is hard to think of a single subject on which Fleming was a genuine expert," pooh-poohs Mr. Pearson. "His knowledge of fine food was erratic, of wine almost nonexistent. He was a fine driver —but he relied on the advice of others for the detailed facets of automobile technology in his books. It was the same with weaponry, high finance, gambling, even the secret service."

How disillusioning! Will dyed-in-the-wool Bond fans stand for this blasphemy?



A PENURIOUS lady asked a fancy medico to whom she had been recommended, "What did you charge the last patient you had in this office?" "Twelve hundred dollars," he replied. "Gracious!" she gasped. "What did he have?" "Twelve hundred dollars," said the medico.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Ever-Greater Federal Takeover Meets More Doubts In Congress

WASHINGTON — Congress and the country are getting disillusioned with the idea that the best solution to every problem is more Federal money and another Federal agency.

It is most striking that whenever Congress takes the initiative, it looks for ways to cut back the federal role while the White House continues to shower Congress with more let-Washington-do-it proposals.

The Johnson Administration has apparently not yet read the election returns, nor the opinion polls, and has not realistically sounded sentiment in Congress. If the President doesn't respond to the mounting demand to return, in some degree, money and initiative to state and local governments, he will be nourishing bigger political reverses than he encountered last fall.

IT SEEMS TO ME that both fact and voter opinion support Congress in its demand for a new approach.

Some big Federal programs, like urban renewal and public housing, are failing so badly that it is obvious to everybody.

While most Americans, as recently as eight years ago, viewed big labor as a peril, today most Americans see big government as one of the most undesirable trends in public life.

Simultaneously, according to the Gallup Poll, many more voters feel that state and local governments spend tax money more wisely than the Federal Government.

SOMETHING HAS GOT to give and if the Administration does not look in new directions for better answers, Congress is going to.

Criticism of the let-Washington-do-it-all programs comes from Republicans and Democrats alike.

Gov. George Romney holds that the Administration is failing to solve the problem of the cities because "it is relying primarily on Federal money, Federal power, and Federal control and that approach won't work."

Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., holds that:

"WE HAVE reached a new stage in America where we have to take a new approach to the problem of the cities. The Great Society is at an end of an era. We are now ready to enter a new era."

Senator Ribicoff has valid credentials. He is not at all hostile to the President but was the guiding hand behind Senate hearings which brought many Federal programs into question.

Ribicoff, while not proposing that present programs be precipitately cut back, is clearly moving in the direction of wanting to utilize the private economy more effectively and to enlarge the role of state and local governments.

HE SUGGESTS we ought to "phase out public housing and go into ownership housing."

He aims to create "neighborhood agencies" to make many of the decisions now made in Washington.

He is convinced that with government guarantees of cheap credit, "private industry can build cheaper and better than any non-profit organization."

He opposes all talk about a guaranteed income for everybody on the ground that "what people most want are jobs and self-respect, not hand-outs." He would make the government "the employer of last resort" when the private economy is not providing enough jobs.

OBVIOUSLY there will be no instant and large reduction of the pervasive reliance on Federal power. The cut-back will be slow, but opinion and pressure are moving things in that direction.

Even a Great Society liberal like Vice President Humphrey shows he feels that the Federal Government can get too big when he says, "It is just as wrong for the Federal Government to attempt to do too much as to do too little."

Wallace To Test Strength In Ohio

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — With his sights set on the 1968 presidential race, former Alabama Gov. George Wallace has picked Ohio to launch his budding political ambitions north of the Mason-Dixon Line.

Supporters, meeting here in private to discuss national strategy, report planning is well advanced in that northern industrial state for the creation of a third party — the George Wallace Christian Conservative party.

HEADED BY Robert Annable, a Cleveland electronics technician, the Ohio Wallace-for-President group will begin later this month to circulate petitions to obtain the 443,100 signatures necessary to put Wallace's third party on the May 7, 1968, presidential primary ballot.

Wallace, planning to begin his political stumping in the north soon, is now linking up several speaking engagements in Ohio, including Cleveland.

In this trip, Wallace will rely on mass rallies which highlighted his 1964 Democratic presidential primary campaigns, but this time will direct his appeal for support to Republicans as well as Democrats.

If the petition drive goes well in Ohio, others will be organized during the spring in New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Illinois, Wisconsin, Nebraska and California.

IN MARYLAND, regarded as fertile Wallace terrain because of his big vote in the 1964 presidential primary, supporters already have begun checking state law to determine legal requirements for qualifying a third party.

As part of his strategy to become a national rather than just a southern regional candidate, Wallace will soon open a "Washington office" to help coordinate the organization of his third party.

A newsletter, designed to keep Wallace-for-President groups informed of national developments, will soon be published from here or Wallace's Alabama headquarters.

WALLACE IS ALSO considering trips to South Vietnam, Korea and West Berlin to visit U.S. troops in order to prepare himself for a series of foreign policy speeches calling for tougher U.S. policies toward the Soviet Union and Communist China.

For instance, both parties are assessing the significance of the fact that the principal organizers of the Wallace-for-President group in Ohio are all former supporters of Barry Goldwater.

Political leaders of both parties are keeping a weather eye on the congressional race in Rhode Island to fill the seat made vacant by the death of Democratic Rep. John Fogarty.

IN ADDITION to being the first congressional contest since November, the special March 28 election is developing into a test of President Johnson's Vietnam policies.

Democratic candidate Robert Tiernan, Warwick attorney, is supporting the administration's Vietnam stand, while GOP challenger James DiPrete, mayor of Cranston, is following the strategy of Michigan's Governor Romney.

A third peace candidate, Rev. Albert Berry of Providence, is supporting the Vietnam stand of Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y.

Desk Cleaning Produces Some Items That Didn't Make News

Spring cleaning time around the news room, so for what it's worth, here's the gleanings of items that didn't make the news pages but I can't bear to throw away.

Item 1. Kaiser Hospitals Foundation, which took over the Terra Linda Valley Hospital, plans to expand facilities, by hook or by crook by September, even if it means putting up portable buildings.

Currently there are 20,000 Kaiser plan members resident in Marin County (membership's closed here) and most journey to San Francisco for treatment because their doctors' offices are located in the city. Terra Linda hospital administrator Norman Thompson said this is changing rapidly and sufficient doctors now belong to the Kaiser group here.

HIGH ON the priority list is an obstetrics ward — it's a long trip by freeway and across the bridge, especially if a woman living in Novato or West Marin goes into labor in the commute hour.

Item 2. Every new building seems to get wall-to-wall carpeting as standard equipment now. Ross General Hospital's smashing new intensive care unit is carpeted in nylon. So is the somewhat less smashing San Rafael city hall. I always feel nervous walking into the San Rafael police department on a rainy day. Do muddy footprints on gorgeous gold carpets constitute a misdemeanor?

INCIDENTALLY, did you know that a favorite occupation for kids in Marin's carpeted school libraries is giving each other shocks? They sit on the metal chairs, rub their feet rapidly across the nylon carpeting then touch each other quickly. The static electricity fairly leaps across.

Item 3. One of the troubles at San Quentin, albeit a minor one, is beans.

The trouble is that the prison diet is too heavy on the beans. The meat ration at state penal institutions is six ounces carcass weight per man per day. Associate warden James Park told me that beans, a low cost high protein food, substitute for meat, and appear on the menu frequently.

"There's only so many ways you can cook beans," he reflected, "and if an inmate's been here five years or more he's sampled the full range of bean recipes and then some."

WHEN MARIN County high school students visited the prison recently they all came back with the same complaint from inmates. The food. But then, it's not designed to be a five-star restaurant, is it?

Item 4. Saw a stockbroker-type methodically walking up and down Stinson Beach with a geiger counter. Am delighted to report that all he turned up were old beer cans and seaweed.

Talking of beachcombing, which is always pleasant, Agate Beach at Bolinas must have become more well-known. On weekends when the tide is out, the county parking lot, admirably maintained, is overflowing. A few weeks ago after a storm several jeeps were driven down on to the beach. A Terra Linda woman told me she was collecting seaweed for organic gardening "marvelous fertilizer", and dozens of people were gathering driftwood for firewood.

ITEM 5. SYNANON House at Marshall, the drug rehabalitation center, is operating a school for residents' children. It's terribly avant-garde, the pre-schoolers have French lessons and there are more adult helpers than the 16 pupils.

The children, said teacher Nancy Clark, are expected to become "self-actualizing". I didn't understand what that means, and after she'd explained still didn't know.

Item 6. Never thought I'd hear it, but in a San Rafael school the other day I heard the principal, no less, tell a rambunctious second - grader "Keep your mouth shut kid". Three Cheers! There's hope for us all, the self-actualizers haven't quite conquered the world.

MORRIE RYSKIND

Ultra-Intellectual Fellows Pushing Us Back 700 Years

IT USED to be standard American politicking for the party out of power to portray the lamentable state of the union under the incumbents as a veritable bedlam, winding up with the phrase: "The lunatics have taken over the madhouse." The wheeze was ancient, to be sure, but we are aficionados of campaign exaggeration, and it was always good for a partisan guffaw.

But what was hyperbole is now too close to reality for comfort — and nowadays that gag won't even raise a giggle. 'Tain't funny any longer, McGee.

Not when the schizophrenics who think they are Napoleon, Alexander the Great, Plato, Freud, Mahatma Gandhi and King Canute have taken over the institution and begun to put straitjackets on the rest of us who don't qualify as "intellectuals."

NOT WHEN WE'VE had over 50,000 casualties in a war which we must fight with one hand tied behind our back; not when we are urged to cease firing at an enemy who has used every armistice not to talk peace but to rebuild his forces, while we sat by, true to our pledge to the foe but unfaithful to the men we sent to fight for us.

Not when a bunch of kids, barely out of high school, take over our state universities and would dictate the rules to the administration and the taxpayers. Not when they can lie down and sit in and otherwise demonstrate for their "rights," and a sizable group of professors, instead of enforcing discipline, can cheer them as leaders and thinkers and brag that this generation, unlike all others, is "involved."

I CAN'T HELP marveling at how fast these lads matured after getting their high school dipolmas. What is the extra-curricular courses in marijuana and LSD — frowned on by Know-Nothings, but approved by so many intellectuals — that gave them their insight and made them so much wiser than their uninvolved classmates?

And if those cheering professors of the University of California know so bloody much, why don't they tell the governor how to balance the budget? Since their salaries come out of that budget, is it not properly their concern, too? Or is Higher Education too sacred an institution for economic reality to enter?

To voice such thoughts is to be sternly reminded that you are a troglodyte who must be dragged, willing or not, into this glorious 20th century. Youth must be served, you old fuddy-duddy.

I MAY BE AN old fuddy-duddy, but this intellectual elite is not heading for the 20th Century. Rather it is pulling us back to the 13th.

There certainly hasn't been so much reverence for youth since the Children's Crusade of 1212. Then, too, there were child leaders who became "involved." A French shepherd boy felt the call to retake Jerusalem and actually persuaded thousands of youngsters, who he proused to lead dry-shod through the seas even as Moses, to follow him; and in Germany another child leader attracted 20,000 to join his crusade.

And there were intellectuals who cheered them on then ,too. Indeed, Innocent III actually wrote, "The very children put us to shame; while we sleep, they go galdly forth to conquer the Holy Land."

BUT IN THE END, the shepherd boy's army was kidnapped by slave-dealers and sold into Egypt; of the German expedition we have no trace, though Britannica says the legend of the Pied Piper of Hamelin stems from it.

I have a theory, however, that some of the latter survived, formed a colony of their own and, after years of inbreeding, eventually found their way to America, where their descendants are not known as the intellectual elite of the New Left.

They have given up the idea of recapturing Jerusalem and are concentrating instead on building a new Tower of Babel.

And the confusion of tongues, I fear, is already on us.

Group Therapy Will Battle Hermit Fears

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Formation of a sort of "alcoholics anonymous" for agoraphobics was announced this week by a group of "graduate" patients at the Behavior Therapy Institute in Sausalito.

Agoraphobia, a dread of open and public spaces, socially cripples its victims, yet often is untreated because victims and their families learn to adjust to the "inconvenience." It just isn't worth paying $25 an hour to a psychiatrist for 300 to 400 hours, they feel, to overcome their problem.

GROUP PROPOSAL

The Behavior Therapy Institute, however, claims successful treatment of agoraphobics in small groups of six to eight persons — in 20 to 30 hours.

The group probably will meet three times a week "to keep up momentum," said a successfully treated patient—once for two hours at the institute with a psychologist, once at the home of a member of the group, and once on an outing.

Because agoraphobics depend upon others to look after and serve them, the group also plans to meet once a month with spouses.

HOW IT WORKS

"We will share our achievements and failures and can talk to one another on the telephone and visit with one another," said a spokesman for the anonymous group. "If you have a nervous day at home and want help, someone will come to help you."

Agoraphobia generates other fears, such as being near strangers. Most agoraphobics are women, apparently because they have more opportunity than men to withdraw into the sanctum of their homes, the spokesmen said.

Patients organizing the group agree it is impossible for "outsiders" to understand their problem. "It came on me all of a sudden one day," explained one. "While riding a crowded bus home from work, I suddenly felt sick and almost passed out. Each day it became more terrifying for me to ride the bus.

ELEVATOR TERROR

"Then I began to have the same feeling riding the elevator up to my office — which was on the 25th floor. I had to get off every five or six floors and stand there for a few minutes before I could ride up the next couple of floors. Everything became so hard for me, and I didn't have to work, so I quit.

"Before long, I began spending all of my time inside my house — asking my children and husband to get anything for me I needed outside the house. I even gave up going to the market. I couldn't even get myself out to the end of the driveway to get the mail.

"All I could do was sit in my living room all day and brood about myself. And the prospect of a visitor gave me heart palpitations."

'LIVES AGAIN'

Now, she said, the institute has taught her "to live again."

The institute, one of a handful in the nation using behavior therapy to treat patients, opened in March. Director is Dr. David Fisher, who also serves as a research associate with the school of public health at University of California at Berkeley.

College Officials Give Pro Football Pat On Back

NEW YORK (AP) — The American and National Football Leagues received a pat on the back today after doing away with the redshirt draft which had left a number of rednecked college football coaches.

College conference commissioners throughout the country praised yesterday's announcement that the first combined player draft will be held next week and prohibits selection of athletes redshirted by colleges.

"This is not anything we specifically asked for," said Commissioner Bill Reed of the Big Ten and former chairman of the Professional Relations Committee of the NCAA, "but it is evidence of the cooperation we were led to believe we could expect from pro football."

Dr. Paul Brechler, commissioner of the Western Athletic Conference, also expressed satisfaction at the arrangement.

"It will help college football," he said, "and whatever helps college football can't help but be good for pro football, as well. I felt that this was coming and it should help solve quite a few problems for universities and university athletes."

Howard Grubbs, executive secretary of the Southwest Conference, and A.M. (Tonto) Coleman, commissioner of the Southeastern Conference, joined in the praise and Coleman explained why.

"Not only student athletes but students are taking more than four years to graduate," he said, "and I think it will be better for everybody concerned if they are permitted to finish their college careers without having to be concerned with problems that would result in their being drafted.

"Then, too, I think the pros will have a better evaluating of the athlete's ability and at the same time the athlete can better plan his future."

The previous plan allowed the pro leagues to draft redshits — the NFL in the regular draft and the AFL in a special draft — and it left college coaches angry over losing players who still had a year of eligibility remaining.

A redshirt is a player who sat out a year of football college and retained that year of eligibility after his class has graduated.

Under the adopted compromise plan, pro Commissioner Pete Rozelle said no player with collegiate eligibility remaining can be drafted until five seasons of football had elapsed since he first entered a recognized college.

Rozelle said 17 rounds of the draft would be held in New York starting Tuesday and might continue another day or two. He estimated 445 players would be chosen by the 16 NFL teams and nine AFL clubs, including 20 extra picks by New Orleans, the NFL's newest team.

If There's Derby Brawl, Watch Out For Ruken

The hardest thing for a racetracker to do is say nice things about a horse. They deal in more understatement than a British war movie. For instance, when they say a horse is a "useful" sort, this can either mean he earns more than he eats — or he has just broken every record Man O' War set. Normally, it's the former.

WHEN THEY SAY a horse is "cheap" they mean exactly that. He is not picking up the tab for his groceries. He is the equine equivalent of the check-dodger. When they say he is "an honest sort," they mean he pays his bills, i.e., he tries to win purses. Stables, you see, aren't the only things that don't try on a race track. The horse is sometimes shopping for a price, too.

THE NICEST THING anyone around the barns ever said about Ruken, the three-year-old horse, was that he was "useful." They never had to rewrite any races because he showed up, though he did win the one time the punters sent him out at 6-to-10 which is a nice habit to cultivate. His sire, a Liz Whitney-colt named Nashville, tended to pack it in after a mile-and-a-sixteenth and go looking for the nose bag.

They named Ruken after a guy who sat up all night with a foaling mare (the mare was later Ruken's dam) but the spelling got fouled up because Ruken's owner is the kind of guy who dictates letters, and if you know today's stenography, he's lucky it didn't end up "Ruben." Or, for that matter, "Elmer." It should have been "Rukin," but the horse, of course, doesn't care.

RUKEN'S OWNER, Louis Rowan, comes of a family who was building height-limit office buildings in Los Angeles in the days before many of us had even seen one. He rode No. 1 at polo, got a 5-goal rating (in the National League this would average out at about a .270 hitter) and he helped Gen. Patton write off the German army around Bastogne in World War II.

Lou Rowan had a horse a few years ago called Coursing, who left a trail of broken clocks from one end of California to the other, and they were measuring him for a statue when he broke down. Ruken, by comparison, looked like he was pulling a wagon in his works.

LOU ROWAN, casting about for something for Ruken to do between feedings, tried him on the grass once. This is akin to watching a rookie in the batting cage for a few disillusioning afternoons, and then saying, "I wonder if he can pitch?"

Ruken won easily on the grass one second off the track record, but no one threw his hat in the air, because the rest of the field seemed to think the grass was for eating. Besides, the track ran downhill which is what the rest of the country thinks ALL California tracks do. There is very little market for horses that can run only downhill. They are like batters that can hit only changeups.

WHAT LOU ROWAN liked about Ruken was not his time but his instinct for the going. He was an infighter. On the ranch, he settled the issue with every sibling colt who tried to bite him off the choice grazing.

It turned out this was a more useful talent than speed. The three-year-olds at Santa Anita this winter couldn't have been rougher if the jockeys were waving swords. The horses had all the manners of ladies at a nylon sale.

FORTUNATELY FOR MEN, horses have no taste for violence, a slight tug on the saddle cloth for most of them and they need smelling salts. But Ruken is like a fighter who fights best after his nose starts to bleed, or he goes down.

In the San Felipe he was only a nose out of the picture, although they had to take Disciplinarian off him in the stretch. In the Santa Anita Derby, he left-hooked his way to the finish line first, and now goes on to Kentucky for the big one.

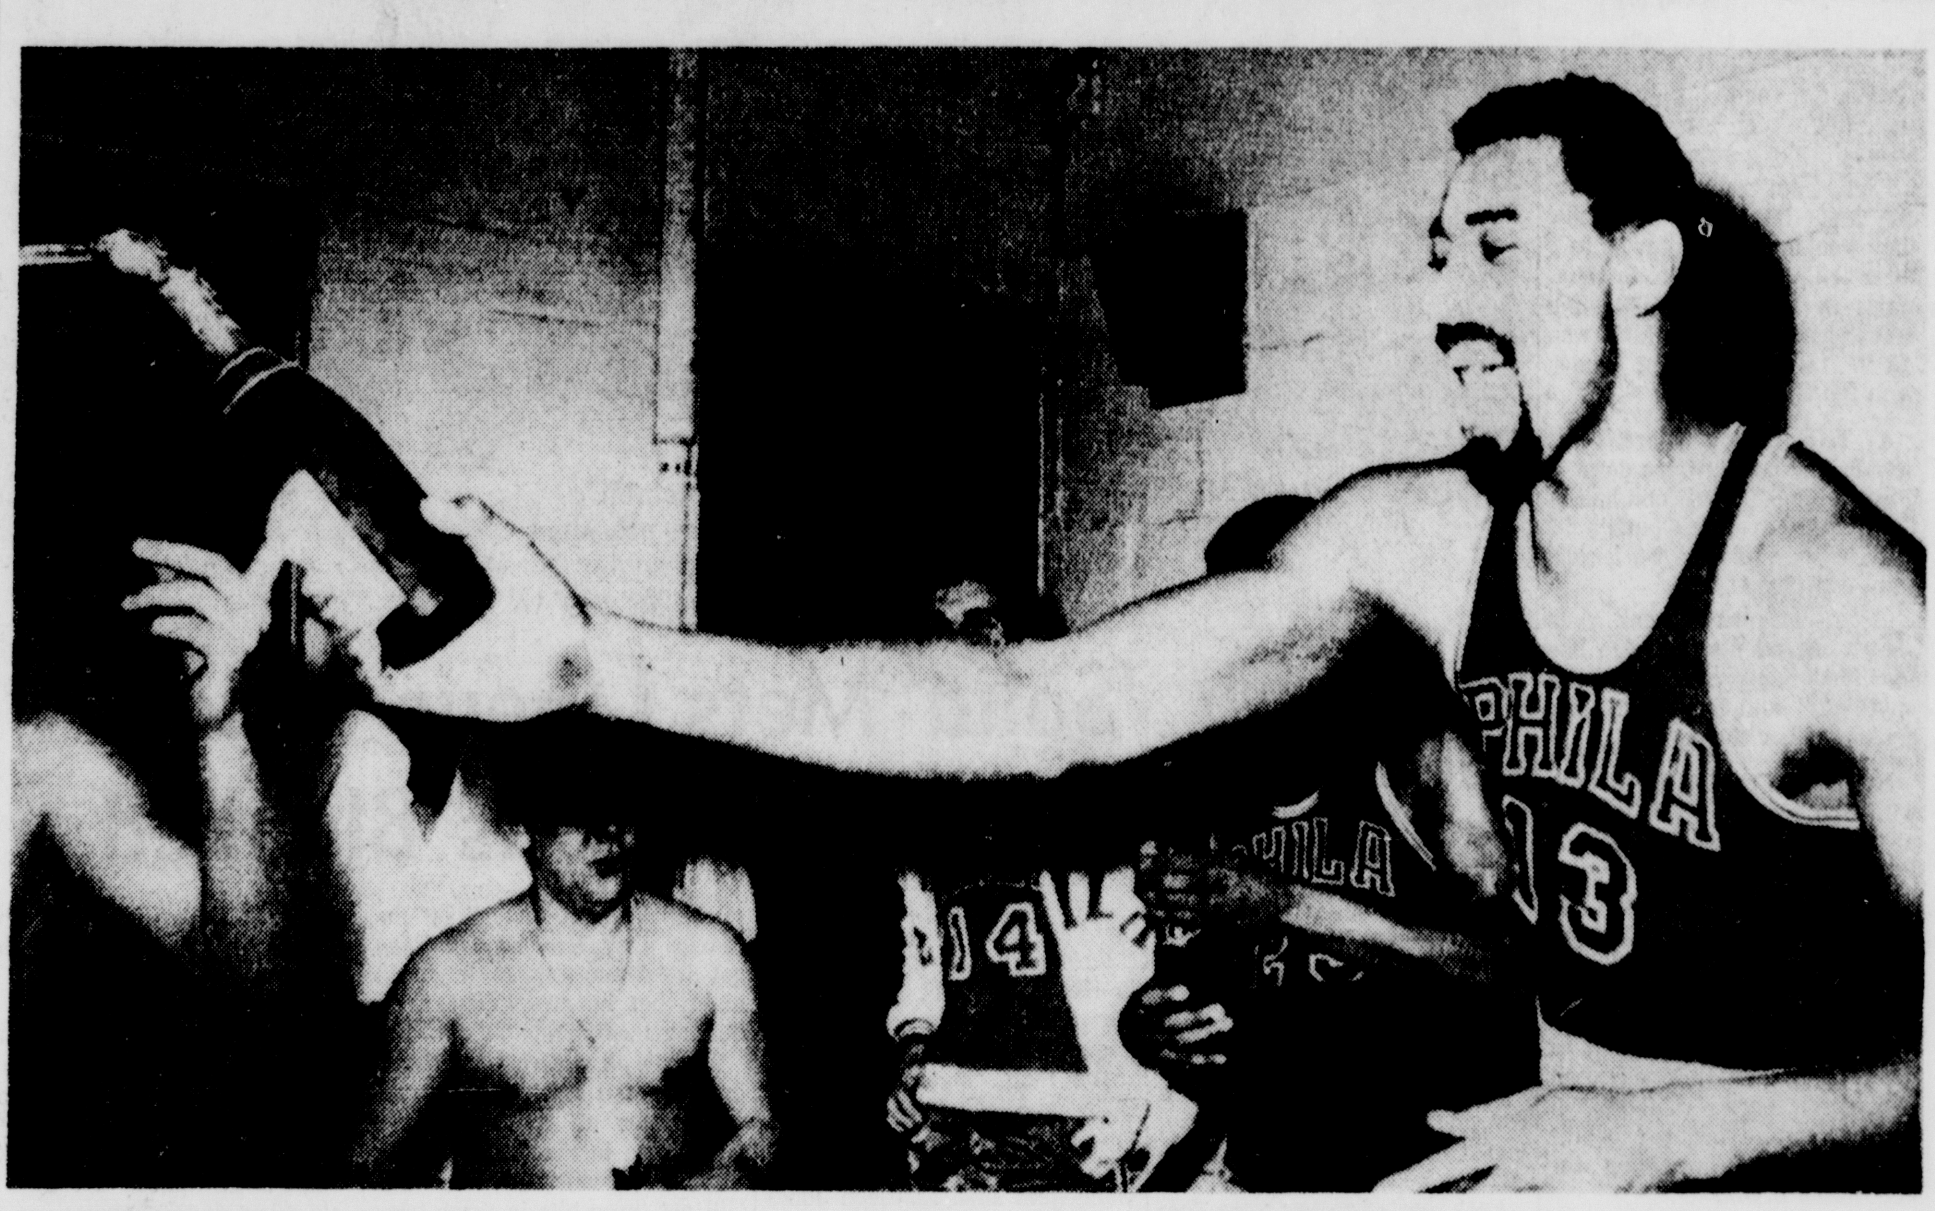
I'LL SAY THIS for him: Maybe he can't win fast races, but if the field stops to fight, get the rose blanket ready for Ruken at Churchill Downs.

Top Guns To Compete

One hundred of Northern California's outstanding pistol shooters will compete Sunday in a tournament sponsored by the Tamalpais Revolver Club at the San Rafael Police Pistol Range.

TRC President Herman Bottini said the American Rifle Association-sanctioned tournament would start at 9 a.m. and continue throughout the day.

Four-man teams representing police and sheriffs departments, military units and civilian clubs will vie for medals and points toward season championships. Some of the outstanding marksmen entered, according to Bottini, are Offutt Pinion of Oakland, former Olympic champion of San Francisco, Undersheriff Sid Stinson of Marin County, Fred Markell and Jack Ahern of San Francisco and C. E. Boomhower of Sacramento.



HE DIDN'T DRINK MILK—You've heard of the breakfast of champions? This is the nightcap of champions after they win titles, as Wilt Chamberlain demonstrates with a playful splash. (AP Wirephoto)

TOURNAMENT OF CHAMPIONS

Second Year For Brown's Bucs

By GARY TISCHLER

Much has been written and said of Carl "Red" Brown, age 52, the former bar owner who did not and does not drink, ex-gas station jockey and pipe fitter, the man who, at a time of life when most men begin to count unhatched retirement checks, went to college, got a degree, became a teacher and a coach, and later, a member of the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission and Board of Education.

But not very much has been said of Carl "Red" Brown, the coach.

Brown the coach will be making his second trip to the Tournament of Champions, this time in the Oakland Arena, when he takes his Marin County Athletic League champion Drake Pirates to battle Newark in first-round play at 7:30 tonight.

"Red" Brown is no longer "Red." But his face still looks like something etched out of very rugged, sturdy rock.

In a sport that has suffered the screaming histrionics of the likes of Bones McKinney and Red Auerbach and bench theatrics on all levels of play, Brown is like the Statue of Liberty in a hurricane.

Nobody on the other side of the court has ever heard him yell. Like the indomitable Englishman who searches for a teacup on the beach at Dunkirk, Brown remained calm and collected during the middle of one of the more achingly pressurized games this year when the Pirates squeezed out Tamalpais, 46-45, in a seething cauldron.

"I don't think it does any good to jump up and scream," Brown said. "The boys see you do it and they'll get excited, too."

The philosophy shows in his players. The Pirates made mistakes, sometimes costly ones, but they didn't make them in bunches. They never crumbled like dry cookies or bolt under pressures.

"That's one thing about them," Brown said. "They're poised. Against Marin Catholic, when they were a point behind with seconds to go. They didn't run down there and shoot it up. They set up a play until they got the good shot. They think for themselves."

Not that Brown does not get caught up by the tempo of a game.

"I feel it inside," he said. "After that Tam game, I couldn't go to sleep. I couldn't relax for hours."

CARL BROWN

'Bubbly' Flowing For 76ers

BOSTON (UPI) — Hal Greer wore an "I told you so" grin when he was carried off the court on the shoulders of his teammates.

Greer, the spunky Philadelphia guard, was glad to be resting. He had just netted a 40-foot set shot with three seconds remaining in an overtime session that beat the Boston Celtics 115-113 last night and earned the 76ers their second straight Eastern Division championship.

The veteran backcourt man, who scored a game high of 37 points, was playing on sheer guts to help nail down the title. He suffered a cramp in his right leg with about five minutes to go in regulation time and grimly held on in the extra session.

PREDICTS TITLE WIN

"I told a writer before the season started that we'd win the division title by six or seven games," Greer chortled in the dressing room as Philadelphia players passed around the champagne in celebration. "Look at us now. We're leading by eight games."

Philadelphia Coach Alex Hannum will have his 76ers practicing a lot in the coming days as the club seeks to break a Boston stranglehold on the National Basketball Association title that has brought the Celtics nine consecutive championships.

Hannum said he had played his regulars more during the season, but worked the subs well in practice sessions.

It was the regulars, naturally, who carried the ball last night to set a new club mark of 63 victories in a season and top the record of 62 previouly established by Boston.

SCORE DESPITE INJURIES

And they did it with minor injuries picked up during the battle. Bill Cunningham, who hurt an elbow during a second period fall, scored 21 points for Philadelphia, Wilt Chamberlain sustained a groin injury in a third period scramble for a loose ball, but stayed in to contribute 17 points, control the boards and pass off for scores. Wally Jones bruised his right knee in a first quarter collision with Sam Jones, but went on to tally 16 points.

It was Chamberlain, Cunningham and Greer who led a drive that made up a 15-point deficit in the third period. Greer hit on nine points early in the fourth quarter to close the gap.

Philadelphia finally edged into a 102-100 lead only to lose its chance at winning the game in regulation time when Baily Powell tipped-in the tying basket at the buzzer.

Pros Start Swinging In Citrus Open Golf

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Lionel Hebert felt so good starting defense of his Citrus Open Golf Championship today that he was almost worried sick.

Last year the 39-year-old Louisianan cracked a four-year victory drought by capturing the Citrus crown while he was feeling lousy.

"I was so sick last year that if I had been given an early starting time on the first round I wouldn't have played," the stocky veteran of 17 years as a pro said.

"I wasn't playing very good, and I had just changed clubs and didn't even know what I could do with them," Hebert recalled before going out to try to turn back the challenge of all the big names in golf except Billy Casper, who passed up the $115,000 tournament.

"I feel great this year, and I'm playing a lot better than I was in 1966 at this time," Hebert said. "I don't know what that means — because when I felt lousy I wound up pretty good last year."

Hebert had not won a title since the 1962 Memphis Open until he took the Citrus Championship last year with a 279-stroke total on the par 71 Rio Pinar course. That helped him to his best money year as a pro, although Hebert hasn't won a title since his victory here.

Hebert believes he will have to score much better this year to win, because last year he started with a 71 — five strokes off the lead — and won only when the early leaders faltered.

"I can't spot people five strokes and win very often," Hebert said.

Hebert's biggest challenge was expected to come from Doug Sanders, who apparently is off to another Florida surge.

The flamboyant Georgian won the Doral Open crown last Sunday to pick up his fourth Florida title in three years, and he likes to play in the state.

"I play well in Florida because I'm used to the grass on Florida courses," Sanders said. "And I'm still strong at this time of the year. Later in the summer I sometimes run out of steam, but I've got plenty of power now."

By winning, Sanders could join Arnold Palmer as the only double winners on the tour. Palmer has won the Los Angeles and Tucson titles this year.

All of this year's tournament winners are in the field, including Bob Goalby, Jack Nicklaus, Tom Nieporte, Julius Boros, Palmer and Sanders.

Also battling for the $23,000 jackpot that goes to the winner is Gary Player, South African veteran making his 1967 debut in this country after two triumphs at home.

Palmer was the most impressive in the pro-am, winning pro honors with a five-under-par 66 with six birdies and a bogey. Nicklaus, Frank Beard and Al Geiberger turned in 70s.

Giants' Pitching Rotation Set For Exhibition Games

PHOENIX ARIZ. (UPI)—For 10 days now the San Francisco Giants have been busy trying to work out the winter kinks, strenghten their legs and arms and regain their wind.

Today, the serious work toward rounding into shape for the 1967 National League campaign begins. While the veterans work to perfect their various skills, the rookies start the battle of survival.

There are 41 men on the roster and only 25 will make it to May 11—one month after the start of the season.

It all takes place at Papago Park, the Giants' permanent spring base in Phoenix. Until now they have been conditioning themselves at Casa Grande, the little desert sunspot about 40 miles south of here.

Tomorrow, the exhibition season gets underway at nearby Scottsdale with a game against the Chicago Cubs, led by former Giants skipper Leo Durocher. From there on there won't be a day off until the bell rings on April 11 with the exception of Good Friday, March 24.

29 GAMES

In all, the Giants will play 29 exhibition games in 30 days against the Cubs, Cleveland Indians and California Angels plus one against Santa Clara enroute home.

Bob Bolin, Joe Gibbon, Ron Herbel and Lindy McDaniel will do the pitching for the Giants tomorrow with Ray Sadecki, Art Mahaffey, Bill Henry and Frank Linzy slated for duty against the Indians at Tucson on Saturday.

The club plays its first game in Phoenix on Sunday —again against the Indians —with Gaylord Perry, Mike McCormick, Frank Kasheta and Don Larsen the pitching candidates. The game will be telecised back to San Francisco in color.

ONE STRANGER

Of the 12 pitchers working during the weekend only one is a total stranger, and that is the 27-year-old Kasheta, who was drafted out of the Boston Red Sox organization in 1963 and since has pitched at Reading, Springfield, Waterbury and Phoenix, all Giants farm clubs except Reading.

Mahaffey belongs to the St. Louis organization and is with the Giants this spring on a "look-see" basis. Art won 19 games for the Phillies only three years ago and then developed arm trouble.

McCormick, a former bonus baby with the Giants, returned to the club during the winter in a trade with Washington, while Larsen, baseball's only world series "perfect game" pitcher, is back trying to make the club after being sold to the Houston Astros in 1964. Larsen technically is on the Phoenix roster.

Pitching coach Larry Jansen is more than pleased with the condition of his pitchers to date.

"They're all ready now," said Jansen yesterday as the Giants took the day off while closing up the Casa Grande base and moving into Phoenix. "With 29 games against big league clubs, the fringe guys will eliminate themselves as we go along while the veterans will work to perfect what they already know."

JUAN STILL OUT

The Giants' only disappointment is the continued absence of star righthander Juan Marichal, who is still at home in the Dominican Republic fighting for a raise from $75,000 to $100,000. The Giants reportedly have offered the 25-game winner of 1966 a boost to $90,000.

"I'm not really worried about Juan at the moment," said Jansen, "but I will be pretty soon if he doesn't sign. I figure a pitcher needs a month to get ready, three weeks at the outside."

A year ago, Marichal didn't sign until 10 days before the start of the regular N.L. campaign and then won his first 10 starts, all route-going performances.

Junior College Playoffs Start

SANTA MARIA (UPI) — The State Junior College basketball playoffs get underway today at Allan-Hancock JC.

In a pair of afternoon games Laney College of Oakland takes on Imperial Valley and San Joaquin Delta meets Long Beach. The night pairings are City College of San Francisco vs. Riverside CC and Hancock vs. Pasadena CC.

Semi-finals in both the championship flight and the consolation round will be played Friday and the finals are set for Saturday.

Some Doubt On Spencer Title Bout

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Willie Ketchum, San Francisco heavyweight Thad Spencer's co-manager, claimed a title fight with Cassius Clay for his boy in July at the Cow Palace today, but there was some doubt whether the fight would take place.

Ketchum joyously announced yesterday that arrangements for a Clay-Spencer fight have been completed with Cassius' manager, Herbert Muhammed.

"He (Muhammed) told me right after Clay's March 22 fight with Zora Folley in New York he would send signed contract papers to the California Boxing Commission," said Ketchum."

Standing in the way of a Spencer-Clay fight in San Francisco in July is anouncement out of Ghana that Clay will defend his title against an unnamed opponent in Accra in July.

Brannick Has Simple Formula For winning Flag: Beat Mets

HANLEY

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. — Eddie Brannick, a student of major league baseball for more than six decades, gave Herman Franks a simple formula for a 1967 Giant pennant today.

"All you have to do," Brannick told Franks, "is beat the Mets or Cubs."

The manager of the Giants smiled at the sage advice from the club's veteran secretary who will be 75 on July 22.

"YOU ARE SO right, Eddie," said Franks. "I just don't know what happens to us when we meet the Mets and Cubs."

Franks, of course, knew what happened last year but he could not bring himself to say it. No manager likes to admit his team beat itself. The Giants beat themselves in at least two games with the Mets last season and two more with the Cubs — more than enough to make them No. 2 finishers instead of pennant winners.

BRANNICK'S PENNANT formula of clobbering second division teams and breaking even with first division contenders is as old as baseball itself. Nevertheless, Brannick firmly believes it should be restated each spring.

"John McGraw," said Brannick, "never thought repetition of truisms hurt anybody. He expected his teams to wallop the second division clubs. And he wasn't interested in excuses if they didn't."

EVEN THE GREAT McGraw could not have found fault with the way the 1966 Giants manhandled the Cubs 10-1 in their first 11 games. But he undoubtedly would have been slapping stiff fines on last season's Giants for winning only two of their final seven games with the Cubs.

Right from the start last year, the Mets let the Giants know they wouldn't be patsies. Indeed, after taking the Giants to 17 innings in their first 1966 game before bowing 5-4, the Mets won six of their next eight games with the Giants.

AT THE ALL-STAR break last season, the Giants were down 3-6 to the Mets. The second half of the season gave the Giants a 6-3 edge so they finished 9-9 for the year with the Mets.

"You just can't break even with a second division club like the Mets and expect to win anything," said Brannick. "You got to clobber them."

NOBODY COULD FIND fault with that kind of logic, least of all the Dodgers whose National League pennants of recent years were rooted in romps over the Mets. The Dodgers never have permitted the Mets the dignity of a season split.

Last season the Dodgers weren't as rough on the Mets as they usually are. However, their 12-6 season mark over them was quite adequate because of the Giant courtesy in giving the Mets a 9-9 break.

Second Straight TOC For Brown And Bucs

Brown does not teach flashy basketball. This year's team would not have run up 100 points on a fast break.

If one word sums up Brown and basketball it is defense.

"Of course, you have to score points," Brown said. "But you have to play defense."

"You don't always get boys who want to play defense," he said. "Sometimes they just don't want to and there's nothing you can do about it. But the boys this year did. They took pride in their defense, right down to the last game. They never let up."

A measure of that pride was the fact that the Pirates, with the title wrapped up in a sigh of relief earlier in the week, still played all out to down Redwood in their last game when the outcome would not have mattered.

"Defense is an individual thing," Brown said. "I like to use man-to-man but I'll use a zone if that's what's needed. Again it's a matter of pride. You tell a boy the man he's guarding is averaging 20 points a game and he holds him to 10. Now he's done something."

Although last year's title was Brown's first MCAL crown, he feels better about this year's uphill climb to first place.

"We weren't supposed to win it," he said. "Most of the coaches picked Tamalpais but I thought that we had a chance. Not at the beginning of the year, but right after we had lost to Tamalpais by two points. I knew we could do it then."

With two titles under his belt, the man who has set some tough goals for himself is close to satisfaction.

"Oh, I'd like to win the TOC," he said. "I'd give my right arm for that.

"But right now, I'm happy . . . happy as a clam."

Drake Nine Loses, 7-2

Drake's baseball team lost its second straight game, dropping a 7-1 verdict to Analy at Drake yesterday in a tilt moved up from Friday because of the Tournament of Champions.

There were a couple of bright spots in the loss. Centerfielder Bob Lopez got two of the Pirates' three hits, including a solo homer. The other Drake run also came on a homer, by sophomore second baseman Clark Jamison. Reliever Ken Kline came in to hurl three innings of one-hit shutout ball.

State Family Doubles Net Tourney Set

Belvedere Tennis Club will host the California State Family Doubles Championships starting this weekend, marking the second year the tourney has been held in Marin County.

A fine entry of 73 teams is expected. The tourney is Saturday, Sunday and the following weekend.

Last year's winners were Tom and Marlene in the husband-wife competition; Joe and Jim Woolfson, father-son; Norman and Diane Brooks, father-daughter; Margaret Wedertz and Joan Huggins in the mother-daughter action.

Besides these events, two additional events, brother-sister and grandparent-grandchild, will be held.

Nate Gets Medical Go-Ahead

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Bulwark center Nate Thurmond had medical clearance today to rejoin the San Francisco Warriors.

Thurmond suffered a broken bone in his left hand Jan. 10. Doctors removed the cast yesterday and said he could play this weekend if needed.

After removing the cast, his hand was taped and he suited up for a workout. The tape hampered his play, but team officials felt its use was a prudent move.

The Warriors return to action tomorrow night at Civic Auditorium where they will tangle with the St. Louis Hawks.

This has been a week of nothing but good news for San Francisco. Monday night the Hawks were beaten by Cincinnati, giving the Warriors the Western Division title.

'Solid' Mets Lineup Loses To Subs; Indians Blanked

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Perhaps the most solid line-up in New York Met history took the field in an intra-squad game. It lost.

The team, managed by Ken Boyer and including such veterans as Boyer, Tommy Davis and Ed Kranepool and talented youngsters such as Cleon Jones and Don Bosch, lost 5-0 yesterday to Ed Bressourd's team of substitutes.

"We're better than we looked," said Boyer, whose team was held to four hits. "They just had the pitchers."

The pitchers "they" had were the same ones Boyer had. Each of the six hurlers worked an inning for both teams in the six-inning game.

The Cleveland Indians probably wished they could have uesd pitcher Ramon Arano of the Mexico City Red Devils. They got to Arano for 12 hits last night, but he struck out 12 in beating the Indians 4-0.

Arano's brother, Wilfrido, provided the big blow, a three-run homer off Indians' rookie Gil Downs in the fourth inning. Rookie second baseman Gus Gill got three hits in three trips and Lee Maye went three-for-four.

Baltimore also played an intra-squad game, but the big news in the Orioles' camp was injuries.

Rookie pitcher Bill Dillman suffered a pulled muscle in his right thigh during the drill, and in the intra-squad game catcher Charlie Lau received a spike wound of his left big toe.

In other developments:

—President Joe Cronin of the American League gave all 10 clubs in his circuit permission to use a pinch hitter twice in a game during the exhibition season. Previously, he gave permission only to the Chicago White Sox and Baltimore.

—Smoky Burgess, 40, of the Whtie Sox, who holds the major league pinch hit record of 137, and pitcher Jack Sanford, who held out for two weeks before signing for a reported $30,000, arrived at their respective camps.

—Roger Maris, the former New York Yankee slugger, singled in his first time at bat in a St. Louis intra-squad game.

Seals See 4-2 Lead Disappear In 80 Seconds

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Victoria Maple Leafs, trailing 4-2 with only 80 seconds left in the game, bounced back to an amazing 5-4 overtime decision over California last night to climb from sixth to fourth place in the Western Hockey League.

In other league games, Portland anchored a berth in the league's Patrick Cup playoffs with a 3-2 victory over San Diego and Seattle romped to a 5-2 win over Vancouver.

Veteran leftwinger Lou Jankowski pulled the Leafs out of the hole in Victoria by scoring two goals 43 seconds apart to force the game into overtime. A close-in shot by Bob Barlow at 1:49 of the extra period secured the victory. Bruce Carmichael scored the other two Victoria goals and Charlie Burns, George Swarbrick, Wayne Maxner and Forbes Kennedy tallied for the Seals.

California and Los Angeles are now tied for fifth place, one point behind Victoria.

Tourney Trivia: A Strange Couple Matched In NIT

NEW YORK (UPI)—If Southern Illinois and St. Peter's didn't exist, tde National Invitation Basketball Tournament selection committee would have had to invent them.

The two schools provide the perfect colorful backdrop for the opening of the tourney tonight—a matchup that would sound implausible if you made it up.

SIU comes in as the small college national champion that spurned a bid to the NCAA small college tourney to enter the NIT and prove it deserves major college status.

St. Peter's of Jersey City, N.J. is already a major college even though it's an 11-point underdog and nobody outside of the New York Metropolitan area ever heard of the school.

Both teams are determined to prove they're better than generally given credit for and what will actually happen when the two teams collide is the unanswered question that will draw the crowd into Madison Square Garden tonight for the opening of the 30th annual NIT.

Villanova, the third place finisher last year and runnerup in 1965, will play Marshall in the first game before SIU and St. Peter's clash. Villanova is a three-point pick.

Nebraska, the Big Eight runnerup, was the 13th team named to the field yesterday. Either North Carolina or Duke will be No. 14—depending on their finish in the Atlantic Coast Conference tourney starting tonight.

The SIU-St. Peter's game will also feature a clash of contrasting styles. SIU coach Jack Hartman played for Hank Iba and is a great believer in Iba's controlled style of play while St. Peter's coach Don Kennedy believes in the Ed Hickey brand of fast-break basketball.

The Salukis (a Saluki is a type of hunting dog) bring a 20-2 record into the NIT including victories in their last 15 games.

St. Peter's comes in with an 18-5 record although it lost its last three games of the season—blamed on a letdown after receiving the NIT bid.

Penaroya Gets Sixth Straight With Knockout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rollie Penaroya scored his sixth straight victory since coming to this country from the Philippines with a knockout over Chuey Rocha last night at Kezar Pavilion.

Rocha, originally of Mexico and now of San Jose, Calif., leaped up ready to fight after being decked at 2:06 of the second round, but referee Fred Apostoli had already gone the full count.

Rocha, who does not understand English, later said he misunderstood the count.

Penaroya weighed 118½, Rocha 118.

Bob Murray, 146, San Francisco, outpointed Eddie Carrington, 151, Oakland in a 10-round preliminary.

2,876 Score Leads ABC Tournament

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Delmore Lanes of Morrisville, Pa., compiled a three-game series of 2,876 yesterday to take first place in the regular team division of the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Delmor rolled games of 942, 1041 and 893 to outscore by eight pins the previous leaders, Clearwater Sprinklers of Boca Raton, Fla. Delmor's middle game was the best of the five-day-old tournament.

Ed Rowell, 43, a building contractor in his second ABC, set the pace with a 620 series. Dick Oliver, 33, manager of the bowling center which sponsors the team, helped the cause with 615.

Four members of the same team — Oliver, Harry Wilcox, Robert Beadle and Bob Walker — bowled with a club last year which totaled 2,911 to finish 73rd in the ABC.

Earlier in the day, Dave Odell and Charles Furrer of Chatham, N.J., collaborated for a 1,316 series and first place in regular doubles. Odell, 20, a taxi driver had 680 and Furrer, a 33-year-old sewing machine salesman, contributed 636.

The new leaders displaced Richard Garbrick and Carl Senft of York, Pa., who dropped to second place with the 1211 total they had assembled Sunday.

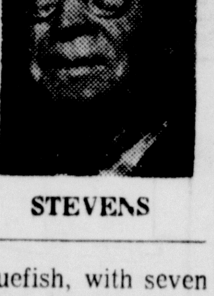
Limit Salmon Catches Reported By Some Party Boat Skippers



STEVENS

In order to verify the scuttlebutt that limit catches of salmon outside the Gate were the rule for Monday, I called Sid McMullin of Caruso's harbor at Sausalito and Hal Boenner of the Lee Anderson bait and tackle in Oakland. McMullin reported the rumor was true. All boats that went out came to port with limits of salmon. Part of the fleet apparently worked the water off Duxbury Reef and in the Light Ship locale. No really big salmon came in but the average per fish was higher than last week.

"I judge the average was about 10 pounds with a few of the fish in the 20 or more pounds class" said Sid, and added: "The high boat was the Sunrise which unloaded limits for its short load of seven anglers. The boat, Ma Ru, only had five rods working but took fairly quick limits."

SID McMULLIN ALSO reported some nice sturgeon were landed off Elephant Rock, but no reports of stripers.

Hal Boenner of Lee Anderson's in Oakland reported that all skippers working out of his shop had limits. "The Yvette returned to port with limits to 22 pounds at 9 a.m.; the boat Chinook had 7 limits to 18½ pounds; the Sea Horse netted 10 salmon to 22 pounds, and the Wilma H. had four limits to 17 pounds.

HAL BOENNER also reported some fairly fast success for the striper strivers casting or trolling from Ashby Avenue to and including Point Isabel. Best results were had on Rebel golden lures.

The runs of flounders and stripers on the shallows near the Pump House seems to be still on. A general slowdown on the sturgeon yield is true but a few are taken each day.

CARL BENNETT of the Rodeo Marina called Monday evening to report some fair action on stripers. Best bets — bouy 5 and bouy 8. Bass to 31 pounds were weighed in. John Algood had the 31 pounder; Nish Yamamoto and Frank Chang took limits as did Tony Centoni and Tom Yamamoto (had their limits to 25 pounds by 10 a.m.).

Some bass were taken on bullheads, some on sardines and others on grass shrimp. The party boat, Bluefish, with seven anglers, took 11 bass and six sturgeon. The boat, Pet, had four sturgeon and two bass. Anyone fishing for flounders made the grade easily.

CHUCK BENNETT of the Kiwanis Club of Southern Marin called to report some swell prizes came in from the Garcia Co. and a few genuine $40 rods by Fenwick are on the list of monthly prizes for salmon or striped bass.

Which reminds me, a salmon weighing 44 pounds was recently landed by John Stevens of Corning. Too bad John had not bought a ticket on the salmon derby. His fish would stand a very fine chance of winning one of the wonderful trips to Jamaica or Nassau.

ANYONE WHO has a ticket on either the salmon or bass derby, regardless of where the fish is caught, has a chance at one of the monthly prizes or the outstanding grand prizes. So why not send one or two bucks to Chuck Bennett and get aboard the gravy train.

"Mommy, is this baby going to be a boy or girl?"

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, March 9, the 68th day of 1967 with 297 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new stage. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

Italian navigator Amerigo Vespucci, after whom America was named, was born on this day in 1451.

On this day in history:

In 1832, Abraham Lincoln ran for his first political office—the Illinois legislature—and lost.

In 1862, the warships Monitor and Merrimac battled four hours off Hampton Roads, Va. The North's Monitor claimed a moral victory when the Merrimac retreated to Norfolk.

In 1947, one of the longest strikes in American history ended after 440 days when the United Automobile Workers came to terms with the Case Manufacturing Co. in Racine, Wis.

A thought for the day—American naturalist John Burroughs once said: "It is easier to believe than to deny. Our minds are naturally affirmative."

Opening lead — ♣ J

West led the jack of clubs, and dummy's queen lost to the ace.

East returned the eight of clubs, driving out the king.

GOING WELL

Declarer cashed the ace of diamonds, drew two rounds of trumps, and discarded dummy's low clubs on high diamonds.

So far, so good.

South had to ruff a club and a diamond in dummy but went wrong by ruffing the club first.

He cashed dummy's top hearts, and got back by ruffing a heart — but West discarded a diamond on this trick.

When South next led a diamond, West ruffed with the nine of spades to defeat the contract.

EARLY CLUE

The clue to the right play was in the first two tricks.

East returned the eight of clubs, showing that he didn't hold the nine.

West's opening lead of the jack of clubs showed the 10.

These plays accounted for all of the clubs.

South knew that West had started with four clubs and three trumps.

The hand could be made only if West also held two hearts and four diamonds.

Even with the ideal distribution, South could make his slam only by ruffing the losing diamond before the club.

West would follow suit on the fourth round of diamonds, and dummy would ruff.

When declarer then cashed the top hearts and ruffed a heart West could discard a club — but this would do no harm since West still had two clubs.

South would ruff his last club safely and take the last trick with his high trump, making the slam.

DAILY QUESTION

Dealer, at your left, opens with one spade and your partner bids two hearts.

The next player doubles.

You hold:

♠ 9 6 2
♥ 10 5
♦ J 9 7 4
♣ J 10 9 4

What do you say?

ANSWER: Your prayers.

Your partner is probably going to take a bad loss, but there is nothing you can do about it. You have a terrible hand.

When the smoke clears, say something sympathetic to your partner.

Complaining will only make matters worse.

CABLE LAYER—The barge Pacific, its steam-driven winches operating, created cloud of spray as it laid cable between Point San Quentin and Point Molate to carry telephone messages across the bay. The three-week job has now been completed.

Bay Cable To Ease Telephone Call Flow

A construction project which will help the flow of Marin County traffic has just been completed.

In this case the traffic movement is telephone traffic.

It involves phone calls between Marin County and Richmond — under San Francisco Bay — and on to long distance circuits reaching across the nation.

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s cable barge, Pacific, laid the cable from Point San Quentin to Point Molate near Richmond. The crossing is 22,000 feet long and the cable, slightly smaller in circumference than a football and weighing 25 pounds per foot, lies on the bottom of the bay. It was placed in three sections over a three-week period.

A special radar device and plotting board were used to hold the barge on the pre-planned route during the laying project.

The cable, when it becomes operational later this spring, will carry voice communications from San Rafael to Richmond and to long-distance circuits.

The Pacific is a familiar sight on San Francisco Bay. It recently completed two years of almost constant service including the relocation of underbay cable for the Bay Area Rapid Transit District project. It now becomes a one-barge mothball "fleet" until needed again. The nine crewmen who have been manning the barge will go back to regular duties as linemen, splicers and foremen on regular Bay Area telephone crews.

Telephone Board Declares Dividend

NEW YORK — Directors of International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. have declared a quarterly dividend of 37.5 cents per share on the outstanding shares of common stock, payable April 15 to stockholders of record at the close of business on March 17.

The dividend is equivalent to an annual rate of $1.50 per share.

The Daimler motorcar astounded the world in 1889 with a then incredible speed of 11 miles per hour.

Big Travel Trailer Rally Is Announced

Thousands of travel trailers, many of them passing through Marin, will converge on Sonoma County June 27 to July 4 for an international rally of the Wally Byam Caravan Club.

The club, which holds annual rallies throughout the country, will hold the eight-day meeting near the former Naval Air Station on Sebastopol Road near Santa Rosa.

Three Marin men attended a planning conference in Santa Rosa Tuesday to outline Marin facilities available for the campers: Clinton DeLap, manager of the Marin Visitors Bureau, A. L. Nieri, president of the bureau, and William L. Howell, president of the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce.

DeLap said today he is seeking a site for trailers to camp here so a sizable number could visit Marin before or after the rally.

INVESTING

Printing Stock Is Good Buy

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "I must retire shortly and will need additional income. Eight years ago I bought 50 Donnelley and Sons at 23. These have increased through splits and stock dividends to 236 shares. The current yield is very low. Should I switch to higher income stocks and pay the capital gains tax?" A. S.

A. I congratulate you on a profitable investment. Your experience provides a very good example of the value of growth stocks on a long-term basis. Donnelley, the largest commercial printer in the U. S., is a fine company with a strong record which seems likely to continue. If your retirement is imminent, it would seem advisable to sell now and reinvest in good income stocks, such as CIT Financial and Duquesne Light.

I have never believed that the capital gains tax should deter an investor from selling when the need arises.

Q. "I'm a fairly new investor. I wanted to buy for trading profits and read and studied all I could. A broker was recommended to me. I bought a stock through him and very soon he told me to sell it at about what I paid since he was concerned about it. This happened three times in succession and I'm greatly disturbed. If I had held longer in each case I would have had a good profit. What should I do?" S. A.

A. Your problem may have arisen because of a lack of communication between you and your broker. You should tell him that you believe your account is being traded too actively and get his reaction. If you are convinced that he is advising a quick turnover through inexperience or to build up commissions, you should take your

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed irregularly higher today. Trading was active.

Speculative issues, some of them low-priced, were among the trading favorites.

Among cheaper stocks, Benguet, Atlas Corp. and A. J. Industries were heavily traded fractional gainers.

Schenley jumped 6 points and Lorillard about 4 on news they were discussing possible consolidation.

Gainers outnumbered losers but leading market averages were down slightly.

Down about a point were Anaconda and Swift.

Illinois Central and Eastern Air Lines advanced 2 or more. Up a point or so were Air Reduction, Eastman Kodak and Schering.

Pan American World Airways was heavily traded and up more than a point in further response to its plans for a stock split and higher dividend.

American Cyanamid, United Nuclear and Essex Wire also gained about a point in active dealings.

Management Class

Transmission Service Opens Place On Francisco Boulevard

Recently opened at 647 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, is AAMCO Transmission Center, first Marin facility of a large transmission service firm based in Pennsylvania.

AAMCO has dealers in all parts of the country and as of last August had about five shops in the Bay Area. The total may have gone up since then. Shops are said to be equipped to provide one-day service. James Hamra, who is in charge here, has recently returned from company headquarters where he underwent an intensive training course.

AMONG THE INITIAL VENTURES in the new Corte Madera complex of Consumers Co-op opening Thursday, March 16, on Tamal Vista Boulevard will be Gallery III.

They have leased space from the cooperative and will feature paintings, sculpture, ceramics, weaving and prints by Bay Area artists. Gallery hours will be 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Saturday.

Mrs. Korner is an interior decorator working from a studio at her home in Mill Valley and will continue this pursuit. Mrs. Liff has been painting and studying art for many years, but does not classify herself as a professional. Her husband, Dr. Elliorr Liff, is on the staff of Kaiser Hospital, San Francisco.

MIKE DEVAL, who has had Tropicana Pools in Novato for more than four years, has opened a second branch operation on Pheasant Court, Santa Rosa. Dean Burford of that city will manage it. Same Tropicana construction crew will do the work for both.

EUGENE R. SWANSON of San Rafael has been appointed Midwest area sales manager for the Matson Navigation Co. Far East freight division. He and family will return to Chicago which they left in 1964 when Swanson was transferred to San Francisco headquarters.

He will open and staff a Chicago Far East division freight office. He joined Matson in 1960.

County Moves To Buy Bolinas Lagoon Shore

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission yesterday ordered that negotiations for purchase of Bolinas Lagoon shoreline be commenced.

Parks and Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske told the commission that $172,000 in state bond park funds should be available in August. This with a county allocation of $10,000 would allow purchase of about 86 acres on the north side of the lagoon around to the Audubon Canyon Ranch, Joske said. He based this on appraisals recently received ranging from $1,500 to $2,500 an acre.

John Campbell of Muskrat Corp., with plans for a residential development on 15 acres of shoreline, scoffed at the figures, saying they were far too low.

Joske said application for $172,000 in federal funds will not be made for about a month, pending second appraisals, and approval cannot be expected for about eight months.

Joske had expanded the territory proposed for purchase, extending it south toward the recently donated Kent Island to include all of the 38.8-acre Francisco property and the 15.5-acre Reinhardt land on the south side of Kent Island, but he said only a portion of the Francisco land should be picked up now and the Reinhardt purchase could be delayed.

In all, Joske's map showed 173 acres for purchase, but the Finley and Ferguson lands, totaling 15 acres on the east side of the lagoon, would not be purchased at once, nor would some of the other lands along the shore immediately north of Bolinas.

Commissioners urged that no priorities be established, fearing that would hamper negotiations.

Trustees Told Of Little Bond Election Opposition

Bolinas-Stinson School District's $275,000 bond measure, to be voted upon March 21, is running into very little opposition, district trustees were told last night by Mrs. Roberta Peterson, chairman of the committee for the bond election.

Committee members are reaching voters by telephone and in a house-to-house canvass, she said, and most voters appear to favor the bond measure, designed to finance a building program to meet district needs for 10 years.

Action on a proposal from Tomales High School District that Bolinas-Stinson District join the high school district was deferred to the next meeting, March 22 at 8 p.m. in Stinson Beach School. Mrs. Jane Phillips and Mrs. Raymond Sarraille were appointed to study the proposal, reported Trustee Arthur E. Carpenter.

Board meetings will start at 8 p.m. in the future, instead of at 7:30 p.m., Carpenter said.

Trustees hired Dorothy Andrews of Inverness as part-time secretary for Principal Keith Oveson at $221 a month. She replaces Mrs. Helen Warring, who resigned because of illness.

Trustees voted unanimously to oppose Assembly Bill 272, which would dissolve school districts with fewer than 200 pupils. Bolinas-Stinson District has 149 pupils.

College Board Views Faculty Insurance

The Marin Junior College District Board last night discussed insurance and sick pay for faculty at a study session with the faculty salary committee, but no decision was reached.

Acting President Irwin P. Diamond said salary increases were not discussed at the meeting, which lasted about one hour.

$3,400 Aid Given To Victims Of Fire

Fourteen families left homeless in the Feb. 23 fire that destroyed a crowded mansion at 1364 Grand Avenue in San Rafael have received $3,400 in aid from the Red Cross, the disaster committee of the Marin County chapter announced yesterday.

The chapter also reported approximately $3,800 in aid to more than 10 Marin families suffering losses in January flooding.

$750 A Month Pension Given

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A San Francisco policeman yesterday was granted full retirement pension of $725 a month after leaving the force because his right thumb was severely slashed and is useless.

The City - County Retirement Board voted to grant the lifetime city pension to Patrolman Patrick J. Kearney, 28.

Kearney's thumb was slashed while he quelled a brawl 18 months ago.

South Italy's climate is comparable to California's.

Rec Board In Argument With Bruce Over Budget

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission yesterday decided to make an issue over budgeting procedure with county administrator Alan Bruce.

Parks and Recreation Dir. Pierre W. Joske told the commission yesterday that Bruce had refused his request that commission chairman Melton Ferris be allowed to sit in on a budget review session March 23 with Joske, Bruce and County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell.

"I don't take kindly to that sort of viewpoint," Ferris said. He was reluctant to make an issue of it, but other commissioners were not. They voted that a formal request be made for the commission chairman to attend.

Bruce said today the ordinance creating the commission and guidelines for committees and commissions do not give them control of budgets. However, he said he would not make a definite answer until he receives the formal request.

Mustang-Type Plane Sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Air Force wants aircraft designers to turn back the clock and come up with a fighter plane more like the legendary P-51 Mustang of World War II and Korea than today's supersonic jets.

Twenty-one companies were invited yesterday to submit proposals for a heavily armed, rugged propeller-driven plane for close support of ground troops in limited wars like Vietnam, where there is little or no enemy air opposition.

CITY OF SAN ANSELMO
ORDINANCE NO. 546

AN ORDINANCE ADDING A CHAPTER 4 TO TITLE 10 OF THE SAN ANSELMO MUNICIPAL CODE PROVIDING FOR A DESIGN REVIEW OF ALL IMPROVEMENTS SUBJECT TO A BUILDING PERMIT EXCEPTING SINGLE FAMILY RESIDENCES AND APPURTENANCES AND PLANNED DEVELOPMENT (P D) IMPROVEMENTS SUBJECT TO APPROVAL BY THE PLANNING COMMISSION.

The City Council of the City of San Anselmo do ordain as follows:

Section 1. There is hereby added to the Municipal Code of San Anselmo a Chapter 4 to Title 10 as follows:

Chapter 4. DESIGN REVIEW.
Article 1. Adoption of Design Review

Sec. 10-4.01. Adoption of Design Review. There is hereby adopted a plan of design review for all buildings, structures and improvements requiring a building permit in the City of San Anselmo excepting single family residences, appurtenances and improvements thereto, and certain planned development (P D) improvements by creating a Design Review Committee.

Sec. 10-4.02. Purpose. The City Council of San Anselmo hereby finds that poor or inappropriate exterior design of improvements to real property adversely affects the health, safety and welfare of the residents of this City by creating conditions which: (a) endanger the lives of persons using adjacent streets and property; (b) decrease property values in the surrounding area or the City as a whole; (c) impair the comfort and well-being of the persons using such real property; and (d) are aesthetically incompatible with adjacent real property. It is the purpose of this ordinance to minimize such adverse effects by providing for the review of the design of certain buildings and improvements hereafter constructed in this City.

Sec. 10-4.03. Membership pf Design Review Committee. The established Design Review Committee (hereinafter referred to as the "Committee") shall consist of seven members appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by the City Council. Any such committee member may be removed by a majority vote of all members of the City Council. Each such member shall be appointed for a term of four years and until his successor takes office, and may be reappointed for an additional term or terms, provided however, that (a) a member appointed to fill a vacancy caused by the death, resignation, or removal of a member shall initially be appointed to serve only during the unexpired term of the former member, and (b) the terms of three of the members first appointed shall expire on April 15, 1968, and the terms of the four other members first appointed shall expire on April 15, 1970. Each such member shall at all times during his term be a resident of, or have his principal place of business in the City of San Anselmo and each shall serve without compensation. Each such member shall be a person whom the City Council finds qualified by education, experience, or interest, to be a member of the Committee.

Sec. 10-4.04. Meetings and Organization. (a) The Committee shall meet at the City Hall at such times as it deems advisable and necessary, but not less frequently than once a month. It shall elect a chairman and such other officers as it deems advisable at its first meeting in January of each year. Four members of the Committee shall constitute a quorum and the like votes of the majority of the members present shall be necessary for the Committee to take action on any matter. All meetings shall be open to the public.

(b) The Committee shall keep minutes and records, which shall be public records, of all of its proceedings and shall, from time to time, adopt such rules as it deems advisable for the implementation of this ordinance. To the fullest extent compatible with the purpose of this ordinance, such rules shall seek to encourage creativity and variety in design, and to minimize any expense or delay necessitated by the review herein established. The City Council shall establish such policies for the augmentation of this chapter as may become necessary or desirable.

(c) The Committee is directly responsible to the City Council.

Sec. 10-4.05. Improvements Subject to Design Review. (a) The Committee shall review the design of each improvement for which a building permit, license, certificate or other approval is required, except (a) single family residences, appurtenances and accessory improvements, and additions or repairs to either; (b) additions or repairs to any existing improvement if the exterior thereof is not to be altered; (c) any addition or repair to an existing improvement if the total value of additions and repairs to such improvement does not exceed $300 in any calendar year; and (d) any improvement which is constructed in a P D District, pursuant to a variance or use permit, or is otherwise subject to Planning Commission consideration. The Committee shall, nevertheless, when requested to do so by the Planning Commission, make recommendations to that Commission regarding the design of any improvement subject to Commission consideration.

(b) The term "improvement" as used in this ordinance shall be liberally interpreted, and shall include the construction, alteration and repair of all buildings, structures and facilities permanently affixed to real property, and appurtenances thereto. No improvement subject to design review shall hereafter be constructed, located, repaired, altered or thereafter maintained except in accordance with a design approved as provided in this ordinance.

Sec. 10-4.06. Applications for Design Review. Any person or entity proposing to construct or locate in this City an improvement subject to design review hereunder shall file an application for design review with the head of the Planning Department. Each application shall be in the form, and shall include such plans, elevations and other information as the Committee shall by its rules require. No application shall be considered complete until all information required by the Committee's rules has been filed. The head of the Planning Department shall submit to the Committee all applications for design review promptly following completion thereof. If the Committee fails to take final action upon an application within 30 days after the date of its completion and filing, the application shall be deemed approved by the Committee as filed, provided, however, that the foregoing provisions of this sentence shall not apply to any optional procedure established by the Committee for the review of tentative or preliminary designs. Any time limit specified herein may be extended by written agreement between the Committee and the applicant.

Sec. 10-4.07. Review by the Committee. (a) The Committee shall review the significant elements of exterior design and arrangement set forth in each complete application filed with the head of the Planning Department, and shall approve the application if it finds that the design of the proposed improvement (1) is functionally and aesthetically compatible with the existing improvements and the natural elements in the surrounding area; (2) provides for protection against noise, odors, and other factors which may make the environment less desirable; (3) will not tend to cause the surrounding area to depreciate materially in appearance or value or otherwise discourage occupancy, investment or orderly development in such area; (4) will not create unnecessary traffic hazards due to congestion, distraction of motorists or other factors and provides for satisfactory access by emergency vehicles and personnel; and (5) will not adversely affect the health or safety of persons using the improvement or endanger property located in the surrounding area

(b) In its review the Committee shall consider size; proportion; use, type and quality of materials; architectural features and ornamentation; night lighting; color application; signs; site placement of all features; existing and proposed landscaping and topography; existing and proposed open spaces and paved areas; screening devices, and other matters and elements deemed by it to be pertinent to criteria (a) to (e) listed above.

(c) If the Committee is unable to make the finding required above, it shall take one of the following actions: (1) request further information from the applicant, upon obtaining a written stipulation waiving the 30-day approval period; (2) disapprove the application; or (3) require, as a condition of approval, such changes in the design as it determines are necessary to enable it to make the required finding. Any disapproval shall be accompanied by a statement of the Committee's reasons for such action and showing how each member present voted.

Sec. 10-4.08. Appeals and Further Review. Any person in interest may file with the City Council an appeal of any approval, disapproval or other disposition of an application for design review. Such appeal shall be filed within ten days after the date of such approval, disapproval or disposition, and the appeal shall be put on the City Council agenda for that next regular meeting which follows a lapse of ten days from filing of the appeal. The action of the City Council on any application shall be final and shall be effective on the date of the action. Any other approval, disposition, or action not appealed shall become final upon the expiration of the ten day appeal period. The City Council may, on its own motion made within the appeal period, order an appeal of any approval, disapproval or other disposition or action of the Committee.

Sec. 10-4.09. Appeal Procedure. Each appeal by a person in interest shall be made in the form prescribed by the City Council and shall be filed with the City Clerk. Each such appeal shall state the respects in which the decision appealed is contrary to the provisions hereof. The Council shall promptly consider the appeal and shall approve, modify or reverse the prior decision.

Sec. 10-4.10. Prohibitions. No building permit, license, certificate, or other approval shall be issued or given by the City or any department or employee thereof with respect to any improvement subject to design review until the design of the improvement has been approved as provided in this ordinance. No certificate of use and occupancy or similar approval shall be issued or given for any improvement subject to design review hereunder unless, and until the head of the Planning Department has certified that the improvement has been completed in accordance with the design approved pursuant to this ordinance.

Sec. 10-4.11. Nuisance. Any improvement constructed, located, repaired, altered or maintained contrary to the provisions hereof is hereby declared to be unlawful and a public nuisance.

Sec. 10-4.12. Other Duties of the Committee. The Committee shall review the design of all improvements to be constructed (1) by the City and, (2) to the extent permitted by law or by the agencies involved, by school districts and other governmental agencies. Such review shall be conducted with reference to the criteria and factors set forth in section 6 hereof and, following such review, the Committee shall submit a written report of its recommendations and comments to the body proposing to construct the improvement. The report and recommendations as to improvements to be constructed by the City of San Anselmo shall be advisory only. The Committee shall also perform such other functions as may be assigned to it by the City Council.

Sec. 10-4.13. Financial Interest of Committee Members. No member of the Committee shall participate in the review of or vote upon the design of any improvement in which he has a direct or indirect financial interest of any kind. The Mayor may appoint a temporary member to the Committee to take the place of each member so disqualified during the Committee's review of and voting upon the design in which the regular member has an interest.

Sec. 10-4.14. Other Ordinances Not Affected. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to: exempt any applicant from compliance with any other requirement of any other ordinance of this City; or amend any such other ordinance.

Section 2. This ordinance shall be published once in full, within fifteen (15) days of its final passage and adoption in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper printed in the County of Marin and of general circulation in the City of San Anselmo.

The foregoing ordinance was introduced at a regular meeting of the San Anselmo City Council held on February 14, 1967, and was thereafter at a regular meeting of the City Council held on February 28, 1967, duly passed and adopted by the following vote:

Marin City Center Aide Hiring Funded

Marin County Housing Authority commissioners Tuesday night granted Marin City Community Services District $10,625 to hire a director of the district's community center.

Construction is to begin this spring, reported Donald O. Stutsman, housing authority director. The funds will pay the salary of the director until February, 1968. He will supervise construction and develop a program for the center.

Commissioners asked Stutsman to study a request by the Marin City Services District that the housing authority make up a $37,000 deficit expected in the operating budget for the center.

Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. was elected as chairman and Herman J. Hale as vice chairman of the housing authority for 1967.

The authority advanced $2,500 to Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District to cover cost of condemnation suit for sewer easement for 36-unit low-cost-housing project in Santa Venetia.

Write-off of six delinquent tenant accounts totaling $825 was approved.

Candidates' Night Slated On March 29

A candidates' night appearance of candidates for San Rafael Board of Education will be held at 8 p.m. March 29 in San Rafael High School auditorium.

The event is being sponsored by the San Rafael and Terra Linda High Schools Parent-Teacher Associations. It was announced in a PTA bulletin as set for next Tuesday, but the date has been changed to March 29.

Douglas Godfrey will moderate the program, with Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Arntz, program chairmen of the San Rafael High PTA, as chairmen.

Both PTA's will hold business meetings and elect officers in other rooms of the high school at 7:30 p.m., preceding the candidates' night, announced Mrs. Bryce W. Anderson, president of the San Rafael High unit, and E. C. Brendel, Terra Linda High president.

Refreshments will be served in the school cafeteria after the meeting.

Dominican Student Sues For Injuries

Sisters of St. Dominic, Congregation of the Most Holy Name, have been sued in Marin Superior Court for $25,000 by a student at Dominican College in San Rafael for injuries allegedly suffered in a dormitory fall.

Kathleen M. Curran, 19, daughter of Mrs. Claire A. Curran of Sacramento, charges that negligent maintenance of Meadowland Dormitory at the college caused her to fall on April 4, 1966, breaking her left ankle and suffering other injuries.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Tetanus Far Easier To Avert Than It Is To Effect Cure

VAN DELLEN

Tetanus (lockjaw) is easier to prevent than to treat. Although the disease is rare in Western countries, the consequences are so dire when it does develop, that all doctors recommend prophylaxis. World War II proved tetanus toxoid an effective preventive; for the first time none of our fighting men developed the disorder.

Most children receive the toxoid along with their other vaccines early in life. Two or three injections are needed depending upon the type of serum used.

A BOOSTER dose is given one year later. Some authorities claim immunity lasts for five years; others believe it is for life.

But all agree that a booster is necessary whenever an injury is sustained. Our public health department recommends a booster dose every 5 years, as well as at the time of injury. In this way some immunity is always present.

It is calculated that one case of tetanus occurs for every 60,000 to 100,000 injuries when prophylaxis is not used.

The disease is associated with rusty nails, possibly because the "tetanus-prone wound" occurs after stepping on a nail. This is a fallacy because tetanus can result from the slightest laceration that is contaminated with the causative spores.

EVERY WOUND and scratch should be thoroughly cleansed with soap and water. The spores in soil remain viable for years and the chance of getting tetanus is greater when a farmhand is injured in a field than on a city street. Immunization early in life saves considerable anxiety, especially when booster doses are received regularly.

Tetanus organisms produce a deadly toxin that poisons the nervous system.

Prior to the discovery of toxoid, physicians used an antitoxin that neutralized the toxins. This vaccine is prepared in horse serum and allergic reactions are common.

HUMAN ANTITOXIN is now available. In addition penicillin and oxytetracycline are effective against the bacteria.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

NAIL BITER

Mrs. B. J. writes: Is there any way to stop my 3-year-old boy from biting his fingernails?

REPLY

Nail biting is a sign of internal tension, anxiety, or worry. Nagging and scolding should be avoided. Try to build up the child's self-confidence by paying him. a compliment now and then. I doubt if the child is old enough to respond to the old trick of making him take pride in the appearance of the nails.

BARBER'S ITCH

G. M. writes: Can you tell me how to get rid of barber's itch?

REPLY

Griseofulvin tablets are the best remedy. In the early stages, ointments containing aureomycin, bacitracin, or polymyxin are helpful. Keep the face clean with soap and water and through a proper diet. In addition, change the razor blade daily.

PROTRUDING ELBOW

W. A. writes: What is a sideswipe fracture?

REPLY

This is the type of fracture of the elbow sustained by those who drive with the left arm hanging out the window. It can occur also to children who lean an arm on the open window of a car or bus.

CONTACT ULCERS

M. B. writes: What is a contact ulcer of the vocal cords?

REPLY

There are two vocal cords. When ulcers develop on the edge of each cord, they are called contact ulcers because they touch each other.

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Strange Qimm-El-Ummam Schools As Described By Mohammed Dui

The immense progress that American public education has made in the past few generations is brought into focus by a recently published study of the schools of a more backward country.

THE PRIVATELY published volume, called "A Case Study of a Public Education System in a Disadvantaged Society," describes the schools of Qimm-el-Ummam, an obscure and little-known trucial state on the Gulf of Oman. The author is Mohammed Dui, an American of Arabian descent who spent a year in Qimm-el-Ummam on a study project underwritten by the Flegenheimer Foundation. (There has as yet been no hint that any CIA money was involved.)

The schools of Qimm-el-Ummam, Dui reports, have never instituted a grade system. This is in part because many of them are small, one-room or two-room schools. However, the system of dividing into grades has not been introduced even in the larger schools which have many teachers.

THE CLASSES in these schools meet all together in one or a few large rooms. The master teacher (there is no principal) assigns each of his assistants to a group of pupils, who may be of various ages and learning levels. Each child is allowed to go along at his own speed.

Along with no grades, there are no report cards. Dui found that Qimm-el-Ummam educators regarded with horror the idea of evaluating a child's performance in terms of "A, B, C" or any other grading system.

AS THERE ARE no grades and no grading, there are no failures. Qimm-el-Ummam recently adopted a compulsory education law requiring each child to attend school for 12 years. At the end of the 12 years, each is given a diploma. However, he is not required to pass any examination to receive the diploma.

English is the second language in Qimm-el-Ummam, and all pupils are required to study both English and Arabic. Dui found, however, that both the Arabic and English taught are the local patois rather than the classic language. Qimm-el-Ummam education leaders insisted that it would be foolish to teach correct grammar and word use to children who are unlikely ever to hear either language spoken correctly, he reported.

READING IS taught in both languages, but as the leaders of Qimm-el-Ummam are not desirous of producing a people who will read widely and appreciate good literature, very uninteresting books are given the children who are just learning to read. Also, there is little attempt to assign books of genuine literary quality for the more advanced readers.

Dui found that some advanced mathematics and science courses are offered in the larger schools, but few of the students take them.

All children, however, are required to take various courses aimed at teaching them how to get along with others. Learning to conform is highly important in Qimm-el-Ummam, the investigator reported.

DESPITE ITS isolated position, however, Qimm-el-Ummam is beginning to feel the winds of western educational change. In the last few years—especially since the government in Abu Dabu Dhu, the capital, acquired a computer—there has been public agitation for testing.

Qimm-el-Ummam educators, though firmly against tests which might point up any shortcomings in the schools, have made a gesture toward satisfying the demand by giving all school children a series known as the Ajowa tests (so named for the neighboring sheikdom of Ajowa). In these, Dui found, the children always average higher than the norms reported for the tests. He was unable, however, to find how the norms are arrived at.

Dui found another evidence of the influence of western ideas in recent agitation by some unbelievers for laws forbidding the customary reading of the Koran in classrooms. He predicted this agitation will be successful.

ON THE WHOLE, however, reported Dui, the people of Quimm-el-Umman seem eminently satisfied with their school system, which produces no failures and calls for only such scholarship as the students undertake on their own initiative.

(Editor's note: No, Virginia, there is no Qimm-el-Ummam . . . Or is there?)

Rafferty Says Kuchel Unliked

LONG BEACH (AP)—Dr. Max Rafferty, California superintendent of public instruction, says U.S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel "is as popular with Republicans as a skunk at a picnic."

Rafferty, like Kuchel, is a Republican. However, his office as school chief is non-partisan.

He offered his appraisal of the state's senior senator yesterday in a speech before the Long Beach Council of Republican Women.

Rafferty, often mentioned as a GOP senatorial candidate next year against Kuchel, has said he will seek the office if he can be assured of a $1 million primary campaign war chest.

Mrs. Nelson Joins Betty Furness Foes

WASHINGTON (ANS) — Two Kennedy administration advisers have denounced President Johnson's appointment of television performer Betty Furness as his special assistant for consumer affairs.

Helen Nelson of Mill Valley, and Helen Canoyer of Ithica, N.Y., members of the President's Consumer Advisory Council until last June, expressed strong dissatisfaction with the president's selection of Miss Furness.

Mrs. Nelson, who was consumer adviser to former Gov. Edmund G. Brown, said in a telephone interview from Sacramento that the Furness appointment should make it clear to consumers and to consumer groups that they have failed to impress the administration with their cause and political strength.

She said that Miss Furness lacked "competence" to adequately advance consumer interests within the White House.

Mrs. Nelson quoted a telegram sent to President Johnson this week by an 8,000-member California consumer group, denouncing the appointment.

Sheep Groups Offer College Scholarship

The North Bay Wool Growers Association and the North Bay Bo-Peeps are jointly offering a $200 scholarship to high school seniors and junior college students from Marin, Napa and Sonoma counties planning to pursue careers in agriculture or home economics.

Deadline for applications at the Farm and Home Advisor's Office, Room 100-P, 2555 Mendocino Avenue, Santa Rosa, is April 1.

Two-Car 101 Crash Hurts Fairfax Woman

A Fairfax woman driver was injured yesterday at 6:30 p.m. when her car hit the center divider of Highway 101 north of Richardson Bay Bridge, then swerved into another auto, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Susan Clare Mennie, 21, of 200 Bolinas Road was treated at Marin General Hospital for a back sprain and scalp cuts. The highway patrol said her car hit that driven by Linda Louise Menke, 18, of 136 Fernwood Drive, San Rafael.

Marin Rec Members Back Land Purchase For Park

The Marin County Park and Recreation Commission yesterday recommended by 5-1 vote that the county join in purchase of 18 acres in the Monte Vista tract at the entrance to Muir Woods for addition to Mount Tamalpais State Park.

The land, owned by Angelo Carrozzi, is priced at $85,000, but the Sierra Club, Tamalpais Conservation Club and federal government would contribute to the purchase. County share would be $10,625, County Parks and Recreation Dir. Pierre W. Joske reported.

Commissioner Howard Council dissented on the recommendation, noting that the closest motels for overnight visitors were a long drive from Muir Woods and the state park and that it would be beneficial to leave the land on the tax rolls.

The Board of Supervisors sometime ago proposed that the Muir Woods Overlook, owned by the county, be offered to the state in exchange for state contribution to the Carrozzi purchase. Joske said the state had refused to make the trade.

The commission voted 6-0 to recommend seeking purchase under a life estate proposal of two acres adjacent to the Muir Woods entrance that Carrozzi wants to retain for a home site.

Commissioner Lothar Salin was absent.

The Marin County Park and Recreation Commission also:

zsasuee

BOLINAS RECREATION — Learned that Joske will recommend formation of a community services district covering Bolinas and the Bolinas Mesa to provide recreation and other services.

KENT ISLAND — Named council chairman Melton Ferris and Aline McClain to a committee to study restriction of use of nature preserves under county ownership, such as the recently donated Kent Island and Tiburon Uplands.

STRAWBERRY DREDGING — Endorsed the plan to dredge the channel around the west side of the 27-acre Strawberry Tidelands, to be financed under a special zone and bond issue within the Strawberry Recreation District.

Attorney Stephen Kaufmann told the commission he must also get approval from the City of Tiburon, the Army Corps of Engineers, the Bay Conservation and Development Commission and the Mill Valley School District.

Storer Criticized In Elephant Rock Negotiations

County Park and Recreation Commissioner Gibbs H. Lawson had some harsh words yesterday for Supervisor Thomas T. Storer over the county negotiation for Elephant Rocks in northwest Marin.

Five weeks ago, rancher William D. Willimsen, who owns the property, told supervisors he did not want to sell. Supervisors then turned that matter over to Storer to see if he could negotiate with Williamsen.

Lawson told fellow commissioners yesterday Storer's efforts "had been minimal, ill timed, and seem to me to have been almost calculated to have negative results."

The commission recommended that Pierre W. Joske, parks and recreation director, resume negotiations to see whether Williamsen would be interested in selling development rights only.

Joske said he would first have to check with the anonymous donor of funds for purchase of the Rocks, to see if development rights would be in line with that party's wishes.

Couple Plans Viet Peace Role

CLAREMONT (AP) — Spiritual experiences during their ordeal on a Mexican mountain have prompted a young college couple to volunteer to aid war refugees in Vietnam.

"We feel our experience was like a hand pointing and we are going to follow its lead," said Eleanor Dart, 20, of Eugene, Ore.

She and Ogden E. Kellogg Jr., 21, of Gold Hill, Ore., were lost for two weeks on the slope of Mt. Dablo in Baja California. They were rescued by helicopter a week ago.

"I'm convinced the hand of God played a part, so is Ogden," she said yesterday. They have decided to join the American Friends Service Committee.

Youngsters Also Suffering From Migraine, Arthritis

By SCIENCE SERVICE

BOSTON—Migraine headaches and rheumatoid arthritis, popularly believed to afflict only adults, are by no means rare in children and young people.

Two separate reports in the New England Journal of Medicine warn physicians to be on the lookout for diagnoses that may be missed.

During the past 25 years many reports of electroencephalographic changes in migraine have been published, mainly by those working with adults, and this could be due in part to the false but widespread view that this form of headache is rare in childhood, a team of Johns Hopkins pediatricians points out.

Linkage of migraine with epilepsy goes back to the 19th and early 20th centuries, when the term "borderland of epilepsy" was used to include both migraine and certain types of vertigo. As late as the present time, reports have continued in this country and in Denmark to show abnormalities in electric currents set up in the cerebral cortex among children with migraine.

Industry Uses Artificial Limbs

By SCIENCE SERVICE

TORONTO, Canada — Techniques learned by medical engineers are being put to work by industry. Prosthetic techniques which enable the bioengineers to give a useful second arm to a man who'd lost one, can also give a third arm to a worker who needs one.

All the worker has to be able to do is wriggle his ears, wrinkle his nose, or otherwise be able to control face, neck or shoulder muscles.

A research project currently under way at Litton Systems here is trying to find out if people can use such otherwise idle muscles accurately enough to direct small electrical impulses which they generate through electrodes and amplifiers to operate various types of machines or equipment, without any direct assistance from their hands and arms.

Work being done has already resulted in major advances in the science of "myoelectric control" (the word is derived from the Greek "my" or myo, meaning muscle).

Since muscles give off tiny electrical pulses, the pulses can be utilized to perform useful functions. In the defense field these pulses could help give a tank commander a "third hand" or help an astronaut handle a wider array of switches than is now possible.

While the research work in myoelectrics is not new, the Canadian team's effort is unusual since it is exploring new directions.

Researchers in the U.S. and in the Soviet Union have chiefly focused on the use of myoelectric control as applied to artificial limbs; where the electrical pulses trigger motors in the artificial limbs. David Lewis and Alfred Stein, the two scientists at Litton Canada, explain that most researchers are interested primarily in the exclusive use of myoelectric power for prosthetic appliances.

The Litton researchers think that their research may well have significant results for this medical field as well.

Psychiatrists Urged To Help Avert Wars

SYDNEY, Australia (SS)—Psychiatrists were urged here to apply their talents toward lessening the danger of war.

Dr. W. E. Mickleburgh, of the South Australian Mental Health Services, called upon psychiatrists to pool their knowledge with that of other social scientists in diagnosing unhealthy social systems.

He told a meeting of the Australian and New Zealand College of Psychiatrists that man has seen 14,531 wars in 5,560 years—an average of two and a half wars per year.

Today the United States and Russia have between them an arsenal of nuclear power equal to 50,000 tons of TNT for every human being, said Dr. Mickleburgh, and military scientists are experimenting with chemical warfare, searching for ways of weakening the enemy's resistance with drugs.

Given this atmosphere, psychiatrists should be concerned that innocuous-sounding words are being used to represent mass destruction, said Dr. Mickleburgh. "Megadeath," for instance, means a million people killed. "Take out" means the total destruction of a city's people, plants, animal life and property.

FLYING WEDGE ON WATER, TOO

Canadian Geese, often seen arrowing through the skies in Vee formation, are believers in the flying wedge at swimming time, too. At Concord, Mass., a colorful mother and father goose protectively flank their paddling youngsters, in a scene photographed last summer. (AP Wirephoto)

Silas Marner Illness Found

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON—The mysterious malady that afflicted Silas Marner was probably an irresistible urge to sleep called narcolepsy, according to a Florida psychiatrist.

This would explain the apparent "fits" that took hold of the character in George Elliot's novel, required reading in high schools throughout the nation, believes Dr. Robert I. Simon of the Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami.

Until recently, scientists knew little about this affliction. But study of brain waves has revealed that the narcoleptic attack is exactly like normal sleep—and may actually be an incidence of dreaming — only it occurs at the wrong time.

People with a mild form of narcolepsy fall asleep periodically and uncontrollably during the day. Probably many automobile accidents can be attributed to the disease, since researchers now believe a large number of people may have narcolepsy and be unaware of it. Those more severely afflicted usually cannot laugh at a joke or get violently angry without collapsing to the ground.

Hallucinations, loss of muscle tone and paralysis all occur during normal dreaming. But for the narcoleptic they intrude into waking hours, possibly because of some disfunction in the sleep or dream centers of the brain.

If Silas Marner had narcolepsy, it was not the common type, however.

Eccentric Finns Keep Firm Grip On Title

HELSINKI (UPI)—The Finns have long been considered a little eccentric by their more sober Nordic neighbors and during the winter they go out of their way to prove it.

Last year it was hospital-bed pushing and a 104-day skiathon.

This year it's crawling and being buried alive.

The crawling craze began in the little western Finnish town of Rauma when one longshoreman, Venni Ojala, bet another he could make it from the harbor to the market square—a distance of about two miles—on his hands and knees.

He made it—though the sight of a grown man crawling alongside the snow-covered road raised a number of eyebrows and police were called out to arrest the alleged "drunk."

Little did Ojala know what his $30 bet had started.

His exploit was covered by the Finnish press which was looking for a little light news to liven its pages during the dreary winter.

Soon practically everyone—or so it seemed—was in on the act.

There were these highlights: Veikko Niemisto, 19, crept 3.7 miles at Jalasjarvi to crack Ojala's record. Finnish television covered his crawl.

At the same time glass worker Raimo Ahlsten, 32, crawled from work to his home in a suburb of the western Finnish city of Turku, raising the record to 8 miles.

Shortly afterward, Veikko Kemppi, 24, of Kangasniemi in eastern Finland, boosted the record to a new and so far unequaled high—14.1 miles. A snow plow cleared a few inches of fresh snow from the road for him and he covered the distance in 12 hours.

Even Gravity Not Stable Any More?

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON—Is nothing sacred? Now even gravity isn't what it used to be. At the South Pole, it seems, gravity has gone up noticeably since 1957.

Noticeably isn't saying much, however. Gravity in January 1966, was just about a hundred-thousandth of one percent (0.00001) greater at the South Pole station than it was in December 1957, according to John C. Behrendt of the U.S. Geological Survey.

The reasons, he says, are probably that the ice sheet, with the station on it, is moving downhill and to areas of higher gravity, and that the station itself, from which the measurements are made, is sinking into the ice. The closer an object gets to earth's core, the greater is the gravitational attraction on it.

The traveling ice sheet, Behrendt reported may actually have veen moving as much as 165 feet a year. Sinking alone could have produced the same apparent increase, but it would have required a drop of more than nine feet since 1957, which is probably more than 100 times as much as actually took place.

Another possibility, he said, although an unlikely one, is a thinning of the ice sheet. Again, the amount necessary for such a gravity increase, about 16 inches a year, is "not supported by direct evidence."

Unfortunately it is virtually impossible to pinpoint the station's position exactly, which make precision gravity measurements somewhat inaccurate at best. A remedy may be found in the future, when a now-proposed geodetic satellite system enables the super-accurate location of any transmitter on the ground.

Savant Studies A Windy Topic

OBERLIN (UPI)—A study of 400-year-old trombones is one of five projects to be undertaken by Oberlin College faculty members recently appointed to Research Status for 1967-68.

Thomas E. Cramer, professor of music theory and trombone in the college's Conservatory of Music, will make the study.

His purpose is three-fold: to compose an instructional book on the trombone for advance students and young professionals; to play 16th-19th Century music on museum instruments and, if feasible, to have a 16th Century trombone made to his specifications for practice purposes. His work will take him to several eastern music libraries and museums.

Heart Attack Predictions Possible

LONDON(SS)—Hospital patients undergoing surgery or recovering from the strain on an opertaion will benefit from a new instrument that can detect an oncoming heart attack up to an hour before it occurs.

Called a Pre-Arrester Computer, the instrument is to be marketed by Lan Electronics, Slough, Buckinghamshire, England. It is a computerized monitoring system operating directly from electrocardiograph electrodes. The normal ECG output is shown on a slow-moving chart recorder and appears as a broad line whose amplitude is constant with the heart's noemal condition.

Science Has Neutron Gun For Research

PRINCETON, N.J. (SS) — A new scientific tool called the "Moletron," has been developed by scientists at Princeton University here. It generates beams of neutral atoms and molecules, permitting, for the first time, detailed studies of events in common gaseous reactions.

The new tool opens the way to experiments with molecular beams at energies "substantially higher than have heretofore been possible," the Princeton scientists reported in the Feb. 24 Science.

Dr. John B. Fenn is the leader of the four-man research team that found a new way of accelerating molecular beams to kinetic energies into the range of up to 10 electron volts.

Although this energy range is far below that generated in large or even small conventional atom smashers, which put out millions or billions of electron volts, the Moletron nevertheless fills a major gap in machines available to probe nuclear and molecular structure.

According to the report in Science, the accelerator uses a supersonic jet of mixed gases in a high vacuum container to generate molecular beams from one of ten electron volts: Favorable results have been obtained with 16 different molecular beams, including nitrogen, carbon dioxide, methane and sulfur dioxide.

Dr. Fenn said that the importance of the Moletron is due to the fact that it permits detailed investigation of changes in the energy, momentum and structure resulting from collision of molecules with surfaces, or with other molecules, at precisely the energy range in which many chemical reactions and particle-surface interactions occur.

TONIGHT while MARIN sleeps...

employees of Casa Marin will be busily engaged in placing 12-HOUR SALE price tags on many, many home furnishings throughout our store. Why? Because the tremendous volume of business usually anticipated at this season has not come in--to date. A lag in traffic, with its resulting loss in movement of goods, cannot be tolerated for many days.

Fresh, new merchandise arrives almost daily and with these arrivals comes the problem of locating such items in the store . . . and in the warehouse. Now, to move out some $20,000 worth of overstock in one day takes some real doing. And the only way that we know to accomplish same is with a hotter-than-hot, door-busting sale. Consequently, we are offering TOMORROW (Friday) $115,400 worth of quality home furnishings for only $87,275 . . . every single item at a substantial saving to you.

This certainly will be the BIGGEST ONE-DAY SAVINGS OPPORTUNITY OF THE YEAR. So don't be late. Casa Marin opens at 9 A.M. tomorrow morning. No matter what furnishings you need or want for your home, you'll find them . . . and at almost unbelievably low, low prices.

Remember: SALE LASTS FROM 9 A.M. to 5:30 P.M. THEN WE CLOSE OUR STORE UNTIL 7 P.M., WHEN WE REOPEN UNTIL 10 P.M. Don't miss it! Bring the entire family with you. You'll be glad you did!

Smoking Helps Germs' Work Inside Lungs

By SCIENCE SERVICE

WASHINGTON—Smoking cigarettes destroys the germ resistance of the air vesicles of lung tissue, thus opening the way to a wide variety of lung diseases including bronchitis and possibly emphysema, two Harvard scientists report. Their study is not necessarily related to lung cancer, however.

The effect of smoke from five unnamed brands of cigarettes in different lengths, either filtered or unfiltered, was demonstrated by inserting them in a closely fitted rubber tube attached to a syringe gauged for smoke withdrawal similar to human smokers' "draw."

The smoke was introduced into a flask containing cells from the lungs of rabbits mixed with the organism Staphylococcus albus found in boils and suppurating wounds.

The air vesicles, called "alveolar macrophages," are known to be susceptible to many environmental substances and to organisms which set the stage for infection.

Zoologist Thwarts Turtle Soup Lovers

CHIOGGIA, Italy (AP) — A fishing boat in this north Adriatic port brought in a rare catch indeed: A massive sea turtle weighing 409 pounds.

That would make a lot of turtle soup but a zoologist beat the cooks to it and bought the turtle for a wildlife collection.

Giant Bird Fossils Are Found

BERLIN, (GF)—Fossils of giant prehistoric birds unable to fly, but believed to have dominated the European continent 50 million years ago, have been uncovered beneath soft coal deposits in Germany.

The remains indicate the birds were up to 18 feet tall and appeared following extinction of the reptile giants, so familiar to today's visitors to natural history museums.

The existence of the large birds had been suggested by previous finds in North America and southern France, where scattered remains were found inadequate to provide fuller information about such a species.

Because of destructive acids in coal deposits where previous examples were found, learning more about the grounded birds appeared to be hopeless. The fossils in Germany were discovered in protective calcium layers below soft coal. Even examples of blood cells in the bone marrow of the birds were able to be removed by experts.

Scientists believe the species existed on a diet of small lizards and frogs and enjoyed only a brief sovreignty, measured in term of the earth's age.

It is thought the birds ultimately lost out to more versatile beasts of prey.

Unpopular Pupil Tests Begin

By ADVANCE NEWS SERVICE

WASHINGTON—Despite bitter sniping by school superintendents, a national assessment to measure how much American children know is well under way.

Pilot projects of the assessment, involving 50,000 pupils, are almost completed. The full assessment, involving 5 per cent of the nation's 9, 13 and 17-year-olds, is scheduled to begin in the fall.

But the closer to a reality the national assessment comes, the hotter the controversy it evokes. What many educators fear is that it will compare their school systems unfavorably with others or could lead to dictation of local school curricula from Washington. Its backers deny it will do either.

Just recently the assessment provoked a bitter internal debate at a meeting of the American Association of School Administrators, finally pitting the AASA membership against its own executive committee.

The AASA's members, meeting in Atlantic City, unanimously adopted a resolution reversing the executive committee's blanket opposition to the assessment.

Many of the 18,000 school superintendents at the meeting regarded the assessment as inevitable anyway. Just before the meeting opened, the Carnegie Corp. and the Ford Foundation announced they were each giving the assessment program $640,000 to carry it through 1967.

A few weeks earlier Harold Howe II, U.S. Commissioner of Education, said there was about $2 million in the federal budget for the same purpose.

It was this expansion which the AASA's executive committee feared. It sent a letter to all members urging them not to cooperate with the assessment in any fashion.

Individual members resisted this stand.

"Let's not sit back with our heads in the sand," said James Allen, New York State Commissioned of Education.

Opposition to the assessment, he added, "seems entirely in opposition to what the school leadership should be. We should seek out the truth and the better way, we should not be afraid of it."

The more conservative Edgar Fuller, executive secretary of the Council of Chief State School Officers, backed away from the AASA's initial hard line.

"Our council is split three-to-two on the assessment," he said. "Which way? That depends on whichever side you are talking to. My own opinion is that we are where we should be. There is a lot of shadow boxing and headlining of fears about this. The whole situation is a real can of worms."

A Texas superintendent commented, "We're on the short end of the totem pole on this thing. Unless we tell the public what we're doing to cooperate with the assessment, the national press will give us a real licking."

Eight members of the Harvard education faculty, AASA members all, weighed in with a statement that the AASA leaders exaggerated the potential dangers of assessment "beyond recognition" and ignored its potential benefits.

"We believe that the risks of knowing nothing are greater than the risks of knowing something," they said.

In the face of this pressure, the AASA came up with a face-saving resolution establishing a committee to study the problem. The resolution was approved without discussion.

Although it opened the door to accepting the assessment, the resolution did reaffirm the AASA's historic opposition "to any act which would in effect establish a national testing program or a national curriculum."

Supporters of the assessment say it is carefully set up in such a way that neither of these educational bugbears could result.

Commissioner Howe says in its support, "We are flying blind right now. We have no real idea of what the changes in education recently might mean in terms of what people have learned."

The assessment will measure knowledge in nine fields. The names of those tested and the names of their school systems will not be identified. The results will be broken down only by regions, size of the school system and age groups. No individual school system, or individual child, will be compared with another.

The aim of the assessment simply is to learn where the holes are in the nation's general knowledge so that federal, state and local school authorities can develop programs to fill them.

Traffic, People Are Choking Ancient Cairo

CAIRO (UPI)—City fathers of this 1,000-year-old metropolis on the Nile have launched a new year's attack on its twin 20th Century problems—too many people and too much traffic.

With more than 4.9 million people jamming its 87-square miles, Cairo carries the proud title of Africa's biggest city. But along with the problems of a community bursting at the seams, it also has one of the continent's worst traffic snarls.

Narrow streets choked with peddlers, taxis, buses, trolley-cars, bicycles, donkeycars and bazaars are a tourists delight—if they're not in a hurry. But officials consider it one half of their twin headache.

Like the population rise, an average of 2.3 per cent a year, traffic volume is growing 6 per cent a year, officials report. Urgent action has been started to curb both.

Soviet and Egyptian experts are currently surveying the city seeking routes for what will be Africa's first subway transportation system. Running from north to south parallel to the Nile on the east bank, the subway will link the teeming Shubra residential district with the modern business center and the narrow streets of old Cairo to the south.

A second line running east-west under the Nile is planned for later.

The urgency of the sitatution was pointed up in a 1966 report by Japanese traffic experts. They called the city's traffic congestion "horrible" and advised monorails arching out across the desert, waterbuses on the Nile and the subway.

MODERN MESS—Ancient Cairo is suffering the Siamese-twin problems of too many people and too much traffic. The cars, buses, animals and bicycles can barely be kept moving even though policemen signal frantically from high towers overlooking intersections. (UPI Telephoto)

Campus Plans For 25,000 Population

A far-reaching academic plan for the University of California at Santa Barbara, providing for 25,000 students and several new academic units, has been approved by the Regents.

Santa Barbara Chancellor Vernon I. Cheadle presented the plan, which includes six additional schools and colleges, and two specialized research centers.

The study charts broadly UCSB growth until the year 2000 and is more precise in its specifications for the next decade.

Estimated enrollment figures indicate that the campus would reach its maximum of 25,000 students in the 1986-87 academic year. The summer quarter, scheduled to begin in 1969, would accommodate 25 per cent of the fall enrollment in the first year, expanding its program ultimately to offer instruction to 40 per cent of the fall enrollment.

Schools and colleges envisioned for the future are a School of Library and Information Sciences to admit students in 1967; a Graduate School of Administration in 1969; a School of Law and a College of Architecture and City and Regional Planning in 1970; a School of Pre-clinical Medicine in 1972; and a new undergraduate residential College of Liberal Arts, is now under study by the Academic Senate. The liberal arts college, with the recently approved College of Creative Studies, would "reinvigorate the campus' commitment to undergraduate teaching and demonstrate the practicability of small colleges on a large general campus, upon whose diverse resources they can draw while preserving their unique identities," the plan states.

Expansion of Education Abroad Centers administered by the Santa Barbara campus suggests that as many as 20 new study centers throughout the world will be started during the next nine years. These would include graduate study overseas and preparation of teachers of modern languages in elementary and secondary schools.

CONVICT FOOLS JUDGE

Stage Sound Solution May Come Soon

LOS ANGELES—The sound of music is being refined in a model worshop on the bottom floor of the UCLA physics building.

The room is the laboratory of two acoustical physicists, Drs. Vern O. Knudsen and Leo P. Delsasso, and it is filled with experimental stages and concert shells, imitation orchestras, and wiggly charts of sound waves.

The scientists are developing a technique for theaters-in-the round to meet a common acoustical failing: As the actor moves about the circular stage, the audience behind the actor's back has trouble catching his words and notes.

The solution, worked out on a scale model, is to design the architecture and loudspeaker to get the following effect:

Sound waves emitted from the stage first hit the audience in front. Then they bounce back from the overhead curved and sloping surfaces and ceiling, traveling over the actor's head to envelop the audience behind him.

Obedient Scouts Take Chief's Words

READING, England (UPI) — A scout obeys, as any good scout or scoutmaster knows. But scoutmaster Anthony Moss, 25, didn't really expect obedience when he told his troop he would give a reward to anyone who'd burn down their old scout headquarters.

Two of the boyes tried to and caused nearly $400 damage. In court, Moss pleaded guilty to a charge of counseling and commanding'' arson, and was fined $280.
